KING'S POLICE MEDAL.

NOTIFICATION.

(POLICE.)

Delhi, the 2nd January 1922.

No. F.-45.—His Majesty the KING, EMPEROR OF INDIA, has been pleased to confer the King's Police Medal, and in two cases a bar to the medal previously awarded, on the following officers and men of the Indian Police establishments :—

* * * * *

BENGAL.

Name of officer and rank.	Statement of services for which in particular the decoration has been conferred.
20. John Alphonse Marie Joachim Goldie, Deputy Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, and officiating Deputy Inspector-General of Police, Intelligence Branch, Criminal Investigation Department, Bengal.	This officer joined the Indian Police in 1908, and was employed on district work until September 1916, when he was specially selected to hold charge of the Special Branch of the Calcutta Police, an appointment involving heavy and dangerous duties. This Department, while under Mr. Goldie's control, was responsible for the cessation of political crimes not only in Calcutta but, in co-operation with the Intelligence Branch, throughout Bengal. Throughout his service in this department, Mr. Goldie has shown great devotion to duty and has performed valuable political and secret work, often at considerable personal risk. On one occasion he succeeded after a struggle in capturing an absconder armed with a loaded revolver.
21. Jagadish Dube, Constable, Hooghly district. 22. Baliram Singh, Constable, Hooghly district.	These constables, in February 1921, displayed conspicuous gallantry in the arrest of the leader of a gang of burglars whom they had surprised after midnight in a shop at Bansberia. The gang, numbering about ten in all, turned on the constables, wounding Jagadish Dube with a knife. The latter, with the aid of his fellow-constable Baliram Singh, clung tenaciously to one prisioner, whose arrest was effected, and who proved to be a notorious Punjabi offender with six previous convictions.
23. Babu Umesh Chandra Chanda, officiating Deputy Superintendent of Police, Dacca.	This officer joined the Bengal Police as a Sub-Inspector in the year 1894. His work has always been of an exceptionally high standard. In several enquiries of a secret nature he has displayed both tact and courage and has throughout his service proved himself a most trustworthy and zealous officer.
24. Francis John Lowman, Superintendent of Police.	This officer joined the Indian Police in 1903, and was posted to the Bombay Presidency. In 1908, his services were transferred to Eastern Bengal and Assam, where, under circumstances calling for the exercise of the highest qualities, he proved himself a most efficient officer. From April 1912, he held charge of the Special Branch of the Calcutta Police, where for four years he showed a whole-hearted devotion to duty, and exceptional ability. Subsequently, while on district duty, his rare tact and insight elicited special comment. He has performed valuable political and secret services at considerable personal risk.

No. 1276-C.S.R.

Delhi, the 27th December 1921.

RESOLUTION.

His Majesty's Secretary of State for India has been pleased to decide that additional pensions shall be granted to military officers who have held certain high civil posts and have fulfilled the conditions stated in the following paragraphs.

2. The additional pensions will be of two classes; a higher pension of £200 a year and a lower pension of £100 a year. Their grant will be subject to the condition that the total pension of an officer receiving the higher class additional pension shall not exceed £1,000 a year and that of an officer receiving the lower class shall not exceed £900 a year.

3. (a) The pensions will be earned by approved service of the following kinds in a qualifying post :—

(i) Three years' substantive service ; or

(ii) Three years' continuous officiating service ; or

(iii) Three years' continuous officiating and substantive service.

(b) All privilege leave, and all leave which, under the terms of the Resolution of the Government of India in the Finance Department, No. 1260-C.S.R., dated the 21st December 1921, counts as privilege leave, will, if taken during such service, count as service.

4. The posts qualifying for the higher pension will be all civil posts which now carry a pay of not less than Rs. 4,000 a month. The posts qualifying for the lower pension will be all civil posts which now carry a pay of not less than Rs. 3,000 a month.

5. A period of three years, spent partly in a post or posts qualifying for the higher, and partly in a post or posts qualifying for the lower class additional pension, will, however, entitle an officer to a lower class pension.

6. An officer serving in a post on a progressive or time-scale pay rising to a maximum of Rs. 3,000 or of Rs. 4,000 will be entitled to count as qualifying for a lower or higher pension, as the case may be, that portion only of his service during which he has drawn the maximum pay of the post.

7. These rules will apply with effect from the 1st April 1919 to all officers who retired from civil employ after the 4th August 1914. They will apply to an officer who retired from civil employ before that date if he was recalled during the great war for further civil employment in a qualifying post in India and completed in all three years' service in such a post.

RESOLUTION.

IN the year 1908 an International Electro-technical Commission was formed with its headquarters in London for the purpose of carrying out the following resolution of the Chamber of Government Delegates at the International Electrical Congress of St. Louis in September 1904 :—

"That steps should be taken to secure the co-operation of the Technical Societies of the world by the appointment of a representative Commission to consider the question of the standardisation of the Nomenclature and Ratings of Electrical Apparatus and Machinery."

2. Under the Status of the Commission each self-governing country desiring to join the Commission is authorised to form an Electro-technical Committee for its own country. The question of constituting a National Committee for India was considered by the Government of India in 1910. It was, however, decided to postpone its organization as the manufacture of electrical machinery in India was at that time on too small a scale to justify the formation of a Committee. The Government of India have, nevertheless, been represented at the meetings of the Commission and have subscribed regularly to its funds. Although little further progress has yet been made in the actual manufacture of electrical machinery in this country, the Government of India, after consultation with the more important firms interested in electrical matters in India, are of opinion that, in view of the large increase which has taken place in recent years in the sale and use of electrical machinery in this country, the time has now arrived when a local committee should be formed for the purpose of discussing points of interest specially relating to India, of forwarding to the Commission any resolutions which it may frame on the subject and, generally, of performing the functions of a National Committee.

3. According to the Statutes of the International Electro-technical Commission committees should be formed in each country by technical societies which deal with electrical engineering, either exclusively or in conjunction with other technical subjects, provided that such societies have been in existence for at least three years. In the absence of such technical societies a committee may be appointed by the Government. The Government of India are of opinion that the appointment of a National Committee may in the future most suitable be entrusted to the recently constituted Institution of Engineers (India), but as it was constituted as recently as the 13th September 1920 it will not possess the necessary authority until the 13th September 1923. For the intervening period the Government of India have therefore decided to constitute a National Electro-technical Committee for India under paragraph 3 of the Statutes of the Commission. The following gentlemen will form the first committee :—

(1) A. C. Coubrough, Esq., C.B.E. (of Messrs Mather and Platt, Limited, Calcutta).

(2) A. Cochran, Esq., C.B.E., M.L.C., M.I.N.A., M.I.E. (India), A.M.I.E.S., (of Messrs, Burn and Company, Calcutta).

(3) C. D. M. Hindley, Esq., M.A. (Cantab.), Chairman, Port Trust Calcutta.

4. The Committee will choose its own President and appoint a Secretary and proceed with its work in accordance with the Statutes of the International Electro-technical Commission. The subscription hitherto paid by the Government of India as a subvention to the Commission and towards the cost of its publication will in future be paid by the Committee to which the Government of India will, until further orders, make an annual grant of £130.

Ordered that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to all Local Governments and Administrations; to all departments of the Government of India; and to the members of the Committee; and that the resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

(2) They shall come into force on the 1st August 1922.

"Number of hours occupied in a voyage from port to port" means the normal number of hours occupied in a voyage between one port of call and the next. In the case of river ports the duration of the voyage shall count from pilot ground to pilot ground.

"The Act" means the Indian Wireless Telegraphy (Shipping) Act, 1920. XLI of 1920.

Leave Procedure Rules made under Fundamental Rule 74 (b).

REPORT OF ARRIVAL IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

1. A Government servant taking leave in the United Kingdom must report his arrival in that country to the High Commissioner for India.

PAYMENT OF LEAVE SALARY.

Payment at the Home Treasury.

2. No Government servant can begin to draw leave salary from the Home Treasury until he has presented to the High Commissioner a leave-salary certificate in such form as the Auditor-General may prescribe.

3. Leave-salary is issued from the Home Treasury monthly in arrear on the first day of each calendar month.

4. Payment will be made, at the option of the Government servant drawing leave-salary, by any of the following methods :—

(a) To the Government servant himself on his personal application.

(b) To his banker or other agent, duly authorised under power-of-attorney, on production of a life certificate duly filled up and executed. In cases where the banker has guaranteed the Secretary of State or the High Commissioner against loss consequent upon dispensation with proof of existence, a life certificate is unnecessary.

Note.—A supply of life certificate forms may be obtained from the High Commissioner.

(c) To the presenter of a payment form comprising a receipt and a life certificate, both duly completed by the Government servant.

Note.—If the Government servant intimates to the High Commissioner his election of this method, he will be regularly supplied with the requisite payment form as the due date of issue approaches.

Payment in a Colony.

5. No Government servant can begin to draw leave-salary from a Colonial treasury until a warrant in form I has been issued in his favour. Such warrants will be issued in triplicate. The original, bearing the Government servant's signature, will be forwarded by the issuing authority to the Colonial authority concerned; the duplicate to the High Commissioner; and the triplicate will be retained by the Government servant. Payment of leave-salary will not be made unless the Colonial authority is in possession of the original and the Government servant of the triplicate of the warrant.

6. Each payment of leave-salary must be endorsed upon the back of both the original warrant and the triplicate, and an acknowledgment of receipt must be endorsed by the Government servant upon the back of both copies.

7. When no space for the entry of endorsements of payment remains upon the back of a warrant, or when a warrant is lost or destroyed, a fresh warrant will be issued by the original issuing authority on the application of the Government servant submitted through the Colonial disbursing officer.

8. If the transfer from one Colony to another of payment of the leave-salary of a Government servant is sanctioned by the Colonial authorities, such transfer must be reported by the Government servant to the Governor-General in Council and to the High Commissioner.

Transfer of payment from the Home Treasury to a Colony and vice versa.

9. (a) If a Government servant who is drawing his leave-salary in a Colony desires to transfer payment to the Home Treasury, he can do so on production of his warrant to the High Commissioner.

(b) If a Government servant who is drawing his leave-salary from the Home Treasury desires to transfer payment to a Colony, he must obtain a warrant in Form I from the High Commissioner, who will forward the original of the warrant to the Colonial authority concerned.

(c) A transfer sanctioned under clause (a) or (b) of this rule must be reported by the Government servant to the Governor-General in Council.

EXTENSION OF LEAVE.

General rule.

10. A Government servant absent from India on leave who desires an extension of his leave must make application for such extension not less than three months before the expiry of his leave. An application made within three months from such expiry will not be considered unless special reasons for consideration exist.

Applications by Government servants on leave in Europe, North Africa, America or the West Indies.

11. An application for extension of leave by a Government servant on leave in Europe, North Africa, America or the West Indies must be made to the High Commissioner. Unless the extension is desired on medical grounds or is for a period of not more than fourteen days, the application must be accompanied by evidence that the Government on whose cadre the Government servant is borne has been consulted and has no objection to the extension. It is in exceptional cases only that the High Commissioner will grant an extension without the production of such evidence, and then for such period only as may be necessary to obtain the orders of the Government concerned, which will be sought by telegraph at the applicant's expense.

12. If a Government servant on leave in any of the localities named in rule 11 desires, on medical grounds, an extension for a longer period than fourteen days, he must satisfy the Medical Board at the India Office of the necessity for the extension. In order to do so, he must, as a general rule, appear at the India Office for examination by the Board; but in special cases, and particularly if he be residing at a distance of more than sixty miles from London, a certificate in a form to be obtained from the High Commissioner may be accepted if signed by two medical practitioners. A certificate obtained outside the United Kingdom and signed by foreigners must be attested by consular or other authority as bearing the signatures of qualified medical practitioners.

13. If a Government servant on leave in any of the localities named in rule 11 desires, on grounds other than medical, an extension of leave granted on medical certificate, he must satisfy the Medical Board at the India Office by the procedure described in rule 12, that he has recovered his health.

Applications by Government servants on leave elsewhere out of India.

14. An application for extension of leave by a Government servant on leave out of India elsewhere than in the localities named in rule 11 must be made to the authority which granted the leave.

15. If an application made under rule 14 is for an extension of leave on medical certificate, it must be accompanied by a certificate from two medical practitioners in the following form:—

"We hereby certify that we have carefully examined C. D. of the ______ who is suffering from ______ and we declare upon our honour that, according to the best of our judgment and belief, he is at present unfit for duty in India, and that it is absolutely necessary for the recovery of his health that his present leave, which will expire in India on ______, shall be extended by ______ months/weeks."

Date ______

Place.

The certificate must describe in full detail the nature of the disease and the present condition of the Government servant. If it be signed by foreigners, it must be attested by consular or other authority as bearing the signatures of qualified medical practitioners.

Certificate of leave necessary before extension can be granted to a Government servant who is not in possession of a leave-salary certificate.

16. An extension of leave will not be granted by the High Commissioner to a Government servant to whom no leave-salary certificate has been issued, or who has exchanged his leave-salary certificate for a warrant before leaving India, unless he produces a certificate of leave in form II.

RETURN FROM LEAVE.

Permission to return.

17. A Government servant who is required, by or under fundamental rule 71, to produce a medical certificate of fitness before returning to duty, must obtain permission to return to duty before so returning.

18. If the Government servant desiring to return is on leave in any of the localities named in rule 11, his application must be made to the High Commissioner and he must satisfy the Medical Board at the India Office of his fitness to return at least two months before the expiry of his leave. In order to do so, he must follow the procedure prescribed in rule 12. When the Medical Board has been satisfied, the High Commissioner will grant permission to return.

19. If the Government servant desiring to return is on leave out of India elsewhere than in the localities named in rule 11, his application must be made to the authority which granted his leave and must be accompanied by a certificate of fitness in the prescribed form.

20. Permission to return cannot be granted to a Government servant to whom no leave-salary certificate has been issued, or who has exchanged his leave-salary certificate for a warrant before leaving India, until he produces a certificate of leave in form II.

Last-pay certificate.

21. Before returning to duty, a Government servant on leave in Europe must obtain a last-pay certificate from the High Commissioner. A last-pay certificate cannot be granted to a Government servant to whom no leave-salary certificate has been issued unless he produces a certificate of leave in form II. A Government servant who has drawn his leave-salary on a warrant must, on return to India, deliver to the audit officer his copy of the warrant, which will serve as a last-pay certificate.

NOTE 1.—No leave-salary is payable on this certificate.

NOTE 2.—This certificate must be produced before the High Commissioner with any application for an extension of leave or permission to return to duty or the grant of a last-pay certificate.

Memorandum explanatory of each rule in the rules of leave procedure made under fundamental rule 74 (b).

Rule 1—is taken from article 222, Civil Service Regulations, with the substitution of the High Commissioner for the Secretary of State.

Rule 2.—This is taken from articles 867 and 874, Civil Service Regulations, and covers the first part of article 886 also. The High Commissioner has been substituted for the Secretary of State, as he will in future pay leave-salary on behalf of the Government of India.

Rule 3—replaces the first part of article 869 of the Civil Service Regulations. The old arrangements of quarterly calculations and rounded instalments will not be maintained in future.

Rule 4—replaces the second part of article 869, Civil Service Regulations. At the suggestion of the High Commissioner, the procedure has been modified in some respects.

Rule 5—contains the substance of the first part of article 889, Civil Service Regulations.

Rule 6—is the second part of article 889, Civil Service Regulations, amplified in accordance with existing practice.

Rule 7—contains the substance of the last part of article 889, Civil Service Regulations.

Rule 8—contains the relevant part of article 891, Civil Service Regulations, with the High Commissioner substituted for the Under-Secretary of State.

Rule 9—provides for certain cases for which the old rules make no specific provision. It is considered unnecessary in this connection to provide for article 871 (b), Civil Service Regulations, as the procedure thereby prescribed follows necessarily from rules 2 and 5.

Rule 10—contains a regulation previously embodied in articles 299 (a) and 300, Civil Service Regulations.

Rule 11—contains the substance of the first paragraph of article 299 (a), Civil Service Regulations, and of article 299 (b), with the substitution of the High Commissioner for the Secretary of State. The rule makes no mention of commutation of leave, which ceased to exist, under that name, when the fundamental rules came into force. It is considered unnecessary to repeat in these rules the provision that the Government servant on leave must pay the cost of telegrams. The High Commissioner will see to this, and the fact will be mentioned in the memorandum of instructions to officers proceeding on leave. The note under article 299 (b) has been omitted for similar reasons.

Rule 12—contains the substance of the second paragraph of article 299 (a), Civil Service Regulations, read with article 838 (a).

Rule 13—contains the substance of the 1st part of the third paragraph of article 299 (a), Civil Service Regulations. The second part of that paragraph is omitted, as it is considered to be unsuitable under the new leave rules.

Rule 14—is taken from the first part of article 300, Civil Service Regulations.

Rule 15—is article 838 (b), Civil Service Regulations, re-worded in places.

Rule 16—is taken from articles 872 and 873, Civil Service Regulations.

Rule 17.—The fact stated in this rule is nowhere in the Civil Service Regulations laid down as a general rule, but it follows as a matter of course from the provision in fundamental rule 71 for the production of a medical certificate.

Rule 18—contains the substance of the relevant portion of article 224, Civil Service Regulations, with the substitution of the High Commissioner for the India Office.

Rule 19—also follows as a matter of course from fundamental rule 71. The Government of India propose to delegate the power of extending leave to the authority which granted it.

Rule 20—is taken from articles 872 and 873, Civil Service Regulations.

Rule 21.—"Leave-salary Certificate" is the new title adopted by the Auditor General in his leave procedure rules. The requirement of such a certificate is taken from article 886, Civil Service Regulations; that of a certificate of leave is obviously necessary before a last-pay certificate can be granted; and the delivery of a warrant is taken from article 890, Civil Service Regulations.

Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

NOTIFICATIONS.

JUDICIAL.

Delhi, the 3rd February 1922.

No. F.-228.—In pursuance of sub-section 2 (i) of section 101 of the Government of India Act, the Governor General in Council is pleased to appoint Mr. E. B. H. Panton, I.C.S., to act as an Additional Judge of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, with effect from the date of his assumption of the duties of his office up to the 31st March 1922, both days inclusive, or until further orders.

POLITICAL.

Delhi, the 10th February 1922.

No. 340.—The following Communiqué, dated the 6th February 1922, is published for general information.

The manifesto issued by Mr. Gandhi on the 4th February justifying his determination to resort to mass civil disobedience contains a series of misstatements. Some of these are so important that the Government of India cannot allow them to pass unchallenged. In the first place they emphatically repudiate the statement that they have embarked on a policy of lawless repression and also the suggestion that the present campaign of civil disobedience has been forced on the non-co-operation party in order to secure the elementary rights of free association, free speech and of free press. In limine the Government of India desire to draw attention to the fact that the decision to adopt a programme of civil disobedience was finally accepted on the 4th November before the recent notifications relating either to the Seditious Meetings Act or the Criminal Law Amendment Act, to which Mr. Gandhi unmistakeably refers, were issued. It was in consequence of serious acts of lawlessness committed by persons who professed to be followers of Mr. Gandhi and the non-co-operation movement that the Government were forced to take measures* which are in strict accordance with the law for the protection of peaceful citizens in the pursuit of their lawful avocations.'

2. Since the inauguration of the non-co-operation movement, the Government of India actuated by a desire to avoid anything in the nature of the repressions of political activity, even though it was of an extreme character, have restricted their action in relation thereto to such measures as were necessary for the maintenance of law and order and the preservation of public tranquillity. Up to November no steps save in Delhi last year were taken against volunteer associations. In November however the Government were confronted with a new and dangerous situation. In the course of the past year, there had been systematic attempts to tamper with the loyalty of the soldiers and the police and there had occurred numerous outbreaks of serious disorder directly attributable to the propaganda of the non-co-operation party amongst the ignorant and exciteable masses. These outbreaks had resulted in grave loss of life; the growth of a dangerous spirit of lawlessness; and an increasing disregard for lawful authority. In November they culminated in the grave riots in Bombay, in which 53 persons lost their lives and approximately 400 were wounded. On the same date dangerous manifestations of lawlessness occurred in many other places and at this period it became clear that many of the volunteer associations had embarked on a systematic campaign of violence, intimidation and obstruction, to combat which proceedings under the Penal Code and the Code of Criminal Procedure had proved ineffective. In these circumstances the Government were compelled to resort to measures of a more comprehensive and drastic character. Nevertheless the operation of the Seditious Meetings Act was strictly limited to a few districts in which the risk of grave disturbances of the peace was specially great and the application of the Criminal Law Amendment Act of 1908 was confined to associations the majority of the members of which had habitually indulged in violence and intimidation. It is impossible here to set out in detail the evidence which justified the adoption of these measures in the different provinces. Abundant proof is however to be found in the published proceedings of the various legislative bodies, in the communiqués of different local Governments, and in the pronouncements of heads of provinces. While resolute in their determination to enforce respect for law and order and to protect loyal and peaceful subjects of the Crown, the Government have at the same time taken every precaution possible to mitigate, where desirable, the conditions of imprisonment and to avoid any action which might have the appearance of vindictive severity. Ample proof of this will be found in the orders issued by local Governments. Numerous offenders have been released; sentences have been reduced and special consideration has been shown in the case of persons convicted of offences under the Seditious Meetings Act or the Criminal Law Amendment Act. There is thus no shadow of justification for the charge that their policy has been one of indiscriminate and lawless repression.

3. A further charge which has been brought by Mr. Gandhi is that the recent measures of Government have involved a departure from "the civilised policy laid down by His Excellency at the the time of the apology of the Ali brothers, namely, that the Government of India should not interfere with the activities of non-co-operators so long as they remained non-violent in word and deed." The following citation from the communiqué of the Government of India issued on the 30th May conclusively disproves this statement. After explaining that in view of the solemn undertaking contained in the statement over their signature, it had been decided to refrain from instituting criminal proceedings against Messrs. Muhammad Ali and Shaukat Ali, the Government of India observed:

> "It must not be inferred from the original determination of the Government to prosecute for speeches inciting to violence. that promoting disaffection of a less violent character is not an offence against the law. The Government of India desire to make it plain that they will enforce the law relating to the offence against the State as and when they may think fit against any persons who have committed breaches of it."

4. It remains for the Government of India to deal with the allegation that His Excellency summarily rejected the proposal for a conference although the terms put forward by the Conference at Bombay and accepted by the Working Committee of the Congress were "quite in keeping with His Excellency's own requirements as indicated in his speech at Calcutta." How far this is from being the case will be manifest from a comparison of His Excellency's speech with the terms proposed by the Conference. His Excellency in that speech insisted on the imperative necessity as a fundamental condition precedent to the discussion of any question of a conference, or the discontinuance of the unlawful activities of the non-co-operation party. No assurance on this point was, however, contained in the proposals advanced by the Conference. On the contrary whilst the Government were asked to make concessions which not only included the withdrawal of the notifications under the Criminal Law Amendment and Seditious Meetings Acts and the release of persons convicted thereunder, but also the release of persons convicted of offences designed to affect the loyalty of the army, and the submission to an arbitration committee of the cases of other persons convicted under the ordinary law of the land—there was no suggestion that any of the illegal activities of the non-co-operators other than hartals, picquetting and civil disobedience should cease. Moreover it was evident from the statements made by Mr. Gandhi at the Conference that he intended to continue the enrolment of volunteers in prohibited associations and preparations for civil disobedience. Further Mr. Gandhi also made it apparent that the proposed Round Table Conference would be called merely to register his decrees. It is idle to suggest that terms of this character fulfilled in any way the essentials laid down by His Excellency or can reasonably be described as having been made in response to the sentiments expressed by him. Finally the Government of India desire to draw attention to the demands put forward in the concluding paragraph of Mr. Gandhi's present manifesto which exceed even the demands made by the Working Committee of the congress. Mr. Gandhi's demands now include—

(1) the release of all prisoners "convicted or under-trial for non-violent activities;"

(2) a guarantee that Government will refrain absolutely from interference with all non-violent activities of the non-co-operation party even though they fall within the purview of the Indian Penal Code; or in other words an undertaking that Government will indefinitely hold in abeyance in regard to the non-co-operators the ordinary and long-established law of the land.

In return for these concessions he indicates that he intends to 'continue the illegal and seditious propaganda and operations of the non-co-operation party, and merely offers to postpone civil disobedience of an aggessive character until the offenders now in jail have had an opportunity of reviewing the whole situation. In the same paragraph he re-affirms the unalterable character of the demands of his party.

The Government of India are confident that all right thinking citizens will recognise that this manifesto constitutes no response whatever to the speech of His Excellency at Calcutta and that the demands made are such as no Government could discuss, much less accept.

5. The alternatives that now confront the people of India are such as sophistry can no longer obscure or disguise. The issue is no longer between this or that programme of political advance, but between lawlessness with all its dangerous consequences on the one hand and on the other the maintenance of those principles which lie at the root of all civilised Government.

Mass civil disobedience is fraught with such danger to the State that is must be met with sternness and severity. The Government entertain no doubt that in any measures which they may have to take for its suppression they can count on the support and assistance of all law abiding and loyal citizens of His Majesty.

Delhi, the 2nd March 1922.

RESOLUTION.

On the 26th September 1921, the Legislative Assembly adopted the following resolution :—

"This Assembly recommends to the Governor General in Council that the draft Convention for establishing facilities for finding employmen for seamen adopted by the General Conference of the International Labour Organisation of the League of Nations convened at Genoa on the 15th day of June 1920, should not be ratified, but that an examination should be undertaken, without delay, of the methods of recruitment of seamen at the different ports in India in order that it may be definitely ascertained whether abuses exist and whether those abuses are susceptible of remedy."

A similar resolution was adopted by the Council of State on the 27th September 1921.

2. In consequence of these resolutions, the Government of India made arrangements for a preliminary inquiry into the conditions under which seamen are recruited at Bombay and Calcutta, the only ports in India where seamen are engaged in large numbers. This inquiry which, under the orders of Government, was intended especially to verify the existence and extent of corrupt practices, was conducted by Mr. A. G. Clow, I.C.S., Controller of the Labour Bureau in the Government of India, accompanied by representatives of the shipowners and seamen selected by the Governments of Bombay and Bengal. For the enquiries in Bombay, the Government of Bombay nominated Mr. F. L. Barnett, Marine Superintendent, of Messrs. Turner, Morrison and Company, and Mr. Mohamad Ibrahim; for the enquiries in Calcutta, the Government of Bengal nominated Mr. C. S. Penny, Marine Superintendent, B. I. S. N. Company, and Mr. M. Daud, M.A., B.L., General Secretary of the Indian Seamen's Union. A large number of witnesses were examined in each place, and investigations were made in the Shipping Offices, on the ships, and in the seamen's boarding houses.

3. The Government of India have now decided to appoint a Committee which will include two members of the Legislature in addition to the five gentlemen who have taken part in the preliminary enquiry. The Committee will sit at Delhi to examine the evidence already collected and to report what reforms are possibe in existing methods of recruitment. The Committee will be constituted as follows :—

A separate declaration on Form A, C, C-5 or D should be made in respect of coupons, etc., payable by each London Paying Agent, and each declaration on Form A on Form D must be accompanied by a covering declaration on Form B, made by the London Agent who presents the coupons for payment.

It is necessary for a fresh declaration to be made each time coupons are presented for payment.

PUBLIC.

Delhi, the 30th March 1922.

No. 592.—The following report is published for general information :—

Report of the Committee on Public Petitions.

In pursuance of the terms of the Home Department Resolution No. F-209-Public, dated the 4th February 1922, we met on the 18th and 21st February 1922 in the Committee Room at Metcalfe House. The Hon'ble Sir B. C. Mitter, the Hon'ble Sir Alexander Murray and Sir Sivaswamy Aiyer were unfortunately unable to attend.

2. The terms of reference to us were "to examine the question whether the two Chambers of the Indian Legislature should exercise any powers with reference to petitions, and, if so, what those powers should be and further in that case whether standing committees of the two Chambers should be constituted and, if so, what should be the procedure and what limitations should be imposed on the powers of the committees." Before we set forth our recommendations to Government on the points referred to us we consider it desirable to sketch, very briefly, the history of the right of petitioning Parliament, as that has largely influenced our conclusions.

3. When the practice of petitioning Parliament first arose the functions of the Courts, the Chancery and Parliament had not yet become definite. Consequently, petitions were then presented to Parliament regarding matters in respect of which the petitioners in modern times would have recourse to the ordinary judicial tribunals.

4. By the end of the 14th century the jurisdiction of the Chancery and the King's Council had been built up and Parliament was no longer the resort of suitors seeking a remedy for individual grievances. At this time, petitions were received from persons who desired to use the legislative powers of Parliament to obtain a privilegium, that is, a change of the law for their benefit or an exemption from its provisions. This procedure has in course of time developed into the modern private bill legislation.

5. It was not until the 17th century that public petitions—i.e., petitions complaining of public grievances—became at all common, but at that period the right to make and present petitions to Parliament and the right of Parliament to receive and consider petitions were clearly affirmed, notably by a resolution of the House of Commons passed in 1669. It was found, however, that the presentation, the reading and often the discussion of petitions made serious inroads on the time of the House and as petitions steadily increased it became necessary to impose limitations on the right of petitioning.

6. As the rules framed for this purpose regulate the procedure now in force it is desirable to explain them in some detail. In pursuance of a resolution of the 20th February 1833, a select committee is appointed to which all petitions are referred except such as relate to private bills. The duty of this committee is to classify, to abstract and to report. Its reports are issued twice every week during session and the committee has power, when necessary, to direct the printing of a petition in extenso. Further, by standing orders of 1842 and 1853 the House has limited the dealings with a petition on its presentation by a member to a statement of the parties from which it comes, the number of signatures, the material allegations and the prayer with which it concludes. No debate is allowed, but the petition, if required to be read, may be read by the Clerk of the House. The rule as to debate may be set aside and the petition discussed if it should disclose a case of urgency for which an immediate remedy is required.

7. The main points which emerge from this examination of the history of the right of petitioning Parliament are that it came into existence at a time when the line between the judicial functions of Parliament and its legislative functions was indefinite; and that although petitions are still presented the exercise of the right is in modern times unimportant from the constitutional point of view, as other methods have grown up by which grievances can be dealt with in a more suitable way.

8. We turn now to the questions which have been referred to us, and we may state at the outset that our view is that if a provision enabling the Indian Legislature to receive public petitions is to be introduced, the exercise of it should be regulated with reference to present-day practice in the House of Commons and not with reference to the practice in force at any earlier stage in the development of Parliament.

9. We first considered the proposal contained in the resolution moved by the Hon'ble Sir M. B. Dadabhoy in the Council of State, which led to the appointment of this committee by the Government of India. That resolution ran as follows: "this Council recommends to the Governor General in Council that this Council be authorized, if necessary by statute, to receive from the public petitions on all matters relating to public wrong, grievance or disability, or to any act or acts of public servants, or to public policy; to investigate the complaint and to make a report to this Council; and that a committee be constituted on public petitions with powers to examine witnesses and record evidence." The proposal contained in this resolution goes far beyond the present practice in Parliament and we can see no justification for giving to either Chamber of the Indian Legislature the very wide powers proposed in the resolution. It seems to us clear that if such powers were granted legislation would be required and the danger of conflict with the courts would be considerable.

10. On the other hand, petitions are as a matter of fact received from time to time from the public relating to Bills pending in the Legislature and we consider it desirable that there should be a regular procedure for receiving and dealing with such documents. We recommend, therefore, that the right of public to petition the Indian Legislature and the right of the Indian Legislature to receive petitions from the public should be formally recognized to the extent which we shall now proceed to indicate.

11. We are of opinion that the right of petitioning should be limited to public business, and after careful consideration we have come to the conclusion that it should be further limited to legislation which is actually pending before the Legislature. We are also agreed that the presentation of a petition should not be made an occasion for raising a debate. This is in accordance with the present practice of the House of Commons, and we would observe that the Indian Legislature enjoys greater opportunity than does Parliament of raising debate on matters of public interest, by resolution or otherwise. We accordingly recommend that there should be a procedure for receving in either Chamber of the Legislature petitions relating to bills pending in that Chamber, that no debate should be allowed on the presentation of a petition and that for each Chamber a Standing Committee on Public Petitions should be constituted, the chairman and members of which should be nominated by the President of the Chamber at the commencement of each session.

12. As regards the functions of these committees we consider that the present practice of the House of Commons should be followed as closely as possible. Every petition presented to a Chamber of the Legislature should be referred to the Standing Committee of that Chamber. The duties of the Standing Committee should be to examine every petition referred to it and to submit a report to the Chamber stating :—

(1) the subject matter of the petition ;
(2) the number of the signatories ; and
(3) whether the petition is in order or not.

The Standing Committee should also be authorised, if it found that the petition was in order, to direct that the petition in extenso, or a summary thereof, should be circulated as a paper to the Bill to which it relates. The committee should in its report state whether circulation has or has not been directed.

13. We also desire to express the opinion that the procedure to be followed in dealing with petitions in each Chamber should be laid down in a Standing Order of that Chamber. We recognize that it is not our function to draft Standing Orders for the Chambers, but we think that our recommendations can most clearly be expressed in detail in that form. We have, therefore, put our proposals in the form of the draft Standing Order appended to this report. That draft also includes our recommendations regarding certain points of procedure which we do not consider to be of sufficient importance to require explanation in the body of this report.

ESTABLISHMENTS.

Delhi, the 30th March 1922.

RESOLUTION.

Revised rules governing the appoiniment of persons possessing the qualifications in section 99, sub-section (1) of the Government of India Act to offices ordinarily filled from amongst the members of the Indian Civil Service, have been published with the Notification of the Government of India in this Department No. F.-438, dated the 30th March 1922, and the Government of India are now pleased to make the following observations for general information and for the guidance of all local Governments:

2. The main purpose of the Government of India in revising the rules was to enable local Governments to give a fair trial to the experiment, recommended by the Public Services Commission and accepted by the Secretary of State in Council, of filling certain District and Sessions Judgeships direct from the Bar. Under the old rules the appointments which were declared as open to persons who satisfied the requirements of sub-section (1) of section 99 of the Government of India Act, were chiefly intended to be filled by members of the Provincial Civil Services, and the appointments of persons other than members of the Provincial Civil Service were restricted to one-fourth of the total number of appointments so declared. Local Governments were advised in paragraph 11 of the Home Department Resolution No. 2559, dated the 1st December 1920, to utilise this power to fill up certain District and Sessions Judgeships from the Bar, but the proportion of one-fourth seriously restricts the powers of local Governments to pursue the scheme as an experimental measure, and the Government of India have accordingly, with the sanction of the Secretary of State in Council, revised the rules so as to permit judicial appoinments to be filled from the legal profession on equal terms with members of the Provincial Services. At the same time and in view of the extension of the power to make appointments from the Bar under the new rule 2, the percentage of persons who may be appointed to listed posts, whether judicial or executive, who do not belong either to the provincial services or the Bar, has been reduced from 25 to 15.

It must, however, be clearly understood that this decision is not intended to override the announcement made in paragraphs 9 and 11 of the abovementioned Resolution of the 1st December 1920 to the effect that there would be no reduction in the number of posts open to men promoted from the provincial civil service and that the rights of existing members of the civil services would be duly safeguarded. Local Governments will accordingly fill judicial listed posts from the provincial services as far as possible to the same extent as in the past.

3. Rules 4 and 5 are an extension of the previous arrangement and are intended to give local Governments practically full powers as regards the listing of inferior posts. In view of the exclusion of most inferior posts from the third schedule to the Government of India Act, it will practically be confined to Additional Sessions Judgeships which are included in the schedule and are occasionally, in some provinces, treated as inferior appointments.

4. Rule 1 has been revised to give effect to the new arrangement that in lieu of listing particular appointments, the total number of superior executive and judicial posts which are listed shall be notified. This will make officers promoted to posts in the Indian Civil Service cadres eligible, with members of the Indian Civil Service, on their merits for all posts in the Civil Service cadres.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated to local Governments, and that it be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

The following is published for general information.

H. E. SPRY,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal (offg.).

No. 116A., dated Delhi, the 9th February 1922.

Order—By the Government of India, Finance Department.

With the previous sanction of the Secretary of State in Council, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to issue the following general orders under rule 16 of the devolution rules:—

SECTION I.—Short title and date of effect

1. These orders may be called the Treasury Orders, and they shall come into force with effect from the 1st March 1922.

SECTION II.—Definitions.

2. In these orders:—

(a) The Bank means the Imperial Bank of India or any branch of the Imperial Bank of India.
(b) Collector means the chief officer in charge of the revenue administration of a district.
(c) Principal Auditor is used in the sense in which it is defined in the rules made under section 96-D of the Government of India Act.
(d) Treasury includes a sub-treasury.
(e) Treasury Officer means the officer in immediate executive charge of a treasury.

SECTION III.—Location of moneys standing in the public account.

3. Moneys standing in the public account must be either retained in a treasury or deposited in the Bank. The conditions under which they are deposited in the Bank are governed by the terms of the agreement of the Secretary of State in Council with the Bank.

SECTION IV.—General system of treasury control.

4. Unless in any case the Governor in Council, with the concurrence of the Auditor-General, otherwise direct, there shall be in every district a treasury under the charge of a treasury officer. If moneys standing in the public account are, in any district, not deposited in the Bank, the treasury of that district shall be divided into two departments: that of the accounts, under the charge of an accountant, and that of the cash, under the charge of a treasurer.

5. In any treasury in which a Government servant of the Indian Audit Department has not been appointed, as such, to be treasury officer, the following orders will apply:—

(a) The treasury shall be in the general charge of the Collector, who may entrust the immediate executive control to a treasury officer subordinate to him but may not divest himself of administrative control. He shall be responsible for the proper observance of these orders and for the punctual submission of all returns required from the treasury by the Governor-General in Council.

(b) The duty of verifying and certifying the monthly cash balance, if any, in the treasury, and of submitting monthly accounts in such form or forms and after such verification as the Auditor-General may prescribe, shall be undertaken by the Collector or by such other officer as the Governor in Council may specify. It must be performed by the Collector in person at least once in every period of six months.

(c) A change of incumbent of the office of Collector shall at once be reported to the principal auditor concerned by the in-coming Collector, who shall certify to the principal auditor the amount of the cash balance, if any, which he has taken over. The certificate shall be submitted in such form and after such verification as the Auditor-General may prescribe

6. In any treasury in which a Government servant of the Indian Audit Department has been appointed, as such, to be treasury officer, the duties of the Collector in relation to the custody of moneys in the treasury shall be such as the Governor in Council, with the concurrence of the Governor-General in Council, may specify.

Provided that in this case the licensee shall refund the amount of the prescribed fee to the consumer.

CHAPTER V.

PRECAUTIONS FOR THE SAFETY OF THE PUBLIC.

General.

Application of Chapter.

34. The rules in this Chapter shall, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, apply to every licensee and to every owner.

Dealing with electric shock.

35. Instructions, both in English and in the Vernacular of the district, for the restoration of persons suffering from electric shock, shall be affixed in a conspicuous place in every generating station and sub-station and copies shall be obtainable from every Electric Inspector at a price to be fixed by the Local Government.

Precautions to be adopted by licensee.

Protection from lightning.

36. A licensee shall adopt efficient means for protecting any portion of an electric supply-line or any support, guard-wire or bearer-wire of an electric supply-line which is exposed in such a position as to be liable to injury from lightning.

Responsibility of licensee for his works on consumer's premises.

37. A licensee shall be responsible that all electric supply-lines, fittings and apparatus belonging to him, or under his control, which may be on a consumer's premises, are maintained in a safe condition, and shall take all due precautions to avoid risk of causing fire on such premises by reason of his electric supply-lines, fittings or apparatus or any defect therein.

Cut-out on consumer's premises.

38. A licensee shall insert a suitable cut-out in each service-line (other than an earthed neutral conductor or the earthed external conductor of a concentric cable) within a consumer's premises, in an accessible position as close as possible to the point of entry. Such cut-out shall be contained within an adequately enclosed fire-proof receptacle:

Provided that, where more than one consumer is supplied through a common service-line, each individual consumer (if he so requires) shall be given an independent cut-out at the point of junction to the common service.

Service-line on consumer's premises.

39. The following provisions shall apply to service-lines and any apparatus in connection therewith on a consumer's premises, viz. :—

(1) All such lines, being underground lines, and all apparatus in connection therewith placed by a licensee shall be so insulated and protected as to be secure under all ordinary conditions against electrical, mechanical, chemical, or other injury to the insulation, and against access of moisture.

(2) From the point where any service-line enters a building, or becomes accessible without the aid of a ladder or other special appliance, such line and all apparatus in connection therewith, shall be insulated and protected in the manner prescribed by sub-rule (1).

(3) Any metal forming part of the electric circuit of any such line shall not, unless connected with earth, be exposed so that it can be touched.

Precautions to be adopted by owners.

Precautions to be adopted by owners

40. When an owner generates or uses energy—

(1) where bare conductors are used in a building, they shall be inaccessible without the aid of a ladder or other special appliance and shall have switches provided for rendering them dead whenever necessary;

(2) no repair of any part of any electrical apparatus shall be effected, while the part is charged to a pressure exceeding low pressure, except by an authorised person ;

(3) the supply of energy to every vehicle, travelling crane or the like shall be efficiently controlled by a suitable switch, so that by its means all pressure can be cut off from all apparatus concerned and from any device in connection therewith;

(4) trailing cables for portable motors shall be specially flexible, heavily insulated and protected from mechanical injury; where the protection is by means of metallic covering, the covering shall be in metallic connection with the frame of the motor.

Electric supply-lines and apparatus.

Maintenance.

41. Every electric supply-line shall be maintained in a safe condition, as regards both electrical and mechanical conditions, by the person to whom the same belongs.

Accidental charge.

42. All circuits and apparatus shall be so arranged by the person to whom the same belong that there shall be no danger of any part thereof becoming accidentally charged to any pressure beyond the limits of pressure for which it is intended.

Crossing metallic substances.

43. Where an electric supply-line crosses, or is in proximity to, any metallic substance, such precautions as an Electric Inspector may approve shall be taken by the licensee or the owner, as the case may be, against the possibility of the metallic substance becoming charged :

Provided that, where the electric supply-line was laid or erected previous to such metallic substance, the cost incurred in taking such precautions shall be refunded to the licensee or owner, as the case may be, by the person to whom the metallic substance belongs.

Cut-out.

44. Every electric supply-line (other than the earthed neutral conductor of any system or the earthed external conductor of a concentric cable) shall be protected, by the person to whom the same belong, by a suitable cut-out.

45. All metal casings or metallic coverings containing or protecting any electric supply-line or apparatus shall be connected with earth, by the person to whom the same belong, and shall be so joined and connected across all junction-boxes and other openings as to make good mechanical and electrical connection throughout their whole length :

Metal casings.

Provided that this rule shall not apply to isolated wall tubes or to brackets, electroliers, standards, switch or fan regulator covers or other fittings (other than portable hand lamps in factories) where the supply is of low pressure.

46. The frame of every generator, stationary motor, and, so far as is practicable, portable motor, and the metallic parts (not intended as conductors) of all transformers and regulating or controlling apparatus connected with the supply, shall be connected with earth by the two separate and distinct connections with earth.

Connection with earth of frames of generators, etc.

47. The covers or doors of all junction-boxes or pillars in any street shall be so secured that they cannot be opened except by means of a special appliance.

Junction boxes.

48. In every distributing system in which there is a neutral conductor, where the pressure between the neutral conductor and an outer or phase conductor exceeds 125 volts, the neutral conductor shall be connected with earth by two separate and distinct connections with earth from the neutral bus-bar and in accordance with the following provisions, namely :—

Connection with earth of a multi-wire system.

(a) the connection with earth of the neutral conductor, shall be made at one point only on each distinct system, namely, at the generating station or sub-station, or both, as the case may be, and the insulation of the system shall be maintained at all other parts ;

(b) the current from the neutral conductor to earth shall, in the case of a licensee's direct current-distributing system, be continuously recorded, and, if at any time it exceeds one-thousandth part of the maximum supply current, steps shall immediately be taken to improve the insulation of the system ;

(c) the connection with earth referred to in clause (a) of rule 48 shall not be made by the aid of, nor shall it be in contact with any water-main, gas-main or similar main not belonging to the licensee or owner, as the case may be, except with the consent of the owner thereof and of the Electric Inspector; a resistance, not exceeding 20 ohms, may be inserted between the neutral bus-bar and earth, and, if so inserted, it shall be of sufficient cross-sectional area to carry the current which would pass should an outer or phase conductor become accidentally connected with earth ;

(d) the connection with earth shall not be removed except for the purpose of testing, in which case it shall be made good again as soon as such test is finished, and a record of any such disconnection shall be kept by the licensee or owner, as the case may be :

Provided that the earth connection shall not be removed, in a licensee's system except between 1 A.M. and 3 A.M. or, in an owner's system, while the generator is in operation or energy is being used.

49. The neutral point of the star-winding of each distinct polyphase multi-wire system may be either connected with earth or insulated.

(c) every conductor, unless only accessible to an authorised person, shall be as far as is practicable, completely enclosed in a mechanically strong metal-casing or metallic covering, securely fastened throughout or fixed in such other manner as may be approved in writing by an Electric Inspector;

(d) the supply to every apparatus shall be efficiently controlled by suitable linked switches, of requisite capacity to carry and break the current, in each conductor, placed near the apparatus in such a position as to be readily handled by the operator, so that by their means all pressure can be cut off from the apparatus concerned and from any device in connection therewith;

(e) the word "CAUTION," both in English and in the vernacular, shall be affixed in a conspicuous position near every generator (being the property of an owner) and near every motor, and every controlling or regulating apparatus in connection with the same.

Introduction of multi-wire system to buildings.

52 Where the conductors of a multi-wire system between any of which there is medium or high pressure, are brought into a building for utilization at low pressure, the supply shall be delivered to two or more pairs of terminals, and the wiring from those terminals shall be kept separate and distinct. If in any such case, two or more switches, terminals or cutouts between any of which there is a difference of pressure exceeding 250 volts, are fitted within reach of one another, all their live parts shall be accessible only to authorised persons.

Main switchboard.

53. Where the pressure is medium or high, there shall be, in front of every main switchboard a space of not less than 3 feet in width, and, if there are any attachments or bare connections at the back of the switchboard, the space (if any) behind the switchboard shall be either less than 9 inches, or more than 30 inches in width, measured from the furthest outstanding part of any attachment or conductor. If the space behind exceeds 30 inches in width, there shall be a passage way clear to a height of not less than 6 feet, save as regards any horizontal supports of the switchboard, which may be placed at a height of not less than 4 feet 6 inches.

54. In every generating station, sub-station, junction-box or pillar, in which there are any circuits or apparatus, intended for medium as well as high pressure, the respective circuits shall be made readily distinguishable from one another.

High Pressure.

Approval of high pressure supply.

55. (1) A high pressure supply shall not be delivered to any person, other than a distributing licensee, except with the approval in writing of an Electric Inspector, and subject to such conditions (if any) as such Inspector may think reasonable and proper in the circumstances, and the installation shall not be brought into use until it has been inspected by an Electric Inspector or other officer appointed to assist an Electric Inspector.

(2) Where energy is to be used by an owner at high pressure, the installation shall not be brought into use except with the approval in writing of an Electric Inspector and subject to such conditions (if any) as he may think reasonable and proper in the circumstances.

(3) When the position of a high pressure motor or other apparatus is changed, notice shall forthwith be given to the Electric Inspector showing the extent and nature of the change of position.

Testing of insulation of high pressure circuit.

56. (1) A high pressure circuit, other than an aërial line, shall not be brought into use, unless the insulation of every part thereof has withstood the continuous application, during one minute, in the case of every electric supply-line, machine, device or apparatus, of a pressure 100 per cent., greater than the maximum pressure to which it is intended to be subjected in use; and the licensee or owner, as the case may be, shall duly record the results of each test and shall forward the result to an Electric Inspector:

Provided, first, that the testing pressure shall in no case be less than 2,000 volts:

Provided, secondly, that an Electric Inspector may, if he thinks fit, accept the manufacturer's certified tests as complying with this rule:

Provided, thirdly, that, where the normal working pressure exceeds 6,600 volts, the testing pressure need not exceed the working pressure.

(2) A high pressure electric supply-line shall, during its use, continue in the sole charge of an authorised person.

High pressure electric supply-lines and apparatus placed above-ground.

57. All high pressure apparatus, including every portion of any high pressure electric supply-line (other than an aërial line) placed above the surface of the ground, otherwise than in a sub-station, or in a compartment specially arranged for the purpose and accessible only to authorised persons, shall be completely enclosed in, or protected by, a mechanically strong metal-casing or metallic covering securely fastened throughout; and all circuits and apparatus in connection with the same shall be marked at frequent intervals with the word "CAUTION", both in English and in the vernacular.

(iv) for conductors, at least three;

under all conditions, the maximum wind pressure being specified by the Local Government in each case; for cylindrical bodies the effective area shall be taken as two-thirds of the sectional area exposed to wind pressure:

Provided that, in localities where aërial lines are liable to accumulations of ice or snow, the Local Government may, by order in writing, specify such factor of safety as it may think fit and the conditions under which it is to be calculated.

Height from ground and distance from buildings.

62. (1) No conductor of an aërial line (not being a trolley-wire or a traction-feeder on the same support as a trolley-wire) erected in, over, along or across, any street shall be at a less height from the ground than 20 feet;

(2) No such conductor shall be accessible, either from the ground or from any permanent structure, except by the aid of a ladder or other special appliance;

(3) Where permanent or temporary additions or alterations made in or upon any building or structure, subsequent to the erection of the aërial line, cause this rule to be infringed, the licensee or owner (as the case may be) shall so alter the said line as to comply with this rule, and may recover the reasonable cost of the work from the person responsible for making the said addition or alteration.

(4) Where such an aërial line is on a consumer's or an owner's premises, the height from the ground shall be not less than 15 feet.

Safety device.

63. (1) Every aërial line (not being suspended from a dead bearer-wire and not being a trolley-wire) erected in, over, along or across any street or in any factory or mine shall be protected with a device approved by an Electric Inspector for rendering such line electrically harmless in case it breaks.

(2) Every such aërial line on a consumer's or an owner's premises shall, if the pressure exceeds the limits of low pressure, be similarly protected.

(1) Lines crossing or appoaching each other.
(2) Lines crossing trolley wires.
(3) Guard wires.
(4) Earthing devices.

64. (1) (a) Where an aërial line crosses or is in proximity to (i) any telegraph wire, or (ii) an aërial line belonging to some other person, the licensee or owner (as the case may be) shall ensure that his aerial line is so protected as to guard against the possibility of it coming into contact with the telegraph wire or other aërial line.

(b) Within twenty-one days of receiving notice that a new telegraph wire or aerial line is, or is about to be, erected in proximity to his aërial line, the licensee or owner (as the case may be) shall effect the protection referred to in clause (a).

(c) Where the licensee or owner (as the case may be) erects a new aërial line in proximity to any telegraph wire, or to any aërial line not belonging to him, he shall not bring the same into use until he has complied with clause (a).

(d) In all cases referred to in the preceding sub-rules the protection shall be carried out at the expense of the person whose line is last erected and to the satisfaction of the Electric Inspector.

(e) Where lines cross each other, the crossing shall be made in a direction as nearly at right angles as the nature of the case admits.

(f) All guarding arrangements should ordinarily be erected on the posts of the owners or licensees who shall, in that case, be responsible for their efficient maintenance.

(2) In the case of a crossing over a trolley-wire the guarding will be in accordance with the following conditions (vide also attached diagrams*) namely :—

(a) Where there is only one trolley-wire two guard-wires shall be erected as in diagram A.

(b) Where there are two trolley-wires and the distance between them does not exceed 15 inches, two guard-wires shall not be erected as in diagram B.

(c) Where there are two trolley-wires and the distance between them exceeds 15 inches but does not exceed 48 inches, three guard-wires shall be erected as in diagram C.

(d) Where there are two trolley-wires and the distance between them exceeds 48 inches, each trolley-wire shall be separately guarded, as in diagram D.

(e) The rise of the trolley boom shall be so limited that, if the trolley leaves the trolley-wire, it shall not foul the guard-wires.

(f) Where a telegraph-wire is liable to fall or be blown down upon an arm, stay-wire or span-wire, and so slide down upon a trolley-wire, guard hooks shall be provided to prevent such sliding.

* For diagrams please see notification in the Public Works Department, No. 107, dated 23rd December 1910.

(3) Where guard-wires are used, they shall fulfil the following conditions, namely :—

(b) Every guard-wire shall have a breaking-stress of not less than 1,500 lbs., and shall, if made of iron or steel, be galvanized.

(c) Every guard-wire, or cross-connected system of guard-wires, shall have sufficient current-carrying capacity to ensure the rendering dead, till the contact has been removed, of any live wire coming into contact with it, without risk of fusing of the guard-wire or wires.)

(d) Every guard-wire or system of guard-wires and its supports shall have sufficient strength to carry without breaking the extra load which may be put on it by the fall of any or all the wires guarded.

(4) Alternative methods of guarding may be substituted with the approval of the Electric Inspector.

68. Where an aërial line, erected in, over, along or across any street ceases to be used as an electric supply line, it shall be maintained in a safe mechanical condition in accordance with the provisions of rule 61 or, if so required by an Electric Inspector, be removed within a period of fourteen days from the date of such Inspector's requisition for removal.

Additional rules for electric traction.

69. Rules 70 to 83 shall apply in the case of energy used for purposes of traction where the provisions of Part III of the Act apply. In these rules, the conductor used for transmitting energy to a vehicle is referred to as the "line", and the other conductor as the "return".

Pressure of supply to vehicle.

70. Notwithstanding the provisions of rule 55, the pressure of supply on any trolley-wire or other conductor used in direct electrical and mechanical connection with any vehicle shall not be high, except with the written approval of the Local Government and subject to such conditions (if any) as the Local Government may think reasonable and proper in the circumstances.

Earth return current.

74. (1) Where the return is partly or entirely uninsulated, the owner shall, in the construction and maintenance of his system, adopt such means for reducing the difference produced by the current between the potential of the uninsulated return at any one point and the potential of the uninsulated return at any other point as to ensure that the difference of potential between the uninsulated return and any metallic pipe, structure or substance in the vicinity shall not exceed four volts, where the return is relatively positive, or one and one-third volts, where the return is relatively negative.

(2) The person to whom any such pipe, structure, or substance as is referred to in sub-rule (1) belongs, may, in respect of the same, require the owner of the uninsulated return at reasonable times and intervals, to ascertain by test in his presence, or in that of his representative, whether the condition specified in the said sub-rule is secured; and, if such condition as aforesaid is found to be secured, all reasonable expenses of, and incidental to, the carrying out of the test shall be borne by the owner of the metallic pipe, structure or substance.

Difference of potential on return.

75. Where the return is partly or entirely uninsulated, the owner shall keep a continuous record of the difference of potential, during the working of his system, between every junction of an insulated return with an uninsulated return and the point on the route most distant from that junction, and the difference of potential shall not, under normal running conditions, exceed a mean value between the highest momentary peak and the average for the hour of maximum load of seven volts.

Leakage on conduit system.

76. Where both the line and the return are placed within a conduit, the following conditions shall be secured in the construction and maintenance of the system:—

(a) Where the rails are used to form any part of the return, they shall be electrically connected, at distances apart of not more than 100 feet, with the conduit by means of copper strips having a cross-sectional area of at least one-sixteenth of a square inch or by other means of equal conductivity. Where the return is wholly insulated and contained within the conduit, the latter shall be connected with earth at the generating station or sub-station through an instrument suitable for the indication of any contact or partial contact of either the line or the return with the conduit.

(b) The leakage-current shall be ascertained daily, before or after the hours of running, when the line is fully charged; and, if at any time it is found to exceed one ampere per mile of single tramway track, the transmission and use of energy shall be suspended unless the leakage is stopped within twenty-four hours.

Leakage on other than conduit system.

77. Where both the line and the return are not placed within a conduit, the leakage-current shall be ascertained daily before or after the hours of running, when the line is fully charged; and, if at any time it is found that it exceeds one-half of an ampere per mile of single tramway track, the transmission and use of energy shall be suspended unless the leakage is stopped within twenty-four hours.

Passengers not to have access to electric circuit.

78. Precaution to the satisfaction of an Electric Inspector shall be taken by the owner of every vehicle to prevent—

(a) the access of passengers to any portion of the electric circuit where there is danger to them of receiving an electric shock;

(b) any metal handrail or other metallic substance liable to be handled by passengers becoming charged.

The intervals between the supports shall not exceed 140 feet.

Records.

83. (1) The owner shall, so far as is consistent with his system of working, keep the following records, namely:—

(a) daily records showing—

87. (1) A proper plan on the same scale as the plan kept at the mine in fulfilment of the requirements of the Indian Mines Act, 1901, shall be kept in the office at the mine showing the position of all fixed apparatus and conductors in the mine, other than lights, telephones or signalling apparatus, or cables for the same. The said plan shall be corrected every six months, and the date of correction entered on the plan by the Manager of the mine, and it shall be produced to an Electric Inspector or an Inspector of Mines at any time on his request. (3) A similar plan, on such scale as the Local Government may require, shall be kept in the office of the licensee or person transmitting or distributing energy in a mine or oil-field, showing the position of all electric supply-lines under his control, and subject to correction and inspection as prescribed in sub rule (1).

Lighting, communications and fire precautions.

88. (1) In all places in a mine lighted by electricity, where failure of the electric light at any time would be likely to cause danger, one or more safety lamps or other proper lights shall be kept continuously burning.

(2) Efficient means shall be provided in every mine for communicating between the place in which the switchgear provided under sub-rule (1) of rule 95 is erected and the shaft-bottom or main distributing centre in the pit.

(3) Appliances for extinguishing fires shall be kept ready for immediate use in every place in a mine containing apparatus, other than cables, telephones and signalling apparatus.

Isolation and fixing of transformer, switchgear, etc.

89. (1) Where necessary to prevent danger or mechanical damage, transformers and switchgear shall be placed in a separate room, compartment, or box.

(2) Unless the apparatus is so constructed, protected, and worked as to obviate the risk of fire, no inflammable material shall be used in the construction of any room, compartment, or box containing apparatus, or in the construction of any of the fittings therein. Each such room, compartment, or box shall be substantially constructed and shall be kept dry.

(3) Adequate working space and means of access clear of obstruction and free from danger shall, in so far as circumstances permit, be provided for all apparatus that has to be worked or attended to and all handles intended to be operated shall be conveniently placed for that purpose.

Method of earthing.

90. Where earthing is necessary it shall be carried out in a mine by connection to an earthing system at the surface of the mine, and, in all cases, in a manner approved by an Electric Inspector.

Construction and insulation of apparatus, and earthing of same.

91. (1) All apparatus and conductors shall be sufficient in power and size and of sufficient mechanical strength, for the work they may be required to do, and so constructed, installed, protected, worked and maintained as to prevent danger so far as is reasonably practicable. The exposure of live parts shall be avoided.

(2) All insulating material shall be chosen with special regard to the circumstances of its proposed use. It shall be of mechanical strength sufficient for its propose, and, so far as is practicable, it shall be of such a character or so protected as fully to maintain its insulating properties under working conditions of temperature and moisture.

(3) Every part of a system shall be kept efficiently insulated from earth, except that (i) the neutral point of a polyphase system may be earthed at one point only ; (ii) the mid-voltage point of any system, other than a concentric system, may be earthed at one point only ; and (iii) the outer conductor of a concentric system shall be earthed.

(4) Earth or fault detectors or recorders shall be connected up in every system in a mine to show immediately any defect in the insulation of the system. The readings of these instruments shall be recorded daily in a book kept at the generating station, sub-station or switch room.

Earthing metal, etc.

92. (1) All metallic sheaths, coverings, handles, joint-boxes, switchgear frames, instrument covers, switch and fuse covers and boxes, and all lampholders, unless efficiently protected by an earthed or insulating covering made of fire-resisting material, and the frames and bedplates of generators, transformers, and motors (including portable motors), shall be earthed by connection to an earthing system in the manner prescribed in rule 90.

(2) Where the cables are provided with a metallic covering constructed and installed in accordance with rule 96 (d), such metallic covering may be used as a means of connection to the earthing system. All the conductors of an earthing system shall have a conductivity at all parts and at all joints at least equal to 50 per cent. of that of the largest conductor used solely to supply the apparatus a part of which it is desired to earth:

Provided that no conductor of an earthing system shall have a cross-sectional area of less than ·022 of a square inch.

(3) All joints in earth conductors and all joints to the metallic covering of the cables shall be properly soldered or otherwise efficiently made. No switch, fuse, or circuit-breaker shall be placed in any earth conductor.

(4) This rule shall not apply (except in the case of portable apparatus) to any system in a mine in which the pressure does not exceed low-pressure direct-current or 125 volts alternating-current.

Motors and their transformers.

93. (1) Where energy is distributed at a pressure higher than medium pressure (i) it shall not be used without transformation to medium or low pressure except in fixed machines in which the high pressure parts are stationary; and (ii) portable motors under 20 H. P. shall be supplied through a transformer stepping down to medium or low pressure.

(2) Where energy is transformed, suitable provision shall be made to guard against danger by reason of the lower pressure apparatus becoming accidentally charged above its normal pressure by leakage from, or contact with, the higher pressure apparatus.

Switchgear and terminals.

94. Switchgear and all terminals, cable-ends, cable-joints and connections of apparatus shall be totally enclosed, and constructed and installed so that—

(i) all parts shall be of mechanical strength sufficient to resist rough usage;

(ii) all conductors and contact areas shall be of ample current-carrying capacity and all joints in conductors shall be properly soldered or otherwise efficiently made;

(iii) the lodgment of any matter likely to diminish the insulation, or affect the working of any switchgear shall be prevented;

(iv) all live parts shall be so protected or enclosed as to prevent persons accidentally coming into contact with them and danger from arcs, short-circuits, fire, water, gas or oil;

(v) where there may be risk of igniting gas, coal-dust, oil or other inflammable material, all parts shall be so protected as to prevent open sparking;

(vi) every switch or circuit-breaker shall be capable of opening the circuit it controls, without danger, on any short-circuit with which it may have to deal.

Cutting off supply.

95. (1) Properly constructed switchgear for cutting off the supply of energy to the mine or oil-field shall be provided at the surface of the mine or oil-field at a point approved by an Electric Inspector, or, in the case of the Burma oil-fields, by the Warden of the oil-fields; and during the time any cable is live a person authorised to operate the said switchgear shall be available within easy reach thereof.

(2) Efficient means, suitably placed, shall be provided for cutting off all pressure from every part of a system, when necessary to prevent danger.

(3) Such efficient means shall be provided for cutting off all pressure automatically from the part or parts of the system affected in the event of a fault as may, in the opinion of an Electric Inspector, be necessary to prevent danger.

(4) Every motor shall be controlled by switchgear for starting and stopping, so arranged as to cut off all pressure from the motor and from all apparatus in connection therewith, and so placed as to be easily worked by the person appointed to work the motor.

(5) If a concentric system is used, no switch, fuse, or circuit-breaker shall be placed in the outer conductor, or in any conductor connected thereto, except that, if required, reversing switch may be inserted in the outer conductor at the place where the energy is being used:

Provided that subject to the connection of the outer conductor with the earthing system being maintained, switches, fuses or circuit-breakers may be used to break the connection with the generators or transformers supplying the energy.

96. All cables in mines, other than flexible cables for portable apparatus, shall comply with the following requirements:—

Cables in mines.

(a) They shall be covered with insulating material (except that the outer conductor of a concentric system may be bare). All such cables shall be armoured. The lead sheath of lead-sheathed cables and the iron or steel armouring of armoured cables shall be of not less thickness, respectively, than is recommended by the British Engineering Standards Association in Report No. 7, as revised in July 1919 or in any subsequent revision thereof.

(b) They shall be efficiently protected from mechanical damage and supported at sufficiently frequent intervals and in such a manner as adequately to prevent danger or damage to the cables.

(c) Where the medium-pressure direct-current system is used two single-core cables may be used for any circuit, if their metallic coverings are bonded together by earth conductors so placed that the distance between any two consecutive bonds is not greater than 100 feet measured along either cable.

(d) The metallic covering of every cable shall be (i) electrically continuous throughout; (ii) earthed, if it is required by sub-rule (1) of rule 92 to be earthed, by a connection to the earthing system of not less conductivity than the same length of the said metallic covering; (iii) efficiently protected against corrosion where necessary; (iv) of a conductivity at all parts and at all joints at least equal to 50 per cent. of the conductivity of the largest conductor enclosed by the said metallic covering; and (v) where there may be risk of igniting gas, coal-dust, or other inflammable material, so constructed as to prevent as far as is practicable the occurrence of open sparking as the result of any fault or leakage from live conductors.

Provided that where two single-core cables protected by metallic covering bonded together in accordance with clause (c) of this rule are used for a circuit, the conductivity of each of the said metallic coverings at all parts and at all joints shall be at least equal to 25 per cent. of the conductivity of the conductor enclosed thereby.

(e) Cables and conductors where joined up to motors, transformers switchgear, and other apparatus, shall be installed so that (i) they are mechanically protected by securely attaching the metallic covering to the apparatus; and (ii) the insulating material at each cable and is efficiently sealed so as to prevent the diminution of its insulating properties. Where necessary to prevent abrasion or to secure gas-tightness, there shall be properly constructed glands or bushes.

(f) Conductors used at low pressure shall be either conveyed in pipes or casings or suspended from efficient insulators, or fastened to such insulators with some non-conducting material which will not cut the covering and will prevent contact with any timbering or metal work. If separate uncased wires are used, they shall be kept at least one and a half inches apart and shall not be brought together except at lamps or switches or fittings.

97. (1) Flexible cables for portable apparatus shall be two-core or multicore and covered with insulating material which shall be efficiently protected from mechanical damage. If a flexible metallic covering be used either as the outer conductor of a concentric system or as a means of protection from mechanical damage the same shall not be used by itself to form an earth conductor for the portable apparatus, but it may be used for that purpose in conjunction with an earthing core or other earthing wire.

Flexible cables.

(2) Every flexible cable for portable apparatus shall be connected to the system and to the portable apparatus itself by a properly constructed connector.

(3) At every point where flexible cables are joined to main cables a switch capable of entirely cutting off the pressure from the flexible cables shall be provided.

(4) No lampholder shall be in a metallic connection with the guard or other metal work of a portable lamp.

98. (1) An electrician shall be appointed in writing by the owner, agent or manager of the mine or by the agent or the owner of one or more wells in an oil-field to supervise the apparatus. If necessary for the proper fulfilment of the duties detailed in this rule, one or more assistants to the electrician shall be appointed by the aforesaid authority.

Supervision and sundry precautions

(2) Every person appointed to work, supervise, examine, or adjust any apparatus shall be competent for the work that he is set to do. No person except the electrician, or a competent person acting under his supervision, shall undertake any work where, in order adequately to avoid danger, technical knowledge or experience is required.

(3) The electrician shall be responsible for the proper performance by himself or by an assistant appointed under sub-rule (1) of the following duties, namely :—

(i) the thorough examination of all apparatus (including the testing of earth conductors and metallic coverings for continuity) as often as may be necessary to prevent danger ; and

(ii) the examination and testing of all new apparatus, and of all apparatus re-erected in the mine before it is put into service in a new position :

Provided that in the absence of the electrician for more than three days, the owner, agent or manager of the mine or the agent or owner of one or more oil-wells in an oil-field shall appoint in writing an efficient substitute

(4) The electrician shall keep at the mine or oil-field a log-book made up of daily log-sheets kept in the forms set out, respectively, for mines and oil-fields, in Annexure X to these rules. The said log-book shall be produced at any time on request to an Inspector of Mines or an Electric Inspector.

(5) Should there be a fault in any circuit, the part affected shall be made dead without delay, and shall remain so until the fault has been remedied.

(6) For the prevention of danger all apparatus shall be kept clear of obstruction and free from dust, dirt and moisture. Inflammable or explosive material shall not be stored in any room, compartment, or box containing apparatus, or in the vicinity of apparatus.

(7) Adequate precautions shall be taken by earthing or other suitable means to discharge electrically any conductor or apparatus if there is danger therefrom before such conductor or apparatus is handled, and to prevent any conductor or apparatus from being accidentally or inadvertently electrically charged when persons are working thereon. While lamps are being changed the pressure shall be cut off :

Provided that this sub-rule shall not apply to the cleaning of commutators and slip rings working at low or medium pressures.

(8) The person authorised to work an electrically driven coal-cutter or other portable machine shall not leave the machine while it is working, and shall, before leaving the place where such machine is working, ensure that the pressure is cut off from the flexible trailing-cable which supplies such machine. Trailing-cables shall not be dragged along by the machine when working.

(9) Every flexible cable shall be examined periodically by the person authorised to work the machine, and, if such cable is used with a portable machine, he shall examine it at least once in each shift. If such cable is found to be damaged or defective, it shall forthwith be replaced by a spare cable in good and substantial repair. No damaged or defective cable shall be further used underground until it has been properly repaired.

99. (1) In any part of a mine or oil-field or in any working approaching such part, in which inflammable gas or vapour, although not normally present, is likely to occur in quantity sufficient to be indicative of danger, the following additional requirements shall be satisfied as regards all apparatus, including such apparatus as is working at low pressure :—

(a) All cables, apparatus, signalling wires and signalling instruments, shall be constructed, installed, protected, worked and maintained, so that in the normal working thereof there shall be no risk of open sparking.

(b) All motors shall be constructed, so that, when any part is live, all rubbing contacts (such as commutators and ship-rings) are so arranged or enclosed as to prevent open sparking.

(c) The pressure shall be switched off the apparatus forthwith if open sparking occurs, and during the whole time that examination or adjustment disclosing parts liable to open sparking is being made. The pressure shall not be switched on again until the apparatus has been examined by the electrician or one of his duly appointed assistants and the defect (if any) has been remedied or the adjustment made.

(d) Every electric lamp shall be enclosed in an air-tight fitting and the lamp globe itself shall be hermetically sealed.

(2) If at any time in any place in such mine the percentage of inflammable gas in the general body of the air is found to exceed one and a quarter, the supply of energy shall at once be cut off from all cables and apparatus in that place and shall not be recontinued so long as the percentage of inflammable gas exceeds that amount.

Shot-firing and signalling in mines.

100. (1) Where shot-firing is being carried on in any mine :—

(a) Temporary precautions shall be taken to protect conductors and apparatus from injury.

(b) Current from lighting or power circuits shall not be used for firing shots.

(c) Shot-firing cables shall be covered and protected as provided by rule 97 for flexible cables. Adequate precautions shall be taken to prevent them from touching other cables and apparatus.

(2) Where electrical signalling is used in any mine :—

(a) Adequate precautions shall be taken to prevent signal and telephone wires from touching cables and other apparatus

(b) The pressure used in any one circuit shall not exceed 15 volts.

(c) Contact makers shall be so constructed as to prevent the accidental closing of the circuit.

Haulage in mines.

101. Haulage by electric locomotives on the overhead trolley-wire system, at pressures not exceeding medium, and haulage by storage-battery locomotive, may be used in any mine or oil-field, with the consent in writing first obtained of an Electric Inspector in all cases, and subject to such conditions affecting safety as may be made by him.

Exemptions.

102. (1) The provisions of rules 85 to 100, both inclusive, shall not apply in any case in which exemption is obtained on such conditions as he may prescribe, from an Electric Inspector, or, in the case of the Burma oil-fields, from the Warden of the oil-fields, on the ground either of emergency or special circumstances.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in these rules, any electrical plant or apparatus installed, or in use, in any mine before the 23rd December, 1910, or in any oil-field before the coming into force of these rules, may be continued in use unless an Electric Inspector, after consulting the Chief Inspector of Mines, or the Warden of the oil-fields, as the case may be, shall otherwise direct, but subject to any conditions affecting safety that such Electric Inspector may impose.

Relaxation of rules.

103. The Local Government may, by order in writing, direct that any of the provisions of rules 36 to 102, both inclusive, be relaxed in any particular case to such extent and subject to such conditions (if any) as it may think reasonable and proper in the circumstances.

By Local Government.

104. (1) An Electric Inspector may, by order in writing, direct that rules 35, 46, 53, 56 (1), 59, 60, 61, 62 (1) and 63, be relaxed in any particular case to such extent and subject to such conditions (if any) as he may think reasonable and proper in the circumstances.

By Electric Inspector.

(2) Where the pressure on any system does not exceed 125 volts an Electric Inspector may, by order in writing, direct that any of the provisions of rules 36 to 40, both inclusive, and 47 to 99, both inclusive, be relaxed as regards such system to such extent and subject to such conditions as he may think fit.

(3) Every relaxation so directed shall be reported forthwith to, and shall be subject to disallowance or revision by, the Local Government.

FROM

Commander-in Chief in India,

TO

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,

ARMY DEPARTMENT.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith, for the information of the Government of India, a report on the operations of the Waziristan Force for the period 8th May 1920 to 31st March 1921.

REORGANISATION.

2. The despatch by His Excellency General Sir Charles Monro, dated 1st August 1920, dealt with the Mahsud operations up to the dispersal of the Derajat Column on the 7th May 1920.

After the dispersal of the Derajat Column on the 7th May 1920, the system of command and organisation of the Ladha line were altered. By degrees the duties performed by the Inspector-General of Communications and the Line of Communication organisation under him became merged in Force Headquarters and by the 1st May the Inspector-General of Communications and his staff were dispersed, the staff at Force Headquarters being increased to cope with the extra work entailed.

The 62nd Brigade held the section up to Khirgi inclusive, the 68th Brigade from Khirgi exclusive to the Ahnai Tangi, and the 43rd Brigade from the Ahnai Tangi to Ladha which was occupied by the 67th Brigade. The latter Brigade had no responsibilities except for its own protection, so that it was available at all times for offensive action. The distribution of troops after the reorganisation was completed was as given in Appendix 1.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

3. During the remainder of May the situation in all parts of the area was quiet, and by degrees the inhabitants of the occupied line began to return to their villages. The blockade was relaxed in favour of those sections of the Mahsuds that had submitted, though it was still enforced against the recalcitrant sections.

This partial raising of the blockade tended towards reconciling the inhabitants to our presence in the heart of the country.

4. On the 25th May Major-General S. H. Climo, C.B., D.S.O., proceeded on leave, and the command of Wazir Force devolved on Brigadier-General W. S. Leslie, C.M.G., D.S.O.

5. During the month of June the Abdullais, under their leaders Musha Khan and Fazl Din, continued to be actively hostile against our occupation.

This activity consisted chiefly of sniping and raiding between Piazha and Ladha but met with little success.

The remainder of the area was quiet except for a raid against Isa Khel on the 1st June by a gang of twenty raiders. This gang was surprised near Gambila, on the 2nd June, by troops from Bannu working in co-operation with the police, and dispersed. The area between Dera Ismail Khan, Bannu and Kalabagh now being quiet, all military detachments were withdrawn from Pezu and other posts on the railway. The inhabitants continued to return in considerable numbers and produced local supplies for the troops.

6. During the first few days of July the sniping between Piazha and Ladha increased, and as it was known that the Abdullais of Makin were the principal offenders, a minor operation against Makin was sanctioned and was carried out on the 10th July.

A column under Brigadier-General G. Gwyn-Thomas, C.M.G., D.S.O., composed of—

No. 6 Pack Battery (British).
2nd Battalion, Norfolk Regiment,
2-41st Dogras,
3-11th Gurkha Rifles, and
1 Company, 34th Pioneers

moved out from Ladha against Makin at 04-30 hours on the 10th July. It met with only slight opposition and by 08-30 hours was in a position to carry out the shelling of the Makin villages. The shelling continued for an hour and a half and considerable damage was done.

The withdrawal to camp began at 10-15 hours and was followed up by the enemy. The two advanced battalions—the 2nd Battalion, Norfolk Regiment, and 3-11th Gurkha Rifles—carried out their retirement very successfully and only suffered 15 casualties. The numbers of the enemy had, however, by this time considerably increased, and after the two advanced battalions had withdrawn, the Mahsuds showed greater boldness and came to closer range. The 2-41st Dogras, who had taken over the duty of covering the withdrawal, now suffered some casualties which caused delay, and the retirement to camp was only completed at 14-00 hours. Fighting during this period was severe and in some cases hand to hand struggles took place, the 2-41st Dogras losing in all 18 killed and 41 wounded.

The operation achieved the results aimed at, and there was a marked decrease in sniping and in raids in the neighbourhood of Piazha for a considerable time.

7. During August (which was a comparatively uneventful month), some of the sub-sections of the Mahsuds handed in their share of rifles and fine: the attitude of the friendly tribes improved still further, and the local purchase of supplies increased: and it appeared possible, for the first time, that the Mahsuds would provide labour during the winter for the work on the Ladha road.

8. During September the Wana Wazirs became more active.

On the 11th September a party of the Frontier Constabulary were ambushed near Zam Burg losing five men killed and two captured. One of the parties of Frontier Constabulary sent out to deal with the raiding gang met with a reverse, and lost five men killed and thirteen missing. A squadron of the 16th Cavalry was then sent out from Dera Ismail Khan, but failed to get in touch with the raiders. On the 27th September another Wazir lashkar, estimated at several hundred men, surrounded Drazinda and summoned the garrison to surrender. The Frontier Constabulary at Draband and other posts in the neighbourhood were unable to cope with this lashkar and the 16th Cavalry, less one squadron, were ordered out from Dera Ismail Khan and Tank. Marching all night the cavalry arrived at Draband on the morning of 28th September, and at Drazinda on the 29th.

In the meantime, in order to show the beleaguered garrison that help was at hand, two aeroplanes were ordered from Parachinar to Tank early on the morning of the 28th September. One aeroplane crashed on the Tank aerodrome, but the other arrived over Drazinda at 10-30 hours on the 28th and bombed a party of the enemy, inflicted six casualties. The Wazirs withdrew from the vicinity and the arrival of the cavalry next morning ensured the safety of the post.

9. On 20th October Major-General T. G. Matheson, C.B., C.M.G., took over command of Waziristan Force from Major-General W. L. Leslie, C.M.G., D.S.O.

10. On the night of 21st-22nd October a mixed gang of about one hundred and twenty Wazirs and Mahsuds broke into Kaur Bridge Camp, which was garrisoned by one company of the 2-90th Punjabis.

The casualties in the garrison were as follows:—

Killed.		Wounded.
British officer ...	... 1	British officers ...	... 3
British other ranks	... 2	British other ranks	... ...
Indian other ranks	... 1	Indian other ranks	... 9
Followers ...	... 22	Followers ...	... 29
Labourers ...	... 15	Labourers ...	... 8
Total	... 41	Total	... 49

Owing to the raiders gaining possession of the telephone station no news of the attack reached Tank or Manzai until after the enemy had withdrawn.

On the 24th October the postal convoy was attacked between Jandola and Kotkai and the mails seized.

On the 27th October the camp of Piazha Raghza was closed down and its garrison was distributed between Sorarogha and Ladha, thus making the stages to Ladha from Jandola three instead of four.

THE OPERATIONS AGAINST THE WANA WAZIRS.

11. It had been intended to operate against the Wana Wazirs during the spring of 1920 to punish the tribe for the many outrages it had been guilty of during 1919.

During the latter year, the Afghans, in order to enlist the assistance of the tribesmen and to embolden them to harry British India, during the Afghan War, had sent a small detachment to Wana. This contingent consisted of two mountain guns and some Afghan soldiers under Shah Daula, who also raised levies of Wazirs and Mahsuds. These levies were supplied with arms and rations by the Afghans. Later, the Afghan contingent was strengthened by the arrival of Haji Abdur Razaq, a well-known anti-British agent of considerable reputation, his son Muhammad Hassan, a B. A. of Lahore University, and a small deputation of Hindustani fanatics from the Black Mountain District.

Throughout the summer the contingent remained in Wazir territory and continued to receive assistance from Afghanistan in money, ammunition and rations. The presence of these Afghan advanturers precluded any real attempt on the part of the Wana Wazirs to approach Government with a view to submission.

The determined resistance of the Mahsuds rendered an expedition against the Wana Wazirs in the spring of 1920 impossible and it was postponed, but towards the end of the summer the Government of India decided that operations against the Wana Wazirs should take place in the autumn unless our terms were complied with, and ordered the concentration of the Wana Column at Jandola. Troops belonging to the Wazir Force were to be assembled by the end of October. and those from other districts in India by the 15th November.

The column consisted of two Infantry Brigades with attached troops under the command of Major-General W. S. Leslie, C.M.G., D.S.O. The detailed compositiou of the column is shown in Appendix 2.

The Mahsud situation, generally, improved so much that there was little doubt that these tribesmen would not only refuse to assist the Wana Wazirs, but would put no obstacle in our way during the advance to Sarwekai, which was to be the first stage in the advance to Wana. The concentration of the troops from other districts in India was therefore postponed so as to keep the number of troops to be maintained as low as possible, and thereby expedite the collection at Jandola of the necessary supplies and stores.

12. The Wana Wazir maliks were summoned to present themselves at Murtaza on October 10th to receive the terms of the Government of India. The full terms for the Wana Wazirs were a fine of Rs. 40,000, 250 tribal rifles and all Government rifles taken by them since 1st May 1920. These terms were issued to the jirga by the Resident in Waziristan and included a clause to the effect that Rs 20,000 of the fine, 300 Government rifles and 200 tribal rifles were to be surrendered by a fully representative jirga at Murtaza by the 10th November, failing which our troops would advance on Wana and carry out punitive operations and enforce the full terms.

This clause was not complied with, and the Wazir jirga failed to attend at Murtaza on the 10th November. In consequence, on the 11th November, the bombing of certain selected objectives by aeroplane was commenced. At that time the Wana Wazirs were divided in their intentions, a considerable party wishing for peace and endeavouring to comply with the terms of Government, while a larger party was against compliance. The ruling spirit of this party was the Haji, and it became apparent that no settlement was probable until the Haji and his followers had been forced to leave the country or had been so discredited as to lose their ascendency. Bombing activity was therefore concentrated on the localities occupied by the Haji.

13. On the 12th November the Wana Column moved forward to Chagmali, which is close to the entrance of the Shahur Tangi. A few sniping shots were fired at the advanced troops, but no casualties were sustained.

Between the 12th and 14th November permanent piquets were erected guarding the Shahur Tangi, and during the operation not a single shot was fired at the troops. The country in the Shahur Tangi is particularly difficult, and it is an eloquent testimony to the success of our dealings with the majority of the tribe that the Mahsuds not only refrained from taking advantage of such favourable country, but were at pains to assist us.

14. On the 15th November the column advanced to Haidari Kach, the only opposition being desultory sniping by a small number of Wazirs, and Sarwekai was reached without opposition on the 18th.

As soon as our advance through the Shahur Tangi to Haidari Kach had been completed, the friendly Mahsuds committed themselves more definitely to our assistance. The Haji had sought to obtain assistance from them for the Wana Wazirs, proceeding himself to Sarwekai in the hope of securing their help. He not only failed in this, but the friendly Mahsuds sent a warning to the Wazirs that they would not allow them into Mahsud country to oppose us. A lashkar of 500 friendly Mahsuds moved to Sarwekai and informed the Haji that if he did not go voluntarily he would be turned out by force. The Haji withdrew with all his followers, and the friendly Mahsud lashkar occupied the old fort of Sarwekai and held it for us until our troops arrived.

15. At Sarwekai the Wana Wazirs were given an opportunity of re-considering their attitude before the column made a further advance. The friendly sections made overtures for peace, and began bringing in instalments of their fine, but the hostile sections refused to come in, being bribed by the Haji with gifts of ammunition and money. By the 15th December the total surrenders had amounted to—

Rupees 24,406 fine.

51 Government rifles, and

67 tribal rifles

As the number of rifles fell far short of our demands, the advance to Wana was ordered to begin on 16th December.

16. On the 11th December the forward concentration at Sarwekai of the force which was to advance to Wana commenced, and between the 12th and 15th December forward permanent piquets were established without opposition to distance of some five and a half miles beyond Sarwekai.

17. Leaving the 23rd Brigade Headquarters and two battalions at Sarwekai, the remainder of the column began the advance to Wana on the 16th December. No opposition was encountered until the long and steep descent of the Shina Pal Lar was commenced. Here some hostile parties, estimated at 150, were established in the broken country leading down to Dargai Oba, but were dispresed without difficulty.

18. On the 17th December all available troops were employed on improving the northern road back towards Sarwekai and in constructing permanent piquets for its protection. The use of the Shina Pal Lar was discontinued.*

During the 18th, parties of the enemy were seen making sangars in the area Nagundi-Granai Maranarai. From the Tarkhike Algad there is a choice of two roads to Wana, one by Granai Maranarai and the other by Kut Narai. The permanent piquets were only established as far as the Tarkhike Algad in order to leave the enemy uncertain by which road the advance was to take place.

19. The advance to Wana was continued on the 19th December. A strong advanced guard was formed under Lieutenant-Colonel B. U. Nicolay, of the 4-3rd Gurkha Rifles, consisting of the following troops :—

1 Pack Battery,

1 Section, Machine Gun Company,

4-3rd Gurkha Rifles and South Waziristan Militia.

The advanced guard left camp before dawn so as to be in a position to begin its advance across the plain to the east of the Tarkhike Algad at 07-15 hours. It was to seize, as rapidly as possible, the high ground on both sides of the Granai Maranarai. Taking the fullest advantage of the half light, and then of the rising sun behind them, the troops advanced rapidly, forestalling any opposition, and were in possession of Point 3963 and of the low features west of Kam Tarkhike by 08-00 hours. The enemy were taken completely by surprise and had no time to occupy the sangars previously prepared.

There was little further opposition, and by 10-25 hours the advanced guard was in possession of the ridges commanding the junction of the Granai Maranarai and the Sanzala Algad roads. The 2nd Battalion, the Norfolk Regiment, now replaced the 4-3rd Gurkha Rifles in the advanced guard and Lieutenant-Colonel W. F. L. Gordon, C.M.G., D.S.O., took over command from Lieutenant-Colonel B. U. Nicolay. The advance to Karab Kot met with no further opposition, and the camping ground was reached at 13-30 hours.

The strength of the enemy on this day was about 700 men and our intelligence reports pointed to his intention to make a stand. Our casualties however, only amounted to four men wounded, a result mainly attributable to the handling of the advanced guard, to the close co-operation between all arms, to the initiative of company and platoon commanders, and to the rapidity of movement and determination of the 4-3rd Gurkha Rifles. The enemy was surprised at the commencement, was given no time to recover from his surprise, but was kept on the move till he gave up all further attempt at opposition.

* NOTE.—The road used henceforward ran from Dargai Oba north-east to Point 4296, then south-east to join the southern road ; thence by the Woragha Tangi to Sarwekai camp.

Aeroplanes were of much assistance in locating parties of the enemy concealed from the troops and of indicating their position by bombing.

20. On the 20th December the road defences backwards from Karab Kot were completed, and on the 21st December permanent piquets were established forward as far as the junction of the Tiarza and Wana Toi rivers. On the 22nd December the column occupied Wana, no opposition being encountered during the above three days.

The redistribution of the troops of the Wana Column after the occupation of Wana is shown in Appendix 4.

21 At the end of December a redistribution of units became necessary in order to reduce the troops in front of Sarwekai to a safe minimum, to husband supplies, and to free transport for work on daily maintenance convoys between Jandola and Wana. This redistribution was completed on the 7th January 1921.

The line of communications was organised in two sections for administration and defence. It was not convenient for the administrative and defence sections to coincide; but this did not occasion any trouble or misunderstanding. No. 1 Administrative Section was from Jandola exclusive to Sarwekai inclusive, and No. 2 Administrative Section extended from Sarwekai exclusive to Wana. No. 1 Line of Communications Defence Section extended from Jandola exclusive to half-way between Dargai Oba and Rogha Kot, the 23rd Brigade, with headquarters at Sarwekai, finding the troops for this section. No. 2 Line of Communications Defence Section extended from the above boundary to Wana. This section was under the 24th Brigade whose headquarters were at Wana.

22. Roving gangs of hostile tribesmen now began to give some trouble along the lines of communications. This was especially the case in No. 1 Section which received considerable attention from gangs of Mahsuds, mainly of the Abdullai and Abdur Rahman Khel sections. In this section there were eleven determined attacks on piquets or piqetting troops during January and February.

23. On March 6th a party of the enemy, estimated at 100, attacked the road protection troops of the 28th Punjabis near Mamrez Sar, one mile east of Sarwekai. Under heavy fire from two directions a party of the enemy reached the advanced guard but were repulsed by a counter-attack. Our casualties numbered seven killed and seven wounded.

In No. 2 Section, which was solely in Wana Wazir territory, the tribesmen chiefly confined themselves to sniping convoys, usually at long range, but on the 14th March a gang of Mahsuds attacked a convoy and its protective troops from concealed positions at the north end of the Rogha Kot plain. We suffered seven casualties and a considerable number of camels and mules were killed and wounded, but the raiders were driven off.

24. The casualties in Wana Column from November 1920 to March 1921, both inclusive, were as follows :—

—	Killed.	Wounded.	Missing.	Died of wounds.	Died of disease.
British officers ...	1	2	...	...	1
British other ranks ...	1	2	...	1	2
Indian officers ...	...	...	...	...	...
Indian other ranks ...	34	60	...	11	65
Followers ...	...	1	...	...	30
Total ...	36	65	...	12	98

Eighty of the enemy were known to have been killed or seriously wounded, but their total casualties could not be ascertained as many of the raiding gangs were outlaws from across the border, and no information as to the losses of such gangs was obtainable.

After the column arrived at Wana, rifles continued to be surrendered slowly. In order to induce the Wazirs to accelerate the rate of surrender of rifles, some destruction was carried out against houses and towers belonging to the hostile sections. This destruction did not, however, have any material effect on the rate of surrender. Most of the inhabitants of the Wana plain had paid up more than their share in the hope of saving their property, and by the middle of January little more was to be expected from them. The balance was due from the hostile sections, and there was no means of bringing pressure to bear on them except by the destruction of such houses and towers as belonged to individuals. The bulk of these sections have no houses, landed property or crops. They are nomads, who wander about Waziristan with their flocks and who find a ready and safe refuge from our punitive measures by crossing the frontier into Afghanistan.

The actual fines paid in and rifles surrendered by the Wana Wazirs up to the 31st March 1921 were—

Rupees 40,831.
Tribal rifles 195.
Government rifles 133.

The hot whether was now approaching and the employment of British troops on this line in summer was undesirable. Orders were therefore issued that the occupation of Wana was to be continued with a reduced force, which was to consist of—1½ Pack Batteries (2·75" guns).

1 Field Company, Sappers and Miners.
1 Battalion, Pioneers.
6 Battalions, Indian Infantry.
½ Company, Machine Gun Corps.
Detachment, South Waziristan Militia, and attached troops

The following troops were withdrawn from Wana Column by the end of March :—

2nd Battalion, The "Queen's" Royal Regiment.
2nd Battalion, The Norfolk Regiment.
No. 6 Pack Battery (British).
No. 6 Machine Gun Company (less 2 sections).

EVENTS IN OTHER PARTS OF WAZIRISTAN.

25. Whilst operations were taking place against the Wana Wazirs, and with the advent of the cold weather, hostile activity on the Ladha line materially increased.

On the 5th November a small piquet at Ladha was ambushed, six Indian other ranks being killed and one wounded, and the rearguard to a convoy was attacked in that neighbourhood on the 19th.

Sniping and attacks on convoys occurred in the Sorarogha Section and in the neighbourhood of Jandola, by which we suffered 23 casualties and the loss of sixty-six camels driven off or shot down.

26. During December attacks by hostile sections of the Mahsuds on convoys continued to be frequent on the Ladha line. In all thirteen attacks were made on this line of communications causing the loss of fifteen men killed and wounded and forty-six transport animals.

The troops, however, were able to retaliate with the result that little actual loot was secured by the enemy, and they suffered a considerable number of casualties.

In the Tochi two raids occurred during the month.

In one case a number of Powindah camels were seized five miles from Bannu, but the 21st Cavalry, getting news of the capture, were too quick for the raiders, and moving out from Bannu between the hills and the main road succeeded in recovering all the camels and captured two of the raiders.

27. On the 4th January, two companies of 48th Pioneers, together with a company of the 28th Punjabis, acting as covering troops, were surprised near Jandola, when engaged in making a road, and suffered severe casualties, fire being opened on them at short range. The enemy, numbering 120, belonged to recalcitrant sections of the Mahsuds.

The troops behaved gallantly under trying circumstances, and all the wounded were brought back to camp with the assistance of an armoured car of No. 5 Armoured Motor Battery and reinforcements of the 82nd Punjabis sent out from Jandola. Our casualties amounted to two British officers and one Indian officer wounded, ten Indian other ranks killed and thirty-nine Indian other ranks wounded.

28. On 14th January road protection troops from Sorarogha were attacked by a large gang, but were reinforced by the movable column from Sorarogha when the withdrawal to camp was successfully carried out. Our casualties were one British officer wounded, three Indian other ranks killed and ten wounded.

Two days later, the road protection troops were again attacked in the same vicinity by about 50 Abdullai Mahsuds. Our infantry and the neighbouring piquets engaged the enemy and the 27th Pack Battery opened sudden and accurate fire on them. It was later ascertained that the Mahsuds lost nine killed and twelve wounded on this occasion.

In January altogether seventeen attacks occurred on the Ladha line, and one in the Tochi.

29. During February sniping of piquets and convoys continued. Eighteen such cases occurring on the Ladha line; none of them were serious, but they resulted in the loss to our troops of eight killed and eight wounded.

30. During March it became obvious that the tribes were anxiously watching to see what the result of the Kabul negotiations would be. The Afghan demand that we should withdraw our troops from Waziristan and Afghan propaganda had a direct effect on the hostile sections both of the Mahsuds and Wazirs.

On the Wana line sniping of convoys began to increase, instigated by the Haji from across the border, and on the Ladha line hostile Mahsud activity continued.

31. On 22nd March a gang of about 100 Abdullai Mahsuds attacked the camel convoy between Manzai and Khirgi. The local road protection troops were outnumbered and were unable to prevent the gang driving off fifty camels.

On the 24th March the road protection troops from Ladha, consisting of three companies of the 4-39th Garhwal Rifles, were heavily attacked near Piazha Raghza.

News of the attack reached Ladha and a reinforcement of the remaining company of the 4-39th Garhwal Rifles with stretchers was sent back and the withdrawal which had been delayed was continued, and the wounded were eventually brought in. The casaulties of the 4-39th Garhwal Rifles were heavy and consisted of 16 Garhwali other ranks killed, one British officer, three Garhwali officers and twenty Garhwali other ranks wounded.

32. As a reprisal for this attack, Makin was subjected to bombing from the air on the 28th, 29th and 30th, the bombing machines going out at varying times morning and evening. Four 112-lb. bombs and over a hundred 20-lb. bombs were dropped and 950 rounds of small arms ammunition fired on different targets with good results.

CASUALTIES.

33. The total casualties sustained from 1st November 1920 to 31st March 1921 amounted to—

Killed	160
Died of wounds	28
Wounded	354
Died of disease	188

These were distributed as follows:—

—	Killed.	Died of wounds.	Wounded.	Died of disease.
British officers	4	1	14	8
British other ranks	5	1	15	13
Indian officers	1	2	6	...

CONCLUSION.

34. The occupation of such a country as Waziristan is a severe strain on the troops who have to face arduous and dangerous duties daily. The scorching heat of summer followed by a bitter winter demands a very high standard of endurance from all troops employed in protective duties, whether in permanent poiquets or on road protection.

35. Whilst the heaviest work has fallen on the infantry, the co-operation of the 11th Pack Artillery Brigade with them has throughout been of a high order. No. 6 Pack Battery (British) and No. 35 Pack Battery on the Wana Column had also opportunities of working with "A" Company, No. 11 Machine Gun Battalion, which joined the column in December 1920, and these units did much useful combined work.

No. 27 Pack Battery and a section of the 128th Howitzer Battery have rendered valuable assistance to piquetting troops on the Ladha line of communications, covering several difficult withdrawals.

36. There have not been many opportunities for cavalry action, but both the 16th and 21st Cavalry have made the most of the chances given them.

37. A detachment of South Waziristan Militia was employed on the Wana Column. Their local knowledge of the frontier and training were very useful during that time.

38. The 2 th Squadron, Royal Air Force, has been closely connected with the operations described above. This squadron was located at Tank from November 1920 to April 1921 and rendered the force great service both in reconnaissance and bombing expeditions.

39. The engineer services during the period under review have been very fully engaged in works of various kinds, and have carried out their duties to my entire satisfaction. Some two hundred miles of road have been maintained for continuous traffic of heavy and light mechanical transport.

One of the main objects of our present occupation of Waziristan is to enable good roads to be driven through the country whereon blockhouses will be built so as to enable us to control and police the country. The construction of the mechanical transport road of the Takki Zam is the first step in the programme. Throughout the cold weather work has proceeded satisfactorily in spite of great difficulties.

Besides the work on roads the Royal Engineer services have provided installations for electric power, water-supply and ice factories throughout the force. Piped water supplies have been provided at Darya Khan, Kaur Bridge, the fort area Dera Ismail Khan, Bannu and Ladha.

On the Wana Column operations the 14th Field Company, R. E., and the 2-61st Pioneers were continually employed during the forward advance in the construction of piquets and blockhouses.

40. The daily work of the signal personnel throughout the various long lines of communication has been continuously difficult and dangerous,

In spite of the constant cutting of wires and wilful damage to air lines, Force Headquarters has never been out of touch with its furthest posts, except for very brief intervals. This is a very high standard to have attained and has meant great devotion to duty throughout the Army Signal Service.

The work of the Army Signals was ably seconded by the Line of Communication Signal Company which, composed of civilian personnel, provided the whole of the semi-permanent telegraph and telephone lines.

The shortage of operators has restricted the use of wireless to some extent, but on occasions when communications otherwise have been interrupted the wireless stations in the area have successfully taken the place of the land lines.

41. The administration of a force such as this with several different lines of communications makes heavy demands on staff and administrative services. The force has been self-supporting as regards fuel, meat and also partially as regards fodder. All other supplies for approximately 65,000 troops and 25,000 animals have to be conveyed from the broad gauge railheads east of the Indus river across that river on steamers and flats to the forward areas. West of the Indus the means of transport are many and varied.

The necessities of a modern army at war are many, but when in addition to this every requirement for a prolonged occupation of a country such as Waziristan has to be sent up the line, the capabilities and resources of the administrative services are heavily taxed.

Only by continuous and sustained effort on the part of all Supply and Transport services were the requirements of the troops met. The Supply and Transport also took over the administration of Field Force canteens and was responsible for running all military dairies in the area. The supply of fresh vegetables and ice to troops up the line was also arranged for by this corps.

42. Waziristan has an unenviable reputation for climate. The extremes of heat and cold combined with the virulent malaria indigenous to the country are conducive to a high sick-rate.

That the sick-rate has not been higher is directly attributable to the care and forethought of the medical authorities. The medical units throughout the force are mobilized ones, yet they have been expanded and developed so that the sick and wounded receive treatment much in advance of that ordinarily procurable in field units.

43. The Ordnance Service has very efficiently fulfilled the heavy demands made upon it. The establishment of a large depôt at Mari Indus was determined on last summer, based on the requirements of a force of 60,000 for four months. This entailed elaborate arrangements for shedding, stacking and shelving material for several hundred tons of stores.

44. With 24,000 transport and other animals in the force, for the most part continuously employed on convoy duty, efficient veterinary treatment is essential.

Veterinary hospitals with adequate provision for sick animals have been established, and it is due to the excellence of their arrangements that rinderpest, which threatened to become an epidemic, was prevented, and the staging camels were maintained in health.

45. The tact determination and skill with which Major-General T. G. Matheson, C.B., C.M.G., has conducted the operations since October 20th, 1920, deserves special mention. Though previously unacquainted with the frontier, he has carried out his difficult task with marked success and to my entire satisfaction, in the face of adverse conditions and constant anxiety. He is a skilful and resolute commander.

46. I desire here to record my thanks to J. A. O. Fitzpatrick, Esq., O.B.E., C.I.E., Resident in Waziristan, for the able assistance and advice he has given. Major-General T. G. Matheson, C.B., C.M.G., and his predecessor Major-General W. S. Leslie, C.M.G., D.S.O., have both expressed their appreciation of the political assistance afforded them.

47. Major-General W. S. Leslie, C.M.G., D.S.O., commanded Wazir Force from the 25th May 1920 to 19th October 1920, after which he held command of the Wana Column until 20th March 1921. He is a skilful and resolute commander, whose knowledge of frontier warfare under modern conditions is invaluable. It was largely due to his skill that Wana was reached with so few casualties.

48. A list of the names of those whose services have been of particular value will follow.

RESOLUTION.

In paragraph 3 of Finance Department Resolution No. 1559-E.A., dated the 16th August 1921, the Government of India have issued general orders on the question of compensation to officers of the Services on account of low rates of exchange. As several representations have been received as to the position, in regard to these orders, of those services and appointments from which exchange compensation allowance has not been expressly withdrawn, it is necessary to amplify the orders to remove all doubts on the question of this allowance.

2. The position of the various services may briefly be explained as follows:—

(1) In pursuance of the general policy of Government that exchange compensation allowance should cease to be admissible on the occasion of a revision of pay of a service or appointment previously entitled to the concession, the allowance had already been withdrawn prior to the Report of the Public Services Commission from the Indian Forest Service, the Indian Police (except those officers who were recruited before 1906) and from the great majority of officers in the Indian Political Department, the Public Works Department and certain other services.

(2) At the introduction of revised scales of pay as a result of the Report of the Public Services Commission, exchange compensation allowance was specifically withdrawn from other services, e.g., the Indian Civil Service and the Civil Veterinary Department. The allowance was also definitely held to be inadmissible to the Indian Medical Service at the last revision of the scale of pay.

(3) In certain other services, such as the Indian Educational Service, the Ecclesiastical Department and the Indian Audit Department, no definite pronouncement was made at the time of introduction of the revised rates of pay, as at that time the question did not immediately arise owing to the high rates of exchange then prevailing.

3. The absence of definite orders in cases falling under the third category has given rise to doubts as to the intention of Government. The whole question has therefore been considered, and the Government of India, with the approval of the Secretary of State, now desire to reaffirm the principle adopted in the past and adhered to in revisions of recent date that exchange compensation allowance should cease to be admissible to services and appointments the pay of which has recently been revised.

From the date of introduction of revised rates of pay, the allowance is therefore declared to be inadmissible to—

(i) The Indian Educational Service ;

(ii) Officers of the Indian Audit Department and the Ecclesiastical Department previously entitled to exchange compensation allowance ;

(iii) Residents in the Indian Political Department (though the pay of 1st Class Residents has remained unchanged, the pay of the service, as a whole, has been revised) ;

(iv) Officers of the Indian Police Service, except those appointed prior to 1906 who retain the right to the allowance ;

(v) Officers in all other services and special appointments in respect of whom no specific declaration of inadmissibility has been made at the time of revision of pay.

4. The terms of paragraph 3 of the Finance Department Resolution No 1559-E.A. of the 16th August 1921 will in such cases operate to safeguard officers against actual loss of emoluments.

5. The Judges of High Courts were entitled to exchange compensation allowance under the Statutory Rules set forth in Article 543 of the Civil Service Regulations, under which every Judge is allowed to draw, in addition to his salary, any exchange compensation allowance which may be sanctioned for public servants generally. As the allowance has now been generally withdrawn, the statutory rules will be amended and Judges will not be entitled to any allowance calculated on pay earned after the 1st April 1922 Any person, however, who as Chief Justice or Judge drew exchange compensation allowance before this withdrawal of the allowance from public servants generally will be protected from actual reduction of emoluments, owing to such withdrawal, by the grant of personal pay as provided in paragraph 3 of Resolution No. 1559-E.A., dated the 16th August 1921, when, and for so long as, he holds the same or a similar post on the same pay.

6. Officers serving on contract in which exchange compensation allowance forms part of the terms of the contract may retain the right to the allowance during the period of their existing engagement.

7. It has been brought to the notice of Government that in consequence of the omission to announce the withdrawal of exchange compensation allowance, audit officers have in some cases passed the allowance which has thus been drawn by officers not entitled to it under the present orders. The Government of India are, however, pleased to declare that such amount shall not be recovered, but such allowance shall cease to be drawn on pay earned after the 1st April 1922.

8. Officers who, on the 1st April 1922, are on leave and in receipt of leave salary which includes exchange compensation allowance, should continue, during leave, to draw exchange compensation allowance, instead of personal allowance in lieu thereof.

ORDERED that a copy be forwarded to the several Departments of the Government of India ; to all local Governments and Administrations ; to the Financial Adviser, Military Finance ; to the Auditor General ; to the Controller of the Currency ; to the Mint and Assay Masters, Calcutta and Bombay.

Ordered also that a copy be forwarded to the Auditor, Government of India Sanctions, for information and communication to all Accountants-General and the Comptroller, Assam; to the Deputy Accountant-General, Central Revenues, Delhi; to the Examiner of Accounts, Military Works Services; to all Chief Auditors of State Railways; to all Government Examiners of Railway Accounts; to the Examiner of Customs Accounts; to the Examiner of Press Accounts; to the Private and Military Secretaries to His Excellency the Viceroy; to the Chief Commissioner, Delhi Province; to the Audit Officers, Khyber Railway Construction, Delhi (New Capital) Railway Works Project, Bombay Development Scheme, and Indian Stores Department; to the Superintendent, Government Printing, India, Calcutta; and to the Member, Board of Inland Revenue.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

Selected candidates will also be examined in riding at such time or times as the Commissioners may appoint during the course of the probationary period.

(11) Such deductions as the Civil Service Commissioners may consider necessary will be made from the marks assigned to candidates at the Intermediate and Final Examinations in order to secure that no credit is allowed for merely superficial knowledge.

(12) The Civil Service Commissioners will prepare list of the Candidates in order of merit; the order for the one-year probationers being based on the sum of the marks obtained by the Candidates at the Open Competitive and Final Examinations; the order for the two-year probationers being based on the sum of the marks obtained by the Candidates at the Intermediate and Final Examinations.

(13) The selected candidates whose performance in the compulsory subjects of the prescribed examinations, namely, the Final Examination for one-year men and the Intermediate and Final Examinations for two-year men is such as to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners, and who have also satisfied the Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of nationality, age, health, character and conduct during the period of probation, shall be certified by the Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Indian Civil Service, provided that they shall comply with the regulation in force, at the time, for that service.

(14) If any candidate is prevented by sickness or any other adequate cause from attending the Final Examination, the Commissioners may, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State for India in Council, allow him to appear at the Final Examination to be held in the following year, or at a special examination. A selected candidate absent for such adequate cause from the Intermediate Examination may, under similar conditions, be allowed to appear at the Intermediate Examination a year later, or at a special examination, or may be excused the Intermediate Examination and allowed to appear for the Final Examination in regular course.

The above regulations will be the first regulations issued for the probation and intermediate and final examinations of selected candidates recruited by competitive examinations held in India and will also take the place of sections 16 to 27 of the Regulations previously made by the Secretary of State for India in Council for the examination of candidates for the Indian Civil Services at the Open Competition held annually in the United Kingdom.

Copies of the foregoing draft regulations may be obtained from the Secretary, Judicial and Public Department, India Office, S.W 1.

ESTABLISHMENTS.

Simla, the 3rd April 1922.

No. F.-267.—The following despatch from the Secretary of State is published for general information :—

Despatch from the Secretary of State for India, No. 5-Public, dated the 9th February 1922.

(i) Intention of a passage in the Resolution, dated 8th November, regarding premature retirement; (ii) future security of pensions.

I have recently addressed you by telegram suggesting for the consideration of Your Excellency's Government the desirability of taking early steps to remove the misapprehensions which I have reason to believe are widely entertained as to the meaning to be attached to the passage quoted in the margin* from paragraph 3 of the Resolution issued by your Government, with my approval, on the 8th November last, on the subject of the terms and conditions on which officers of certain Indian services who desired to be released from further service in consequence of the introduction of constitutional reforms may be permitted to retire prematurely on proportionate pension. It has been represented to me that this passage in the Resolution has been commonly interpreted as intended definitely to preclude any officer whose employment may hereafter be terminated prematurely either by the Secretary of State in Council under the constitution provided by the present Government of India Act, or by an Indian Dominion Government, should such be constituted by an instrument amending or repealing that Act, from claiming pensionary recognition of the services which he has rendered and compensation for their unexpected termination. And, apart from the fear that such consequences are intended in the matter of compulsory retirement, I understand that the passage is further regarded as closing the door on any hope of the renewal of an offer similar to that held out by the Resolution, even on the occurrence of further legislation to amend the Government of India Act, which may have the effect of marking a further stage towards the grant to India of Dominion status. And the combined effect of these impressions has been, apparently, to give colour to the idea that a leading motive which prompted the Secretary of State in Council and Your Excellency's Government in framing the terms and conditions embodied in the orders of 8th November was a desire to induce as many as possible of the members of the all-India services, for whose maintenance, welfare and efficiency those authorities are directly responsible, to abandon their employment at the earliest possible date.

* "All applications must reach the Local Government before the 31st March 1924, by which date officers will have had ample opportunity to appreciate the effects of the recent constitutional changes, and to arrive at a considered decision. Officers of the services specified who do not apply before that date will not be eligible for a pension on premature retirement in consequence of any constitutional developments which may subsequently take place."

2. Your Excellency's Government will, I am confident, share my deep regret that language should have been used which is capable of an interpretation so fundamentally at variance with our objects and intentions; and I trust that it is now clearly understood by the members of the services that—

(i) nothing in your Resolution has reference, directly or indirectly, to the compulsory retirement of officers whose employment it may hereafter be decided by whatever authority to terminate for whatever reason, before they have completed such service as, under ordinary regulations and expectations, carries the claim to a pension;

(ii) that when the time comes for His Majesty's Government to recommend to Parliament further legislation with the object of granting to India a larger measure of self-government, it will be the unquestionable duty of the Secretary of State in Council to consider fully the extent to which such changes affect the conditions of service of those who will be bound by them, and whether they are such as to necessitate a re-opening of opportunities for voluntary retirement on pension; that it will further be his duty to take steps to secure the enactment of such provisions to that end as may seem just and necessary; and that nothing in your Resolution was designed to absolve the Secretary of State in Council from this obligation; and

(iii) that in fact the intention of the passage in question was simply to emphasise the circumstance that the right to apply for a proportionate pension was an exceptional right conferred on the express recommendation of a Joint Select Committee of both Houses, with the implied authority of Parliament, in order to meet the conditions which have been brought about by the Act of 1919, or which may arise in the course of constitutional development under that Act; and consequently that the right was one which, once offered and exhausted, it would not be proper for the Secretary of State in Council to renew, save as the result of a similar mandate given on account of constitutional changes arising out of further Parliamentary legislation.

3. I desire, however, to take this opportunity of endeavouring to dispel other analogous anxieties which have been brought to my notice as being felt by members and ex-members, not only of the Indian services, but also of the Home Establishment of the Secretary of State in Council, as to the security of their pensions (whether in course of payment or in prospect) in the event of India's acquiring full Dominion status, or such an approximation to that status as has the effect of transferring from the Secretary of State in Council to the Legislative Assembly some portion or the whole of that measure of control over the appropriation of the revenues of India and over the services which is by the present Act and statutory rules vested in the Secretary of State in Council.

4. It would, of course, be idle for me to pretend that any declaration by myself, by the Council of India, or by His Majesty's Government as at present constituted, would have the effect of binding any future Government or Parliament as to the measures which they should respectively propose and ratify to safeguard the existing and accruing rights of persons in the Civil Service of the Crown in India whose conditions of employment may be affected by whatever further legislation Parliment may, in its wisdom, decide hereafter to enact in pursuance of the policy inaugurated by the Act of 1919. But it is evidently not generally appreciated that no change in diminution of the powers of control now exercised by the Secretary of State in Council in this regard, nor in modification of the law which now makes such pensions a statutory charge upon the revenues of India, could be effected without the fullest public discussion and by means of express Parliamentary enactment. It cannot be anticipated that His Majesty's Government and Parliament will treat lightly their obligation to ensure as an essential part of such an enactment that all pensions current at the time shall continue to be paid, that those officers whose services may have to be compulsorily terminated shall be adequately compensated, and that those who are entitled to pensions shall receive them. But in any event, I desire to place on record, with the full concurrence of my Council, my conviction that no future Secretary of State in Council of India will be found wanting in his duty of securing the fulfilment of those obligations, or will be found willing to surrender in the smallest degree the control which he exercises under the existing law, save on conditions which will adequately ensure that rights and expectations which it is now his duty to protect are fully guaranteed.

RESOLUTION.

LASCAR SEAMEN.

Simla, the 25th May 1922.

No. 2663.—The General Conference of the International Labour Organisation of the League of Nations in its session at Genoa in June 1920 framed a draft Convention for establishing facilities for finding employment for seamen. This Convention prescribed the formation of Employment Bureaux and the prohibition of private employment agencies. When the draft Convention came before the Indian Legislature in September 1921, both Houses recommended that it should not be ratified but that an immediate examination should be undertaken of the methods of recruitment of seamen at the different ports in India in order that it might be definitely ascertained whether abuses existed and whether these abuses could be remedied.

2. The Government of India accordingly determined to hold a preliminary enquiry into the conditions under which seamen are recruited at Bombay and Calcutta, the only ports in India where seamen are recruited in large numbers. The enquiry was conducted by Mr. A. G. Clow, I.C.S., Controller of the Labour Bureau in the Government of India, accompanied at each port by one representative of the shipowners and one representative of the seamen, selected by the Local Government. In accordance with Resolution No. 1208 of the 2nd March 1922, the Government of India then appointed a Committee, including two members of the Legislature in addition to the five gentlemen who took part in the preliminary enquiry, to examine the evidence so collected and to report what reforms were possible in the existing methods of recruitment. The Committee was constituted as follows :—

Mr. A. G. Clow, I.C.S., Chairman,
Sir Frank Carter, KT., C.I.E., C.B.E., M.L.A.,
Mr. N. M. Joshi, M.L.A.,
Mr. C. S. Penny,
Mr. M. Daud, M.A., B.L.,
Mr. F. L. Barnett, and Mr. Mohammad Ibrahim.

3. The Committee have presented a unanimous report in which they find that the present system under which shipping companies engage seamen through licensed brokers appointed under section 18 of Act I of 1859 or private brokers (in Calcutta sometimes known as ghat serangs) has resulted in grave abuses. After taking legal opinion, the Government of India have decided to treat as confidential the first three paragraphs of the Report which describe the existing system and the abuses to which it is liable.

4. The Committee explain that the shipping companies generally engage seamen through the brokers and pay them a commission calculated on the advances which the brokers make to the seamen on behalf of the companies. The first step in the selection of the crew is the nomination of the serangs or ghat serangs. The crew is selected later and the serangs and the butlers have naturally a considerable share in its selection. When the crew has been finally approved by the officer concerned, it is signed on the articles in the presence of the shipping master or one of his assistants. At this stage it is the duty of the brokers to give the men an advance of their pay. Immediately before the ship sails, an official medical examination is held and either as a result of this examination or from other causes, vacancies in a crew may arise at the last moment. The shipping companies depend upon the broker for the supply of men to fill these vacancies. The main functions which the brokers and ghat serangs are intended to fulfil thus include the supply of crews on demand, the payment of advances to the seamen who are engaged, and the replacement of deserters or of men rejected on medical grounds.

5. The Committee are unanimously of the opinion that this system has led to grave abuses which no mere amendment of detail would satisfactorily remove. They have come to the conclusion that it is imperative to introduce an entirely new system which does not involve the employment of intermediaries. It is clear that if the brokers and ghat serangs are no longer to be employed, arrangement must be made to carry out the duties at present entrusted to them. The Committee point out that this can only be effected by the organisation of employment bureaux. Their recommendations are contained in the paragraphs below.

6. The proposals of the Committee will be examined at once in consultation with maritime Local Governments. The Government of India desire to express their thanks to the Committee for an able and thorough examination of a difficult and important problem.

Recommendations of the Seamen's Recruitment Committee.

Genoa proposals

4. The present Committee owes its inception to the consideration by the legislature of the Draft Convention for establishing facilities for finding employment for seamen adopted by the Genoa Labour Conference in June 1920. We therefore devoted special consideration to the proposals contained in that Convention. Two alternative systems are suggested in the Convention. In one the system of employment offices is organized and maintained by representative associations of shipowners and seamen in co-operation. In the other, the system is maintained by the State. These seem to us to be the only feasible alternatives. Of the two, we regard the first alternative as, in principle, the better one. Unnecessary interference by the State with the conditions of labour in any industry is undesirable, and a system which is maintained by mutual co-operation of the parties concerned is likely to work much more smoothly than one which depends on the power of the State. At the same time, we recognize that there may be difficulties in securing the necessary co-operation. There is an organization at Calcutta containing a large proportion of men of all grades, and at Bombay the union contains nearly all the saloon crews, but in neither port are all the seamen in unions at present. We are anxious that the reforms which we hope to see introduced should not be jeopardized by the failure of either party to co-operate, and we therefore suggest that, if it proves impracticable to obtain the co-operation necessary to put the first alternative in operation, the second alternative—that of a state organization—should be adopted. At the same time, the first alternative should be set down as the ideal to be aimed at, and we trust that with the growth of healthy organizations amongst seamen and of mutual trust and good will, it will not be long before it can be brought into being.

Organisation of labour

5. The employment Bureau which we propose to set up in each centre will have at its head a single officer. We consider that he should be an officer having practical maritime experience, as recommended by the Genoa Conference, and it is desirable, also, that if possible he should have had experience of shipowners' and seamen's organizations. The success of the scheme will depend largely on his personality, and his selection will therefore be a matter of the highest importance. We consider that a considerable proportion of the present trouble in Calcutta can be traced to the fact that the supervision of recruiting has been entrusted to shipping officers who are constantly being changed and who, prior to taking up their posts, have not been working in the mercantile marine. The officer selected as head of the Bureau must have had this experience and he must be able to work sympathetically with shipowners, ships' officers and men and with the organizations of the shipowners and the men. Similar care should be exercised in the choice of his assistants.

Maintenance of registers.

6. One of the main functions of the Bureau will be the maintenance of a general register of seamen of each grade including recruits. Separate registers should be maintained for each line that so desires, and an additional register should contain the names of seamen who are not on the books of any of the lines having separate registers. It should be within the power of the Bureau to remove the name of any man from the register (e. g., in the event of serious misconduct being proved) or to suspend any man entered on the register. Such a man would then be debarred from obtaining employment in any ship. At the same time, in accordance with the principle enunciated in the Genoa Convention that "freedom of choice of ship shall be assured to seamen and freedom of choice of crew shall be assured to shipowners," it should be within the power of the shipowner (or his authorized representative) to demand the removal of any seamen's name from the register of the line concerned. Similarly any seaman should be entitled to have his name removed from the register of any line. In such cases, unless there are reasons for the contrary or unless the man's name is entered upon the register of another line by mutual arrangement, the name should be entered on the additional register. Separate registers must, of course, be maintained of types of crew that do not normally sail together.

Selection of serangs.

7. We consider that the power of selecting all seamen, including serangs, should be restricted to two classes of employees of the owners or agents, viz., the Superintendents and the Masters of the ships. The Chief Officer, Chief Engineer and Chief Purser should have the power to select serangs or butlers, subject to the approval of the Master. And we propose, as regards serangs and butler, that they should be at liberty to nominate any serang or butler who has been discharged from a ship of the same line not less than three months before. Should the officer responsible for the selection not desire to choose such a serang his choice should be made from a fair proportion of men taken from the top of the roster maintained by the Bureau for that line, i.e., from those serangs or butlers belonging to the line who have been longest out of employment. We hope by these provisions to ensure two ends—to encourage lines to give men, as far as possible, continuity of employment, and to ensure that each man on the list shall have his claims regularly considered. Where neither the shipowners, their agents, the Superintendent, nor the Master are present at the employment office (e.g., in the case of a ship at another port belonging to a firm having no agent in the port of engagement) or where they waive their right to select, the choice would devolve on the Bureau.

Selection of sukhanis.

8. In both Bombay and Calcutta, it should be possible to select the sukhanis on the system proposed above for the serangs. The work of the sukhanis renders them independent of the serang, and he need not be given a voice in their selection

Selection of crew : Calcutta.

9. The serang is, in large measure, held responsible for the work of his crew, and it is necessary therefore to ensure that he should have some say in their choice. The Calcutta crews, with the exception of the Maldivis, are not split up into self-contained groups, and there is no close attachment between the serang and his crew. It is desirable that the power of the serang to select his crew should be limited as far as possible, without compelling him to sail in command of men who will make trouble on board or discredit him. We propose to secure this by taking the crew (including the hands between the serangs and the ordinary seamen) by roster, and by allowing the serang to make reasonable objections to any particular men so taken. It may prove advisable to allow the serang to nominate one or two men more directly. The nomination or rejection would, of course, in all cases, be subject to the approval of the selecting officer. It should also be possible for men to be taken who have been discharged from ships of the same line not more than one month before. The saloon crew should be similarly chosen.

Selection of crew : Bombay.

10. The Bombay problem is more difficult. The crews, especially the deck crews, there are more closely attached to particular serangs: they frequently come from the same of neighbouring villages and from almost a family on board. We think that while the system proposed for Calcutta might be applied with advantage to the Punjabi and Pathan firemen, who stand in need of more protection than the other Bombay seamen, it would be a mistake to interfere with the power of nomination the serang at present has in respect of other crews. The approval of the selecting officer will be necessary in all cases. The system by which the butler can choose a few of his crew and the rest are taken by roster should be adopted for the saloon crews in Bombay.

Advances.

11. An important function at present discharged by the brokers and ghat serangs is the payment of advances. We considered the suggestion of dispensing with advances but came to the conclusion that this was not a possible solution.

The seamen demand and require the advances. It is clear that Government cannot act as an insurance agent and undertake the monetary risks involved in desertion. But it should not be difficult to arrange for private agencies to undertake the risk. A maximum rate of commission might be prescribed, and licenses could be granted to approved agencies to make advances at a commission not higher that the rate prescribed. The commission would be payable by the shipowners as at present. The full advance would be recoverable from the shipowners for all men who sail. Suitable agencies for the purpose would be the Seamen's Unions, co-operative societies, and respectable private individuals. The licenses would be granted by the Employment Bureau, and the advances would be paid, as at present, in the presence of the officer of the Bureau. The Bureau should afford assistance to advancing agencies to prevent the loss of advances.

Desertions.

12. Under the existing system, the brokers are responsible for getting the crew on board. If any of the crew desert it is their duty to fill vacancies. This duty will have to be undertaken by the Employment Bureau, and it will be the most difficult part of its work. We suggest that a system similar to that followed in England be adopted here, and that a certain number of spare men be sent down on the day of sailing, to fill vacancies arising suddenly from desertion or as a result of the medical examination. These men would be chosen by the head of the Bureau from the roster for that line or from the additional register, and they might receive a day's pay from the shipowners for being present, unless of course they were signed on. The men rejected at the final medical examination might also receive a day's pay. The number sent would depend entirely on the instructions of the shipowners. Cases of desertion should be carefully gone into, and "failed to join" should be entered on the continuous discharge certificate. The officer-in-charge of the Bureau should have power to suspend a deserter for a long period. Habitual offenders might be punished with removal from the registers.

Advisory committees.

13. We have given careful consideration to the question of setting up the Advisory Committees of representatives of shipowners and seamen contemplated by the Genoa Convention. We are agreed that such Committees, if they worked smoothly, would be able to perform useful functions in advising the head of the Bureau. But we are not agreed as to the advisability of introducing these Committees at an early stage. Four members of the Committee, Mr. Clow, Mr. Joshi, Mr. Daud, and Mr. Mahomed Ibrahim consider that the Committees should be set up as soon as practicable.* They would prove most useful in assisting the head of the Bureau to complete the scheme for recruitment. In our report we have dealt only with the board outlines of the scheme the details to be filled in later will be numerous and it is essential that at this stage, the head of the Bureau should be kept in close touch with both shipowners and seamen. The remaining three members, Sir Frank Carter, Mr. Penney and Mr. Barnett consider that there is a distinct danger that an Advisory Committee will result in serious friction and will hamper the head of the Bureau to such an extent that the establishment of the new system will be jeopardised. They think that the head of the Bureau should be given a free hand to set the system in operation, and Advisory Committees can be introduced at any stage when their necessity is obvious.

Penalties.

14. We consider that bribery, whether direct or indirect. to obtain employment for seamen should be regarded as a serious offence, and punishable with a considerable term of imprisonment. At present the maximum penalty is a comparatively small fine coupled with the loss of office in the case of certain persons. This most inadequate penalty, coupled with the difficulty of obtaining a conviction in cases of this type, has acted as a complete check on prosecutions. We suggest a maximum of two years' rigorous imprisonment. A heavy penalty, e.g., a fine of Rs. 1,000 should also be possible for unauthorised persons who endeavour to supply seamen to any agency other than the Employment Bureau. On the other hand, there should be complete liberty to shipowners, seamen, their representatives or their organizations to supply seamen to the Bureau. In the case of the offences referred to above, the head of the Bureau should have power to institute prosecutions on complaints or otherwise, and the cases should be treated as public prosecutions.

* I desire to make it clear that, in my opinion, it will not be practicable to set up these committees until the consent of both parties has been secured.—A. G. CLOW.

Costs. 15. No separate figures are available to show how far the fees now levied under sections 5 and 6 of Act I of 1859 meet the expenses incurred in recruitment. But we consider that these fees should be diverted towards maintenance of the Employment Bureau, which will exercise the functions at present discharged by the Shipping Office.

Other ports. 16. Inquiries have not been made in ports other than Bombay and Calcutta, and we have, in consequence, no evidence regarding conditions at the other ports of India. We have, therefore, confined our discussions to Calcutta and Bombay.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIES.

Simla, the 1st May 1922.

RESOLUTION.

The Government of India have had under consideration for some time the question of the preparation of index-numbers designed to measure the cost of living for industrial workers in India. The publication of such index-numbers in other countries was originally undertaken by statisticians who had mainly an academic interest in the subject. The great fluctuations in prices which began in 1914 and have continued since led to the use of index-numbers as a basis for the fixation of wages. For example, in Great Britain at the present time, the wages of over three millions of workers depend directly on an index-number issued monthly by the British Ministry of Labour. This use of the index-number is not free from danger, but there is little doubt that, where employers and workers can be induced to accept an index-number as a basis for a sliding scale of wages, the result is a great decrease in industrial unrest. Wages are thus regulated automatically by movements in prices, and although the correspondence can never be exact, the adjustment provided proves sufficiently accurate to remove one of the chief causes of strife.

2. In many of the strikes which have occurred in India during the last three years, and more especially in those which marked the second half of 1920, the question of the correlation of wages and prices was prominent. Workers asserted that the purchasing power of their wages had fallen, and claimed that large increases were necessary to bring their wages up to pre-war standards. Employers were ready as a rule to concede the principle that the workers should not be placed in an unfavourable position in comparison with previous years, but they disputed the assertions made by the workers, and considered that the increases they offered, or had already given, were adequate. Some employers made endeavours at their own expense to calculate the rise in the cost of living for their workers, and Government in some instances based the increases they gave to their own employees on similar investigations. But these inquiries were based on somewhat scanty material. Naturally also the results of such ad hoc investigations did not inspire the same confidence as an index-number, constructed regularly from month to month and year to year, and without reference to particular disputes, usually receives. These considerations led the Government of India to an examination of the possibility of constructing periodic index-numbers designed to measure movements in the cost of living of the industrial classes throughout India. They recognized that the index-numbers already published could not be adapted to this purpose.

3. The question was examined in detail at a conference held in Delhi in January 1921, at which the representatives of Government had the assistance of Mr F H. McLeod, C.B., formerly Director of Labour Statistics, in the Board of Trade and Chairman of the British Industrial Court, Dr. Gilbert Slater, Professor of Economics in the University of Madras, and Mr. A R. Burnett-Hurst, Professor of Economics in the Muir Central College, Allahabad. The chief difficulty in the preparation of a satisfactory scheme was the absence of any estimate of the comparative expenditure of the industrial workers on different items that could be regarded as even moderately correct. The basis for calculating such expenditure is usually furnished by the collection of budgets showing the actual expenditure for typical families from week to week, or month to month. But no budgets on which reliance could be placed were then available. An alternative method of assessing the comparative expenditure is to estimate the exports, imports and production of different commodities for a particular area, and thus arrive at the average quantity consumed by each inhabitants of that area. It will be evident that if an index-number based on the latter method is to be even approximately accurate, the average consumption for the inhabitants of the area concerned must not differ essentially from the average consumption for the particular class of inhabitants, i.e., industrial workers, to whom the index-number is designed to refer. Moreover, the only area for which it is possible to obtain statistics of exports, imports and production is India as a whole. So that an index-number for India or for any part of India constructed on these lines is open to criticism on two grounds, apart from any inherent errors in the statistics used. In the first place, it assumes that the differences between one province and another are not such as to vitiate the application of averages based on all-India figures to particular industrial centres. Secondly, it ignores differences between the mode of living of the industrial classes and that of the population of India as a whole.

4. The Government of India thus reached the conclusion that, while the method discussed above afforded the only means of constructing an index-number with the material already available, no reliance could be placed on index-numbers so constructed until they had been checked by the collection of family budgets. Local Governments were accordingly addressed in March 1921. The suggestion was then made that index-numbers should be constructed on the basis of estimates of national export, import and production, checked by an early collection of family budgets. The Government of India had the hope that it might ultimately be possible to construct an index-number which would measure, with some degree of accuracy, movements in the cost of living for the industrial classes in India. At the same time, they suggested that particular attention should be directed towards obtaining accurate statistics of retail prices. Errors in the calculation of the quantities of particular commodities entering into the construction of an index-number are of minor importance compared with errors in the prices applied to these commodities The former, unless they are very large, do not produce serious errors in the final result; the latter, if they are considerable, destroy completely the value of any index-number based upon them.

5. The proposals made by the Government of India were accepted by the majority of Local Governments, and in several important centres investigations designed to secure accurate figures of the comparative consumption of industrial workers have been set on foot. These investigations have not yet been completed, but there is reason to hope that they will furnish material which, in addition to providing a basis for the construction of index-numbers, will throw valuable light on the conditions of life and labour in centres of industry. An index-number is now regularly published in Bombay, and the Government of India hope that other provinces will be in a position, when the necessary statistics have been collected, to publish figures that will secure acceptance. Local Governments will be free to follow their own policy in this matter. The Government of India trust that, in view of the importance of the subject, the public will accord all necessary encouragement and assistance to those who have undertaken the work.

6. At the same time, the Government of India have decided that the construction of an all-India index figure should not be undertaken at the present time. As has already been mentioned, wide differences exist between province and province, and without the collection, under conditions that will secure accuracy, of a large mass of statistical matter culled from typical family budgets from every part of India, it will not be safe to assume that the averages possess the merit of reliability. Moreover, there is no doubt that an index-number constructed on the basis of a restricted area such as a province or an industrial district, where the mode of living of the community is fairly standardised, will inspire much greater confidence among employers, workers and the general public. Thus, while the preparation of an all-India figure would not be without interest, or altogether without utility to those dealing with industrial problems, the Government of India think that it will be wiser to postpone its construction at present. Accurate budgets and retail price statistics are not yet available for all parts of India. Provincial and local index-numbers have yet to establish themselves in public confidence. When the existing difficulties have disappeared and the leading Local Governments are in a position to publish index figures of recognised accuracy, it may be possible to build up on those an all-India figure that will command general support.

ORDERED that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to all Local Governments and to the Administrations noted in the margin* and to the Finance, Commerce and Revenue and Agriculture Departments of the Government of India.

SUBJECT :—Leave after attainment of the age of 55 years (Fundamental rules 56 and 86).

As it has been brought to the notice of the Government of India that some doubt has been felt as to whether, with reference to fundamental rules 56 and 86, a formal extension of service is a necessary preliminary to the grant of leave to an officer who has attained the age of 55, I am directed to say that such an extension is not necessary and that the grant of leave under rule 86 automatically carries with it the extension required.

2. I am to add that fundamental rule 86 imposes no restriction such as was contained in article 234 of the Civil Service Regulations, upon the exercise by the local Government of its discretion in granting leave.

ESTABLISHMENTS.

Simla, the 5th July 1922.

No. F.-267.—The following announcement of the Secretary of State, dated the 5th July 1922, is published for general information :—

The Secretary of State for India in Council has decided in consultation with the Government of India to make the following modifications in the orders announced in the Resolution of the Government of India of November the 8th last, relating to the conditions and terms upon which officers of the All-India Services may retire prematurely if they desire to do so in view of the change in the conditions of their employment brought about by the introduction of constitutional reforms.

1. The orders in question at present give members of the Services to which they relate who arrived in India for the first time on a date antecedent to January the 1st, 1920, an option of retiring which expires on March the 31st, 1924. The Secretary of State in Council has decided that the option, instead of expiring on March the 31st, 1924, shall continue in force and may be exercised until the action proposed to be taken on the Report of the Parliamentary Commission provided for by the Government of India Act is known, when the whole position will necessarily be reviewed.

2. It follows from this decision that the restriction that leave taken in anticipation of retirement must be completed before March the 31st, 1924, is also removed. Officers proposing to retire prematurely, provided they have submitted a definite application for permission to retire accompanied by the prescribed form of declaration, will ordinarily be allowed before their retirement takes effect to avail themselves of the full amount of leave which is due to them, and which may be granted to them at one time under the regulations for the time being in force and applicable to them otherwise than on medical certificate. A mere intimation of a possible intention to retire will not entitle an officer to have his application for leave dealt with under these rules.

An officer who has submitted an application to retire supported by a declaration and has obtained leave on the basis of it will not be permitted to cancel his application and to return to duty without the consent of his Local Government.

An officer on leave will be at liberty to submit an application to retire with the prescribed declaration and will then, unless his local Government considers his return necessary, be placed in the same position as an officer who has submitted his application in India.

3. The following form of declaration is substituted for that required by the present rules :—

"In view of the changes in the conditions of my service occasioned by the Government of India Act, 1919, I desire to retire on the terms set forth in the orders relating to premature retirement."

4. The Secretary of State in Council is prepared to permit officers retiring prematurely to take up other employment during the currency of their leave preparatory to such retirement, subject to the following conditions :—

(a) that if the proposed employment lies in India the specific consent of the Governor General in Council shall be obtained, and that if the proposed employment lies elsewhere than in India, the specific consent of the Secretary of State in Council shall be obtained ; and

(b) that a request for such permission must be accompanied by a definite request for permission to retire at the expiry of the leave.

The Governor General in Council or the Secretary of State in Council, as the case may be, will ordinarily grant permission to take up employment in these circumstances unless they consider the employment under consideration is such as could not with propriety be held by a person who is still in the service of the Crown in India, or alternately they may grant the desired permission in any such case subject to the stipulation that the acceptance of the employment in question will preclude the officer from withdrawing his request to retire and from returning to duty in India.

Even in cases where the stipulation abovementioned has not been made an officer who has been granted permission to take up such employment will not be permitted to withdraw his request for permission to retire and to return to duty in India without the specific consent of the Secretary of State in Council who will before giving such consent consult the Government of India and the local Government under which the officer was employed.

5. The Secretary of State in Council desires it to be understood that eligibility to retire on proportionate pension is not an absolute right which accrues on signature and presentation of the prescribed declaration. The Secretary of State reserves to himself the right to arrange for a combined pension under the ordinary rules on their final retirement in the case of officers who have obtained employment with his permission in other departments under the Crown or to withhold permission to retire or to permit retirement on reduced pension only, if circumstances exist which justify this course (vide article 470, Civil Service Regulations). Thus it would not be open to an officer against whom disciplinary proceedings were pending or in contemplation which might result in the reduction or the withholding of his pension to avoid such proceedings by an application for permission to retire on proportionate pension.

6. While the Secretary of State in Council reserves to himself the right to postpone the acceptance of the resignations of officers until suitable arrangements can be made for their raplacement an officer who has been granted permission to retire under these orders will only be detained in India beyond the date on which he desires leave if his detention cannot be avoided without prejudice to the public interest. Ordinarily, the local Government under which the officer is employed will intimate when forwarding his application whether it considers that the Secretary of State in Council should exercise the right reserved to himself of postponing the acceptance of his resignation and if so for what period ; but the local Government must be given discretion to determine with due regard to the public interest the date when leave granted under paragraph 2 will begin, even though the officer's resignation has been accepted by the Secretary of State.

7. The Secretary of State in Council intends as soon as possible to re-issue in the form of rules under section 96-B (2) and (3) of the Government of India Act, the orders issued on November the 8th last by the Government of India as already amended and as amended by the present announcement, and he takes this opportunity of announcing that the orders applicable to officers serving in other Provinces will apply to officers serving in Burma with effect from the date on which the notification of the Governor-General in Council dated October the 7th last constituting Burma a Governor's Province, is brought into operation.

No. F-505-I.—The following announcement by the Secretary of State dated the 5th July 1922, is published for general information :—

In continuation of the orders issued on November the 8th, 1921, regarding the premature retirement of officers of the Indian Services on proportionate pensions the Secretary of State in Council has decided that an officer awarded a proportionate pension may be permitted to commute a portion of his pension not exceeding the third of the whole, unless in the opinion of the sanctioning authority (the local Government under which the officer was last employed for an officer who draws his pension directly or indirectly from Indian Treasuries and the High Commissioner in all other cases) there are exceptional reasons for refusing sanction to the application in whole or in part. If the sanctioning authority considers that such reasons exist the case will be referred for the decision of the Secretary of State in Council.

2. An officer in Europe desirous of commuting must make application, in writing, to the High Commissioner stating his desire so to commute and furnishing information as to his age and the reasons on which he bases his request. Permission to commute in sterling will not ordinarily be granted by the High Commissioner to an officer residing only temporarily out of India. Commutation in his case will ordinarily be dealt with by the authorities in India.

3. If the High Commissioner approves the commutation, the officer will be so informed, and his application will be referred to the Medical Board at the India Office.

4. The Board will require the officer to give such information as to his health and habits as is usual in the case of persons proposing to assure their lives in assurance companies, and he will be required to submit himself for personal examination by the Board at the India Office.

5. An officer residing in a Dominion or Colony (other than those whose accounts are adjusted directly with Indian Treasuries) and desirous of commuting will be required to follow a procedure similar to that in the case of an officer residing in Europe except that he will apply to the High Commissioner through the official from whom he draws his pension. If the application is approved the officer will be informed accordingly, and a special civil medical board will be assembled under the orders of the Local Colonial Government.

The Medical Board will report in the following form :—

"We have carefully examined and are of opinion that he is (or is not) in good bodily health, and has (or has not) the prospect of an average duration of life. We therefore (or do not) recommend compliance with his application to be allowed to capitalise a portion of his pension."

In the case of impaired lives in which compliance with the officer's application is recommended, but with an addition of years of age, the following should be added :—" but as he is suffering ; his age for purposes of commutation should be taken to be years."

6. The basis of commutation, subject to an addition of years of age in the case of impaired lives, shall be the following table, the age of the officer being reckoned at the age he will attain on the birthday next succeeding the date upon which the capitalised sum will become payable :

NOTE 1.—These rates are subject to modification by the Secretary of State in Council from time to time.

NOTE 2.—In order to ensure payment at the rate shown for any specified age it is essential that an application to commute should reach the High Commissioner's office at least one month before the applicant reaches that age.

7. When the commutation has been sanctioned by the High Commissioner, the applicant will be informed accordingly, and will have the option of withdrawing his application within one week after receiving notice.

8. If the applicant does not withdraw his application within that period, the decision will be considered final, and the commutation of pension will become absolute, and payment will be made forthwith, the payment of the commuted pension thereupon ceasing.

9. The capitalised sum will be payable in India if the commutation is effected there; in all other cases it will be payable in England. When commutation of a sterling pension is effected in India by Officers residing temporarily in that country the commutation will be on the basis of the current rate of exchange, the rate adopted being the rate of exchange for telegraphic transfers from Calcutta on London on the 20th of the month preceding that in which the capitalised sum is paid.

10. The commutation of the proportionate pension of an officer who draws his pension directly or indirectly from Indian Treasuries will be governed by rules which the Government of India are issuing separately.

No. F.-505-II.—With reference to rule 10 of the rules contained in the announcement of the Secretary of State which was published in the Notification of the Government of India in this Department No. F.-505-I., dated the 5th July 1922, the rules governing the commutation of the proportionate pensions of pensioners who draw their pensions directly or indirectly from Indian Treasuries are herewith published for general information. The table for the commutation of pensions differs from the table in the Secretary of State's announcement because of the necessity of calculating it upon the basis of a life table applicable to Indian instead of to English conditions.

1. These rules apply only to pensioners drawing pensions directly or indirectly from Indian Treasuries. Other pensioners should apply to the India Office, when their applications will be considered on their merits.

NOTE.—The expression 'drawing their pensions indirectly from Indian Treasuries,' refers to case of pensioners residing in Ceylon, the Straits Settlements or the East African Protectorate and drawing their pensions from the local Treasuries, the amounts being subsequently adjusted in the books of the Accountant-General, Central Revenues.

2. Subject to the conditions stated in these rules, the local Governments are competent to sanction the commutation for a lump payment of a portion not exceeding one-third of the pension which has been or is about to be granted to any person.

3. An application for commutation submitted through an authority having power under the Memorial Rules to withhold a memorial may be withheld by such authority, if satisfied that it is not a case in which commutation should be allowed. The applicant's right of appeal will be regulated by the Memorial Rules.

4. In cases in which an applicant bases his request on circumstances which can only be verified by an authority other than the authority competent under rule 2 to sanction the commutation, the request should not be granted until the verification has been made.

5. The incidence of the commutation payment will in all cases follow that of the pension, and the commuted amount must be made payable at the treasury at which the pension is being or is to be drawn. If a pensioner who has obtained commutation of a portion of his pension transfers himself thereafter to another province, a note must be made on the Pension Payment Order as to the amount of pension which has been commuted.

6. Application for commutation shall be made in Form A appended to these rules.

7. The sanctioning authority shall satisfy itself :—

(1) That the commutation will be to the distinct and permanent advantage of the pensioner or his family.

(2) That the residue of pension which will be left after commutation is sufficient to maintain the pensioner in accordance with his station in life in retirement, due regard being had to the manner of application of the amount realised on commutation.

The sanctioning authority may also, at its discretion, require guarantees and impose such terms and safeguards as it may deem fit to ensure the prudent application of the amount payable in commutation if sanctioned.

8. (a) If on consideration of the facts stated in the application, the sanctioning authority decides to allow commutation, the applicant should be required to produce a certificate as to his expectation of life, from a medical officer who should be of not lower standing than a Civil Surgeon, District Medical Officer or Presidency Surgeon. The sanctioning authority may further, at its discretion, require a second medical opinion or direct the applicant to appear before a Medical Board.

(b) The certifying Surgeon or Board shall subject the applicant to a strict medical examination, requiring him to give such information as to his health and habits as is usual in the case of persons proposing to assure their lives in assurance companies, and will report in the following form :—

$\frac{I}{We}$ have carefully examined......................and $\frac{am}{are}$ of opinion that he $\frac{is}{is\ not}$ in good bodily health and $\frac{has}{has\ not}$ the prospect of an average duration of life.

$\frac{I}{We}$ therefore, $\frac{do}{do\ not}$ recommend compliance with his application to be allowed to capitalise a portion of his pension.

In the case of impaired lives in which compliance with the officer's application is recommended, but with an addition of years of age, the following should be added :

"but as he is suffering from............... his age, for purposes of commutation, should be taken to be......years."

(c) The applicant should himself pay the medical officer's fee for examination except when a second medical opinion is required or the applicant is directed to appear before a Medical Board, in which case the examination will be made free of charge by medical officers at the request of the authority indicated in rule 2.

9. The lump sum payable on commutation will be the amount certified by the Audit Officer to be admissible according to the table of present values appended to these rules. This amount may be intimated, at the discretion of the sanctioning authority, to the applicant for definite acceptance or rejection, within a specified period before final sanction to commutation issues.

10. Commutation, when sanctioned, shall take effect from a date, to be named in the order, which should ordinarily be about one month later than the date of the order; and all calculations shall be made with reference to that date. Payment of the commuted portion of the pension will cease from the date specified and the sum payable on commutation will be paid on that date or as soon afterwards as possible.

Note.—In special cases the sanctioning authority may sanction the commutation with effect from an earlier date than that mentioned in this rule not preceding the date of the sanction, all calculations being made with reference to such earlier date.

11. A commutation once applied for, sanctioned, and given effect to cannot be rescinded, i.e., the portion of a pension commuted cannot be restored on refund of its capitalised value.

12. If a pensioner whose pension has been commuted dies on or after the date from which the commutation is to take effect under rule 10 but before he receives the commutation value this value is payable to his heirs.

15 In the case of a pensioner who is re-employed in Government service or in the service of a Local Fund and who commutes a portion of his pension before or after such re-employment, the amount which the pensioner is entitled to draw under the rules in Chapter XXI of the Civil Service Regulations shall be the amount to which he would have been entitled under those rules had there been no commutation, less the amount commuted.

Simla, the 31st July 1922.

No. A.-73.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 37 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (IX of 1910), and in supersession of the Indian Electricity Rules, 1911, the Governor General in Council is pleased to make the following rules applicable to the whole of British India, to regulate the generation, transmission, supply, and use of energy, and generally to carry out the purposes and objects of the said Act.

RULES.

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

Definitions. 2. In these rules, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "the Act" means the Indian Electricity Act, 1910; IX of 1910.

(b) "ampere" means a unit of electric current, and is the unvarying electric current which, when passed through a solution of nitrate of silver in water, in accordance with the specification set out in Annexure I to these rules, deposits silver at the rate of 0·001118 of a gramme per second;

such aforesaid unit is represented by the current which is passing in and through the coils of wire forming part of the instrument marked "Government of India Ampere Standard verified" when the suspended coil in its sighted position is exactly balanced by the force exerted by gravity in Calcutta on the iridio-platinum weight marked "A" forming part of the said instrument;

(c) "apparatus" means electrical apparatus, and includes all apparatus, machines, and fittings in which conductors are used, or of which they form a part;

(d) "authorised person" means a person authorised in writing by a licensee, a consumer or an owner, or by the owner, agent or manager of a mine, or by the agent of any company operating in an oil-field or by the owner of a drilled well in an oil-field or by a contractor for the time being under contract with a licensee, a consumer or an owner to carry out duties incidental to the generation, transformation, distribution or use of energy such person being competent for the purposes of the rule in which the term is used;

(e) "bare" means not covered with insulating material;

(f) "circuit" means an electrical circuit forming a system or branch of a system;

(g) "concentric system" means a system in which a conductor, called the inner conductor, is insulated and in which the circuit is completed through one or more conductors, called the outer conductors, which are insulated from one another and are disposed over the insulation of, and more or less completely round, the inner conductor;

CONDITIONS OF SUPPLY BY LICENSEE.

Precautions against leakage before connection.

23. (1) A licensee shall not connect the conductors and fittings on a consumer's premises with his works unless he is reasonably satisfied that the connection will not, at the time of making the connection, cause a leakage from those conductors and fittings exceeding one five-thousandth part of the maximum supply demanded on the consumer's premises.

(2) Where a licensee declines to make a connection, in accordance with sub-rule (1), he shall serve upon the consumer a notice stating his reason for so declining.

Leakage on consumer's premises.

24. (1) If at any time a licensee has reasons to believe that a leakage, likely injuriously to affect the use of energy by the licensee or by other persons, exists in the premises of a consumer, then the licensee may give the consumer reasonable notice in writing, that he desires to inspect and test such wires and fittings beloning to the consumer as form part of the circuit.

(2) If the consumer does not give all reasonable facilities for inspection and testing, or if a leakage from the consumer's conductors exceeding one five-thousandth part of the maximum supply demanded on the premises is discovered, the licensee may forthwith discontinue the supply of energy to the premises in question, giving immediate notice of the discontinuance to the consumer, and need not recommence the supply until the cause of the leakage has been removed.

Appeal to Electric Inspector in regard to leakage.

25. (1) Where a consumer is dissatisfied with the action of a licensee under rule 23 or rule 24 in refusing or in discontinuing, or in not recommencing the supply of energy to his premises, the conductors and fittings of such consumer shall, on his application and on payment of the prescribed fee, be tested for the existence of leakage by an Electric Inspector or other officer appointed to assist an Electric Inspector.

(2) Any such test as is referred to in sub-rule (1) shall be carried out within forty-eight hours of the application to make the same or of the payment of the prescribed fee, whichever is later.

(3) If the Electric Inspector or other officer, as aforesaid, on testing finds that the leakage from the consumer's conductors is less than one five-thousandth part of the maximum supply demanded on the premises, the Electric Inspector shall notify the licensee, and the licensee shall, within twenty-four hours, commence or continue the supply of energy :

Provided that in this case the licensee shall refund the amount of the prescribed fee to the consumer.

(4) This rule shall be endorsed on every notice given under the provisions of rule 23 or rule 24.

Declared pressure of supply to consumers.

26. Before commencing to supply energy to a consumer, a licensee shall declare to the consumer the pressure at which he undertakes to give the supply ; and the pressure shall not, without the written consent of the consumer or the previous sanction of the Local Government, vary therefrom by more than 5 per cent. in the case of low or medium pressure, or by more than 12½ per cent. in the case of high pressure.

Declared frequency of supply to consumers.

27. Before commencing to supply energy to a consumer by means of an alternating current, a licensee shall declare to the consumer the frequency at which he undertakes to give the supply ; and the frequency shall not, without the written consent of the consumer or the previous sanction of the Local Government, vary therefrom by more than 4 per cent.

Examination of licensee's records by consumer.

28. A consumer may, after giving not less than twenty-four hours' notice to the licensee, enter any testing station established by the licensee, in accordance with clause XIII of the Schedule to the Act, and may examine the records of the tests made therein ; and he may also take copies of or extracts from such records on payment to the licensee of a sum of one rupee for every such examination of a record covering a period of twenty-four hours or any part of twenty-four hours.

29. A licensee may affix a seal to any meter, maximum-demand indicator, or other apparatus placed upon a consumer's premises in accordance with section 26 of the Act, and to any cut-out placed upon a consumer's premises in accordance with rule 38, and no person shall break such seal without giving the licensee, and where the meter is the property of the consumer, the consumer also, not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing.

Sealing of meters.

Protection from lightning.

37. A licensee shall be responsible that all electric supply-lines, fittings and apparatus belonging to him, or under his control, which may be on a consumer's premises, are maintained in a safe condition, and shall take all due precautions to avoid risk of causing fire on such premises by reason of his electric supply-lines, fittings or apparatus or any defect therein.

Responsibility of licensee for his work on consumer's premises.

38. A licensee shall insert a suitable cut-out in each service-line (other than an earthed neutral conductor or the earthed external conductor of a concentric cable) within a consumer's premises, in an accessible position as close as possible to the point of entry. Such cut-out shall be contained within an adequately enclosed fire-proof receptacle:

Cut-out on consumer's premises.

Provided that, where more than one consumer is supplied through a common service-line, each individual consumer (if he so requires) shall be given an independent cut-out at the point of junction to the common service.

39. The following provisions shall apply to service-lines and any apparatus in connection therewith on a consumer's premises, viz. :—

Service-line on consumer's premises.

(1) All such lines, being underground lines, and all apparatus in connection therewith placed by a licensee shall be so insulated and protected as to be secure under all ordinary conditions against electrical, mechanical, chemical, or other injury to the insulation, and against access of moisture.

(2) From the point where any service-line enters a building, or becomes accessible without the aid of a ladder or other special appliance, such line and all apparatus in connection therewith, shall be insulated and protected in the manner prescribed by sub-rule (1).

(3) Any metal forming part of the electric circuit of any such line shall not, unless connected with earth, be exposed so that it can be touched.

Precautions to be adopted by owners.

40. When an owner generates or uses energy—

(1) where bare conductors are used in a building, they shall be inaccessible without the aid of a ladder or other special appliance and shall have switches provided for rendering them dead whenever necessary;

(2) no repair of any part of any electrical apparatus shall be effected while the part is charged to a pressure exceeding low pressure, except by an authorised person;

(4) trailing cables for portable motors shall be specially flexible, heavily insulated and protected from mechanical injury; where the protection is by means of metallic covering, the covering shall be in metallic connection with the frame of the motor.

Electric supply-lines and apparatus.

41. Every electric supply-line shall be maintained in a safe condition, as regards both electrical and mechanical conditions, by the person to whom the same belongs.

Maintenance.

42. All circuits and apparatus shall be so arranged by the person to whom the same belong that there shall be no danger of any part thereof becoming accidentally charged to any pressure beyond the limits of pressure for which it is intended.

Crossing metallic substances.

43. Where an electric supply-line crosses, or is in proximity to, any metallic substance, such precautions as an Electric Inspector may approve shall be taken by the licensee or the owner, as the case may be, against the possibility of the metallic substance becoming charged :

Provided that, where the electric supply-line was laid or erected previous to such metallic substance, the cost incurred in taking such precautions shall be refunded to the licensee or owner, as the case may be by the person to whom the metallic substance belongs.

Cut-out.

44. Every electric supply-line (other than the earthed neutral conductor of any system or the earthed external conductor of a concentric cable) shall be protected, by the person to whom the same belongs, by a suitable cut-out.

(a) the connection with earth of the neutral conductor shall be made at one point only on each distinct system, namely, at the generating station or sub-station, or both, as the case may be, and the insulation of the system shall be maitained at all other parts;

(b) the current from the neutral conductor to earth shall, in the case of a licensee's direct current-distributing system, be continuously recorded, and, if at any time it exceeds one-thousandth part of the maximum supply current, steps shall immediately be taken to improve the insulation of the system ;

(c) the connection with earth referred to in clause (a) of rule 48 shall not be made by the aid of, nor shall it be in contact with any water-main, gas-main or similar main not belonging to the licensee or owner, as the case may be, except with the consent of the owner thereof and of the Electric Inspector; a resistance, not exceeding 20 ohms, may be inserted between the neutral bus-bar and earth, and, if so inserted, it shall be of sufficient cross-sectional area to carry the current which would pass should an outer or phase conductor become accidentally connected with earth ;

(d) the connection with earth shall not be remeved except for the purpose of testing, in which case it shall be made good again as soon as such test is finished, and a record of any such disconnection shall be kept by the licensee or owner, as the case may be:

52. Where the conductors of a multi-wire system, between any of which there is medium or high pressure, are brought into a building for utilization at low pressure, the supply shall be delivered to two or more pairs of terminals, and the wiring from those terminals shall be kept separate and distinct. If in any such case two or more switches, terminals or cut-outs, between any of which there is a difference of pressure exceeding 250 volts, are fitted within reach of one another, all their live parts shall be accessible only to authorised persons.

Test of insulation of high pressure circuit.

56. (1) A high pressure circuit, other than an aerial line, shall not be brought into use unless the insulation of every part thereof has withstood the continuous application, during one minute, in the case of every electric supply-line, machine, device or apparatus, of a pressure 100 per cent. greater than the maximum pressure to which it is intended to be subjected in use; and the licensee or owner, as the case may be, shall duly record the results of each test and shall forward the result to an Electric Inspector:

Provided, first, that the testing pressure shall in no case be less than 2,000 volts:

Provided, secondly, that an Electric Inspector may, if he thinks fit, accept the manufacturer's certified tests as complying with this rule:

(1) (a) Where an aërial line crosses or is in proximity to (i) any telegraph wire, or (ii) an aërial line belonging to some other person, the licensee or owner (as the case may be) shall ensure that his aërial line is so protected as to guard against the possibility of it coming into contact with the telegraph wire or other aërial line.

(b) Within twenty-one days of receiving notice that a new telegraph wire or aërial line is, or is about to be, erected in proximity to his aërial line, the licensee or owner (as the case may be) shall effect the protection referred to in clause (a).

(c) Where the licensee or owner (as the case may be) erects a new aërial line in proximity to any telegraph wire, or to any aërial line not belonging to him, he shall not bring the same into use until he has complied with clause (a).

(d) In all cases referred to in the proceding sub-rules the protection shall be carried out at the expense of the person whose line is last erected and to the satisfaction of the Electric Inspector.

(e) Where lines cross each other, the crossing shall be made in a direction as nearly at right angles as the nature of the case admits.

(f) All guarding arrangements should ordinarily be erected on the posts of the owners or licensees who shall, in that case, be responsible for their efficient maintenance.

(2) Unless the appratus is so constructed, protected, and worked as to obviate the risk of fire, no inflammable material shall be used in the construction of any room, compartment, or box containing apparatus, or in the construction of any of the fittings therein. Each such room, compartment, or box shall be substantially constructed and shall be kept dry.

Method of earthing.

91. (1) All apparatus and conductors shall be sufficient in power and size and of sufficient mechanical strength, for the work they may be required to do, and so constructed, installed, protected, worked and maintained as to prevent danger so far as is reasonably practicable. The exposure of live parts shall be avoided.

Construction and insulation of apparatus, and earthing of same.

(2) All insulating material shall be chosen with special regard to the circumstances of its proposed use. It shall be of mechanical strength sufficient for its purpose, and, so far as is practicable, it shall be of such a character or so protected as fully to maintain its insulating properties under working conditions of temperature and moisture.

(1) All metallic sheaths, coverings, handles joint-boxes, switch-gear frames, instrument covers, switch and fuse covers and boxes, and all lampholders, unless efficiently protected by an earthed or insulating covering made of fire-resisting material, and the frames and bedplates of generators, transformers, and motors (including portable motors), shall be earthed by connection to an earthing system in the manner prescribed in rule 90.

Earthing metal, etc.

(2) Where the cables are provided with a metallic covering constructed and installed in accordance with rule 96 (d), such metallic covering may be used as a means of connection to the earthing system. All the conductors of an earthing system shall have a conductivity at all parts and at all joints at least equal to 50 per cent. of that of the largest conductor used solely to supply the apparatus a part of which it is desired to earth :

Provided that no conductor of an earthing system shall have a cross-sectional area of less than ·022 of a square inch.

(3) All joints in earth conductors and all joints to the metallic covering of the cables shall be properly soldered or otherwise efficiently made. No switch, fuse, or circuit-breaker shall be placed in any earth conductor

(4) This rule shall not apply (except in the case of portable apparatus) to any system in a mine in which the pressure does not exceed low-pressure direct current or 125 volts alternating-current.

93. (1) Where energy is distributed at a pressure higher than medium pressure (i) it shall not be used without transformation to medium or low pressure except in fixed machines in which the high pressure parts are stationary; and (ii) portable motors under 20 H. P. shall be supplied through a transformer stepping down to medium or low pressure.

(2) Where energy is transformed, suitable provision shall be made to guard against danger by reason of the lower pressure apparatus becoming accidentally charged above its normal pressure by leakage from, or contact with, the higher pressure apparatus.

94. Switch-gear and all terminals, cable-ends, cable-joints and connections of apparatus shall be totally enclosed, and constructed and installed so that—

Switch-gear and terminals.

(i) all parts shall be of mechanical strength sufficient to resist rough usage ;

(ii) all conductors and contact areas shall be of ample current-carrying capacity and all joints in conductors shall be properly soldered or otherwise efficiently made ;

(iii) the lodgment of any matter likely to diminish the insulation, or affect the working or any switch-gear shall be prevented ;

(iv) all live parts shall be so protected or enclosed as to prevent persons accidentally coming into contact with them and danger from arcs, short-circuits, fire, water, gas or oil ;

(v) where there may be risk of igniting gas, coal-dust, oil or other inflammable material, all parts shall be so protected as to prevent open sparking ;

(vi) every switch or circuit-breaker shall be capable of opening the circuit it controls, without danger, on any short circuit with which it may have to deal.

95. (1) Properly constructed switch-gear for cutting off the supply of energy to the mine or oil-field shall be provided at the surface of the mine or oil-field at a point approved by an Electric Inspector, or, in the case of the Burma oil-fields, by the Warden of the oil-fields; and during the time any cable is live a person authorised to operate the said switch-gear shall be available within easy reach thereof.

Cutting off supply.

(2) Efficient means, suitably placed, shall be provided for cutting off all pressure from every part of a system, when necessary to prevent danger.

(3) Such efficient means shall be provided for cutting off all pressure automatically from the part or parts of the system affected in the event of a fault as may, in the opinion of an Electric Inspector, be necessary to prevent danger.

(4) Every motor shall be controlled by switch-gear for starting and stopping, so arranged as to cut off all pressure from the motor and from all apparatus in connection therewith, and so placed as to be easily worked by the person appointed to work the motor.

(5) If a concentric system is used, no switch, fuse, or circuit-breaker, shall be placed in the outer conductor, or in any conductor, connected thereto except that, if required, a reversing switch may be inserted in the outer conductor at the place where the energy is being used:

Provided that subject to the connection of the outer conductor with the earthing system being maintained, switches, fuses of circuit-breakers may be used to break the connection with the generators or transformers supplying the energy.

96. All cables in mines, other than flexible cables for portable apparatus, shall comply with the following requirements:—

Cables in mines.

(a) They shall be covered with insulating material (except that the outer conductor of a concentric system may be bare). They shall be efficiently protected from mechanical damage and supported at sufficiently frequent intervals and in such a manner as adequately to prevent danger or damage to the cables.

(b) (i) Except as provided in clause (c) or, with the consent in writing of an Electric Inspector and subject to the provisions of clause (f) and to such further conditions as the Electric Inspector may impose, no cables other than concentric cables, or two-core cables or multicore cables protected by a metallic covering, or single-core cables which contain all the conductors of the circuit, shall be used where the pressure exceeds low pressure continuous current or 125 volts alternating-current.

(ii) The lead sheath of lead-sheathed cables and the iron or steel armouring of armoured cables respectively shall be of a thickness not less than that recommended from time to time by the British Engineering Standards Association.

(c) Where the medium-pressure direct-current system is used two single-core cables may be used for any circuit, if their metallic coverings are bonded together by earth conductors so placed that the distance between any two consecutive bonds is not greater than 100 feet measured along either cable.

(d) The metallic covering of every cable shall be (i) electrically continuous throughout; (ii) earthed, if it is required by sub-rule (1) of rule 92 to be earthed, by a connection to the earthing system of not less conductivity than the same length of the said metallic covering; (iii) efficiently protected against corrosion where necessary; (iv) of a conductivity at all parts and at all joints at least equal to 50 per cent. of the conductivity of the largest conductor enclosed by the said metallic covering; and (v) where there may be risk of igniting gas, coal-dust, or other inflammable material, so constructed as to prevent as far as is practicable the occurrence of open sparking as the result of any fault or leakage from live conductors.

Provided that where two single-core cables protected by metallic covering bonded together in accordance with clause (c) of this rule are used for a circuit, the conductivity of each of the said metallic coverings at all parts and at all joints shall be at least equal to 25 per cent. of the conductivity of the conductor enclosed thereby.

(e) Cables and conductors where joined up to motors, transformers switch-gear and other apparatus, shall be installed so that (i) they are mechanically protected by securely attaching the metallic covering to the apparatus; and (ii) the insulating material at each cable and is efficiently sealed so as to prevent the diminution of its insulating properties. Where necessary to prevent abrasion or to secure gas-tightness, there shall be properly constructed glands or bushes.

(f) Unarmoured cables or conductors used with the consent of an Electric Inspector as provided in sub-clause (i) of clause (b) shall be either conveyed in pipes or casings or suspended from efficient insulators by means of some non-conducting material which will not cut the covering and which will prevent contact with any timbering or metal work.

Flexible cable.

97. (1) Flexible cables for portable apparatus shall be two-core or multicore and covered with insulating material which shall be efficiently protected from mechanical damage. If a flexible metallic covering be used either as the outer conductor of a concentric system or as a means of protection from mechanical damage the same shall not be used by itself to form an earth conductor for the portable apparatus, but it may be used for that purpose in conjunction with an earthing core or other earthing wire.

(2) Every flexible cable for portable apparatus shall be connected to the system and to the portable apparatus itself by a properly constructed connector.

(3) At every point where flexible cables are joined to main cables a switch capable of entirely cutting off the pressure from the flexible cables shall be provided.

(4) No lampholder shall be in metallic connection with the guard or other metal work of a portable lamp.

Supervision and sundry precautions.

98. (1) An electrician shall be appointed in writing by the owner, agent or manager of the mine or by the agent or the owner of one or more wells in an oil-field to supervise the apparatus. If necessary for the proper fulfilment of the duties detailed in this rule, one or more assistants to the electrician shall be appointed by the aforesaid authority.

(2) Every person appointed to work, supervise, examine, or adjust any apparatus shall be competent for the work that he is set to do. No person except the electrician, or a competent person acting under his supervision, shall undertake any work where, in order adequately to avoid danger, technical knowledge or experience is required.

(3) The electrician shall be responsible for the proper performance by himself or by an assistant appointed under sub-rule (1) of the following duties, namely:—

(i) the thorough examination of all apparatus (including the testing of earth conductors and metallic coverings for continuity) as often as may be necessary to prevent danger; and

(ii) The examination and testing of all new apparatus, and of all apparatus re-erected in the mine before it is put into service in a new position:

Provided that in the absence of the electrician for more than three days, the owner, agent or manager of the mine or the agent or owner of one or more oil-wells in an oil-field shall appoint in writing an efficient substitute.

(4) The electrician shall keep at the mine or oil-field a log-book made up of daily log-sheets kept in the forms set out, respectively for mines and oil-fields, in Annexure X to these rules. The said log-book shall be produced at any time on request to an Inspector of Mines or an Electric Inspector.

(5) Should there be a fault in any circuit, the part affected shall be made dead without delay and shall remain so until the fault has been remedied.

(6) For the prevention of danger all apparatus shall be kept clear of obstruction and free from dust, dirt and moisture. Inflammable or explosive material shall not be stored in any room, compartment, or box containing apparatus, or in the vicinity of apparatus.

(7) Before any conductor or apparatus is handled, adequate precautions shall be taken, by earthing or other suitable means, to discharge electrically such conductor or apparatus, and any adjacent conductor or apparatus, if there is danger therefrom, and to prevent any conductor or apparatus from being accidentally or inadvertently electrically charged when persons are working thereon. While lamps are being changed the pressure shall be cut off.

Provided that this sub-rule shall not apply to the cleaning of commutators and slip-rings working at low or medium pressures.

(8) The person authorised to work an electrically-driven coal-cutter or other portable machine shall not leave the machine while it is working, and shall, before leaving the place where such machine is working ensure that the pressure is cut off from the flexible trailing-cable which supplies such machine. Trailing-cables shall not be dragged along by the machine when working.

(9) Every flexible cable shall be examined periodically by the person authorised to work the machine, and, if such cable is used with a portable machine, he shall examine it at least once in each shift. If such cable is found to be damaged or defective, it shall forthwith be replaced by a spare cable in good and substantial repair. No damaged or defective cable shall be further used underground until it has been properly repaired.

Precautions where gas exists.

99. (1) In any part of a mine or oil-field or in any working approaching such part, in which inflammable gas or vapour, although not normally present, is likely to occur in quantity sufficient to be indicative of danger, the following additional requirements shall be satisfied as regards all apparatus, including such apparatus as is working at low pressure :—

(a) All cables, apparatus, signalling wires and signalling instruments shall be constructed, installed, protected, worked and maintained, so that in the normal working thereof there shall be no risk of open sparking.

(b) All motors shall be constructed, so that, when any part is live, all rubbing contacts (such as commutators and slip-rings) are so arranged or enclosed as to prevent open sparking.

(c) The pressure shall be switched off the apparatus forthwith if open sparking occurs, and during the whole time that examination or adjustment disclosing parts liable to open sparking is being made. The pressure shall not be switched on again until the apparatus has been examined by the electrician or one of his duly appointed assistants and the defect (if any) has been remedied or the adjustment made.

(d) Every electric lamp shall be enclosed in an air-tight fitting, and the lamp globe itself shall be hermetically sealed.

(e) A safety lamp shall be provided and kept continually burning near each motor when working and, should the appearance of the flame of such safety lamp indicate the presence of inflammable gas, all pressure shall immediately be cut off from apparatus in the vicinity thereof and the matter shall be reported forthwith to an official of the mine.

(2) If at any time in any place in such mine the percentage of inflammable gas in the general body of the air is found to exceed one and a quarter, the supply of energy shall at once be cut off from all cables and apparatus in that place and shall not be recontinued so long as the percentage of inflammable gas exceeds that amount.

Shot-firing and signalling in mines.

100. (1) Where shot-firing is being carried on in any mine—

(a) Temporary precautions shall be taken to protect conductors and apparatus from injury.

(b) Current from lighting or power circuits shall not be used for firing shots.

(c) Shot-firing cables shall be covered and protected as provided by rule 97 for flexible cables. Adequate precautions shall be taken to prevent them from touching other cables and apparatus.

(2) Where electrical signalling is used in any mine—

(a) Adequate precautions shall be taken to prevent signal and telephone wires from touching cables and other apparatus.

(b) The pressure used in any one circuit shall not exceed 15 volts.

(c) Contact-makers shall be so constructed as to prevent the accidental closing of the circuit.

101. Haulage by electric locomotives on the overhead trolley-wire system, at pressures not exceeding medium and haulage by storage battery locomotive, may be used in any mine or oil-field, with the consent in writing first obtained of an Electric Inspector in all cases, and subject to such conditions affecting safety as may be made by him.

Haulage in mines.

102. (1) The provisions of rules 85 to 100, both inclusive, shall not apply in any case in which exemption is obtained on such conditions as he may prescribe from an Electric Inspector, or, in the case of the Burma oil-fields, from the Warden of the oil-fields, on the ground either of emergency or special circumstances.

Exemptions.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in these rules, any electrical plant or apparatus installed, or in use, in any mine before the 23rd December, 1910, or in any oil-field before the coming into force of these rules, may be continued in use unless an Electric Inspector, after consulting the Chief Inspector of Mines, or, in the case of the Burma oil-fields, the Warden of the oil-fields, as the case may be, shall otherwise direct, but subject to any conditions affecting safety that such Electric Inspector may impose.

Relaxation of Rules.

103. The local Government may, by order in writing, direct that any of the provisions of rules 36 to 102, both inclusive, be relaxed in any particular case to such extent and subject to such conditions (if any) as it may think reasonable and proper in the circumstances.

By Local Government.

104. (1) An Electric Inspector may, by order in writing, direct that rules 35, 46, 53, 56 (1), 59, 60, 61, 62 (1) and 63, be relaxed in any particular case to such extent and subject to such conditions (if any) as he may think reasonable and proper in the circumstances.

By Electric Inspector.

(2) Where the pressure on any system does not exceed 125 volts an Electric Inspector may, by order in writing, direct that any of the provisions of rules 36 to 40, both inclusive, and 47 to 99, both inclusive, be relaxed as regards such system to such extent and subject to such conditions as he may think fit.

(3) Every relaxation so directed shall be reported forthwith to, and shall be subject to disallowance or revision by, the Local Government.

The code time (i.e., the time of receipt of the radio-telegram at the coast station) will also be inserted, and this, together with the service instructions, the date and time of handing in, and the number of words signalled by the ship will be transmitted.

Charges for Radio-telegrams.

9. The charge for a radio-telegram must in every case be prepaid by the sender.

10. The coast-station charge and the ship-station charge are notified in the International List of Radio-telegraph Stations"; and such charges as are fixed from time to time as far as British India is concerned, are published in the Post and Telegraph Guide.

(ii) any person convicted of an offence punishable under Chapter XVI of the Indian Penal Code, whose previous conviction or convictions, taken in conjunction with the facts of the present case, show that he habitually commits offences against the person ;

(iii) any person committed to or detained in prison under section 123 (read with section 109 or section 110) of the Code of Criminal Procedure ;

(iv) any person convicted of any of the offences specified in (i) above when it appears from the facts of the case, even although no previous conviction has been proved, that he is by habit a member of a gang of dacoits, or of thieves, or a dealer in slaves or in stolen property ;

(v) any member of a criminal tribe, subject to the discretion of the local Government concerned ;

(vi) any person convicted of an offence and sentenced to imprisonment under the corresponding sections of the Indian Penal Code and the Code of Criminal Procedure as applied by order under the Indian (Foreign Jurisdiction) Order in Council, 1902, or by the authority of any Prince or State in India ;

(vii) any person convicted by a court or tribunal acting outside India under the general or special authority of His Majesty of an offence which would have rendered him liable to be classified as a habitual criminal if he had been convicted in a court established in British India.

Explanation.— For the purposes of this definition the word "conviction" shall include an order made under section 118, read with section 110, of the Criminal Procedure Code.

II.—The classification of a convicted person as a habitual criminal should ordinarily be made by the convicting court, but if the convicting court omits to do so, such classification may be made by the District Magistrate, or, in the absence of an order by the convicting court or District Magistrate, and pending the result of a reference to the District Magistrate, by the officer in charge of the jail where such convicted person is confined :

Provided that any person classed as a habitual criminal may apply for a revision of the order.

III.—The convicting court or the District Magistrate may, for reasons to be recorded in writing, direct that any convicted person or any person committed to or detained in prison under section 123, read with section 109 or section 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, shall not be classed as a habitual criminal and may revise such direction.

IV.—Convicting courts or District Magistrates as the case may be, may revise their own classifications, and the District Magistrate may alter any classification of a prisoner made by a convicting court or any other authority, provided that the alteration is made on the basis of facts which were not before such court or authority.

NOTE.—The expression "District Magistrate" wherever it occurs in paragraphs II, III and IV above means the District Magistrate of the district in which the criminal was convicted, committed or detained. The expression includes a Presidency Magistrate.

V.—Every habitual criminal shall as far as possible be confined in a special jail in which no prisoner other than habitual criminals shall be kept :

Provided that the Inspector-General of Prisons may transfer to this special jail any prisoner, not being a habitual criminal, whom, for reasons to be recorded in writing, he believes to be of so vicious or depraved a character and to exercise, or to be likely to exercise, so evil an influence on his fellow prisoners that he ought not to be confined with other non-habitual prisoners, but a prisoner so transferred shall not otherwise be subject to the special rules affecting habitual criminals.

ORDER.—Ordered that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India and that a copy be forwarded to local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance.

ESTABLISHMENTS.

Simla, the 23rd September 1922.

No. F.-67-III-Ests.—The following announcement by the Secretary of State, dated the 23rd September 1922, is published for general information :—

The Royal Commission on the Public Services in India, who considered inter alia the pensionary conditions of the various civil services of the Government of India, recommended that the 4 per cent. deductions made from the pay and certain other emoluments of members of the Indian Civil Service as a contribution towards their annuity of £1,000 a year on retirement, should be funded for the benefit of the individual officers, subject to the proviso that the concession should not operate retrospectively in respect of deductions already made. This recommendation was approved by the Secretary of State in Council, with effect from the 1st April 1919. The deductions made from that date have accordingly been set aside in a Provident Fund, the accumulations in which, with compound interest, will be handed over to the officer on retirement, or to his legal representatives if he should die before retirement. No alteration has been made in the annuity itself, and an officer entering the service on or after the date mentioned will receive his annuity entirely at the expense of the State.

2. Since the decision was announced various memorials have been received by the Government of India and the Secretary of State praying for some extension of this 'funding concession' so as,—

(1) to allow of somewhat larger benefits than are admissible under it to officers who entered the service before 1st April 1919 and who will therefore have contributed in varying degrees to their annuities, and

(2) to secure some benefit to officers who had actually retired before that date. It was pointed out that whereas under the recommendations of the Public Services Commission members of other civil services in India who retired after the 23rd July 1913 were permitted as from 1st April 1919 to draw the full enhanced pensions sanctioned for those services, members of the Indian Civil Service received less favourable treatment in two respects :—

Firstly, those who retired between 1913 and 1919 received no benefit ;

Secondly, those who retired in years immediately following 1919 would receive only the small sums resulting from their pay as from April of that year while the full benefit of the change would accrue only to those who entered the service after that date.

The Secretary of State in Council has now been pleased to sanction refunds to the following extent of the individual contributions towards annuity made by members of the service before the 1st April 1919 when the funding concession came into effect, viz.:—

A. Officers who retired at any date from 24th July 1913 to 31st March 1919 inclusive, to receive a grant of £500, officers who retired in 1919-20 to receive a refund of £480, and so on, the amount being reduced by £20 with each year until 1943-44, in which year officers retiring would receive nothing.

B. In the case of invalid and proportionate pensioners, the refunds specified in A will be proportionately reduced.

C. The cases of officers who have already retired or who may hereafter be retired on reduced annuities will be individually considered on their merits.

D. In the case of officers who have retired and died since 23rd July 1913 payment of the sums which would have been admissible to the officers if now living will be made to the legal representatives.

E. In the event of an officer who was in the service on the 24th July 1913, or who entered it between that date and 31st March 1919, inclusive, having died or dying before retirement, payment will be made to his legal representatives of any refund which would have been admissible to him under the terms of this announcement if he had been invalided at the date when his death occurred.

F. The amount payable under this decision to officers already retired or to their legal representatives will be issued by the High Commissioner for India, or the Government of India, as the case may be, according as the annuities have been drawn in England or in India, respectively.

G. To officers already retired the refund will be payable as soon as arrangements can be made. To those still in the service payment will be made on retirement. No application need be made by the officer. In both classes of cases no interest whatever will be payable.

H. Where an officer wishes to draw the refund in rupees the sterling amount payable will be convertible into rupees at the rate of exchange current at time of payment.

H. TONKINSON,
Joint Secretary to the Government of India.

RESOLUTION.

SALARIES ESTABLISHMENTS, ETC.
RULES AND GENERAL MATTERS.

Simla, the 29th September 1922.

No. 1448-E.A.—His Majesty's Secretary of State for India in Council has been pleased to make the rules appended to this Resoluton, defining the classes of expenditure from central revenues upon subjects* other than provincial subjects which the Governor-General in Council may not sanction without the previous consent of the Secretary of State in Council. These rules supersede all previous rules of a similar nature and, subject to their observance, orders regarding specific cases of expenditure passed by the Secretary of State in Council under regulations previously in force will no longer be binding.

2. If the sanction of the Secretary of State in Council is required by these rules to any expenditure, such sanction should ordinarily be obtained before the Legislative Assembly is asked to vote supply to meet the expenditure. The Governor-General in Council may depart from this rule in cases of extreme urgency, where the time available is so short that sanction cannot be obtained by telegraph; but in such a case a statement showing all schemes for which supply has been asked before sanction has been obtained must be submitted to the Secretary of State as soon as possible after the presentation of the demands to the Assembly.

3. The Governor-General in Council may sanction an excess over an estimate which has, prior to the introduction of these rules, received the sanction of the Secretary of State in Council if the total cost of the estimate, as increased by the excess, is within the powers of sanction conferred upon the Governor-General in Council by these rules; and may sanction the extension of a temporary post which has received similar sanction if he would, under these rules, be competent to sanction the creation of such a post for the full term as extended.

*Note.—Since the enactment of the Government of India Act, 1919, and of the Devolution Rules it is not permissible to incur expenditure from central revenues on provincial subjects or to make assignments from central to provincial revenues for expenditure on a provincial subject except in so far as such expenditure may be necessary in connection with matters covered by [illegible] in Part II of Schedule I to the [illegible] Local Government.

4. Subject to the observance of these rules and to the provisions of section 67-A of the Government of India Act, the Governor-General in Council has full power to sanction expenditure from central revenues upon subjects other than provincial subjects and, with the previous consent of the Finance Department, to delegate such power upon such conditions as he may think fit either to any officer subordinate to him or to a local Government acting as his agent in relation to a central subject. Any sanction given under this rule will remain valid for the specified period for which it is given, subject in the case of voted expenditure to the voting of supply in each year. Orders of delegation passed under this rule may contain a provision for re-delegation by the authority to which the powers are delegated.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

The previous sanction of the Secretary of State in Council is necessary :—

(4) To the grant to any Government servant or to the family or other dependants of any deceased Government servant of an allowance, pension or gratuity which is not admissible under rules made or for the time being in force under section 96-B of the Government of India Act, except in the following cases —

(b) pensions or gratuities to Government servants wounded or otherwise injured while employed in Government service, or to the families of Government servants dying as the result of wounds or injuries sustained while employed in such service, granted in accordance with such rules as have been or may be laid down by the Secretary of State in Council in this behalf.

(5) To any expenditure on the purchase of imported stores or stationery, otherwise than in accordance with such rules as may be made in this behalf by the Secretary of State in Council

(6) To any expenditure, otherwise than in accordance with such rules as have been or may be laid down in this behalf by the Secretary of State in Council, upon—

RESOLUTION.

PAY, ALLOWANCES AND FINANCE OFFICERS.

Simla, the 23rd August 1922.

SUBJECT:—Indian Audit and Accounts Service Examination Rules.

No. 1725-F.E.—In supersession of the Resolution in this Department, No 1251-F.E., dated the 30th September 1914, as subsequently amended, the following revised rules, which will come into force from the 1st January 1923, are prescribed for the examination of candidates in India for admission to the Indian Audit and Accounts Service.

I. A register of candidates will be kept from which not less than three candidates for each vacancy will be nominated by the Government of India from time to time as vacancies are expected. Only candidates so nominated will be entitled to compete.

II. Applications for entry in the register must be forwarded through the local Government of the province in which the candidate resides. A candidate desirous of having his name entered should pay a fee of Rs. 5 into a Government Treasury and enclose the treasury receipt with his application. Names will ordinarily be entered in the register only on the recommendation of a local Government; and the fee paid by a candidate will not be refunded in any case even if the local Government do not recommend him or the Government of India decide not to enter his name in the register.

III. On or before the 1st of May in each year local Governments will send to the Government of India the names of any persons whom they desire to recommend for entry in the register. The list should be accompanied by a statement containing in respect of each such person—

(1) the application which should be in the candidate's own handwriting.
(2) A duly verified statement of age.
(3) Copies of certificates of character and education.
(4) A statement, duly supported, showing the mathematical reading which the candidate has done, and the examinations involving mathematics which he has passed.
(5) Information regarding any services that may have been rendered to the State by his parents or family.
(6) A statement of the two optional subjects in which he will, if nominated, offer himself for examination.

A candidate will not be allowed to change the optional subjects in which he wishes to appear in the examination for any year, after the date and conditions of the examination have been published in the Gazette of India as laid down in Rule XII below.

Before being recommended by a local Government, each applicant must give satisfactory proof that he is a native of India, within the meaning of the Statute 33 Vict., Cap. 3, section 6*.

* The words "Native of India" shall include any person born and domiciled within the dominions of His Majesty in India, of parents habitually resident in India and not established there for temporary purposes only

NOTE.—Subjects of Indian States are eligible for registration under rule II.

IV. The names of persons not possessed of high educational qualifications will not be registered. Clear and distinct handwriting, a business familiarity with the English language, a good knowledge of arithmetic and an elementary knowledge of algebra are indispensable.

V. The Government of India reserve an absolute discretion, not only in regard to the selection of persons to be entered on the register of candidates, but also as to the nomination of candidates to compete at the examination. It must be clearly understood that registration of a candidate's name does not, in any way, imply that he will be nominated for admission to the examination.

VI. The name of a registered candidate will be struck off the register when he has failed in two examinations. It will also be liable to be struck off if he has been twice nominated and has failed to appear at the examination on one or both occasions.

VII. A candidate nominated for admission to one examination will not be admitted to a later examination unless again nominated.

VIII. The age of a candidate, on the first day of August of the year in which the examination is held, must not be less than twenty-two or more than twenty-five years. A candidate, who has been continuously in Government employ since before the age of 25, may, however, at the discretion of the Government of India, be allowed to compete at the examination up to the age of 30, provided that he is satisfactorily recommended by the Head of his Department.

IX. A nominated candidate will be required to pay a fee of Rs. 50 for each nomination. Before a prescribed date prior to the examination, he should forward to the Government of India in the Finance Department the following :—

(a) A treasury receipt for the amount of the fee paid into a Government treasury.

(b) A medical certificate in the annexed form by a Commissioned Medical Officer or by a Medical Officer in charge of a Civil Station. A candidate who obtains a second nomination must produce a fresh Medical Certificate.

Certificate.

I do hereby certify that I have examined A. B., a candidate for employment in the Indian Audit and Accounts Service, and that I cannot discover that he has any disease, constitutional, affectional or bodily infirmity, unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for the public service in any part of India

(c) A certificate of age from the officer in charge of the district in which his family resides or, if it resides in a Presidency town or an Indian State, from the Presidency Magistrate or the Political Agent, as the case may be. To obtain this certificate the date and place of the candidate's birth must be proved before the district officer, Presidency Magistrate or Political Agent, as the case may be, by documentary evidence, supplemented, where this is not conclusive proof, by statements of relatives and others on oath or solemn affirmation

X Nominated candidates will be examined in the subjects described in the schedule attached to this Resolution No candidate will be admitted to the Service who fails to show a competent knowledge of the compulsory subjects, and the Government reserve the right of declining to make any appointment when no candidate reaches a high standard of proficiency

XI The examination will be mainly by written questions and answers. The questions will be prepared and the examination conducted, in such manner as the Governor General in Council from time to time directs.

XII Some time before an examination is to be held, its date and place, and the conditions of examination will be notified in the Gazette of India, and the number of vacancies which the Government expect to fill on the results of the examination will, at the same time, be stated

XIII. Subject to the above conditions, candidates will be appointed to the posts thrown open to competition according to their order of merit at the examination

FOREIGN TRADE.

Simla, the 3rd October 1922.

RESOLUTION.

The following papers are published for general information :—

(1) Letter from the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India in the United Kingdom, No. H.C.-5007—92-4-11, dated the 28th August 1922.

I am desired by the High Commissioner to forward Mr. Chadwick's Administration Report as Indian Trade Commissioner for 1921-22 and to add the following remarks.

2. The constitution of the Indian Trade Commissionership was originally an experiment, and, as some people thought, a rather venturesome one. But thanks to Mr. Chadwick's knowledge, zeal, tact and constant industry, it has become an assured success, and the High Commissioner thinks that the building up of this admirable agency is an achievement on which Mr. Chadwick can most deservedly pride himself.

3. As Mr. Chadwick has indicated, his department is confined primarily to the development of Indian industries and Indian export trade, and he has given an admirable summary in paragraph 4 of his Report of the lines on which he has carried out this policy. The High Commissioner would add that Mr. Chadwick has never spared himself in giving all information that he could legitimately afford to those who needed it, and has never adopted the attitude of some offices that this or that is not really their concern. He has made the Trade Commissionership a real power in the City, and one which is thoroughly appreciated, as the High Commissioner knows, by those who have dealings with it ; while he has maintained excellent and fruitful relations with other Departments, such as the Department of Overseas Trade, and has furnished a constant flow of valuable information on an immense variety of matters to the Government of India.

The enormous increase in the statistics of calls and verbal enquiries indicated in paragraph 5 of the Report speaks for itself as to the growing appreciation of Mr. Chadwick's office by those whom it was meant to serve.

4. Mr. Chadwick's activities, moreover, have by no means been confined to the regular field of the Trade Commissionership. As he modestly indicates in the latter part of his Report—paragraph 9 et seq—he has had a variety of other work and has done it admirably ; for instance, his activities in connection with the British Industries Fair and the Hides Preference Scheme, in connection with the Empire Cotton Growing Corporation, and the British Empire Exhibition, and the Government of India have, the High Commissioner is assured, fully appreciated the very full information which Mr. Chadwick was able to furnish to them on the subject of Dyes.

5. Mr. Chadwick, in paragraphs 19-20 of his Report, gives special acknowledgment to the services of a number of his subordinates. But while fully appreciating the work of these officers, the High Commissioner considers that the success of the department is due, first and last, to Mr. Chadwick himself. Future Trade Commissioners will be very materially helped by the strong and sure foundations which Mr. Chadwick has laid.

(2) Administration Report on the working of the office of the Indian Trade Commissioner in London for the period from April 1st, 1920 to March 31st, 1922.

In their Resolution No. 7123, dated the 15th October 1920, the Government of India, Commerce Department, dealt with an administration report covering the first two years of the working of the office of the Indian Trade Commissioner. I have now the honour to submit a report on the work of that office during the last half of my incumbency, viz., for the two years from April 1st, 1920 to March 31st, 1922. I vacated the office of Trade Commissioner three months later on June 30th, 1922. Those three months will be dealt with by one of my successors.

2. This is strictly an administration report and makes no attempt to discuss Indian trade with the United Kingdom during those two years. It has appeared from time to time that some uncertainty still exists regarding the purpose of this office. It exists to endeavour to assist the development of Indian industries and of Indian export trade. There are two large spheres of activity connected with commerce with which it has no concern whatever—

(a) The policy of the Government of India in commercial matters.
(b) The import trade into India.

If the office had to take a part in helping to consider these, it would obviously be most seriously hampered as an Intelligence Bureau.

The Department of Overseas Trade, an offshoot of the Board of Trade, is interested in the exports of the United Kingdom to all countries in the world, including India. In fact they maintain their own Trade Commissioner in India. Most other countries also have their Consuls or other representatives in India. It is no part of the functions of the Indian Trade Commissioner's office to assist the import trade into India. Very harmonious relations have continued between my office and that of the Department of Overseas Trade, who have invariably referred to me enquiries regarding the purchase of Indian products, as I have referred to them enquiries regarding the sale of goods to India. This Department has, however, always assisted me with advice and information on any point, and as will be seen later has welcomed the participation of Provinces of India in the British Industries Fair.

3. There are four distinct limitations to the activities the office may attempt:—

(b) It can undertake no financial responsibilities.

(c) It is not an employment bureau to examine men's qualifications and engage them.

(d) It will not advise people about their investments or solicit capital for new projects.

It can often help with information bearing on these points, but it cannot undertake them.

4. Subject to these restrictions the office can be and is of use to the business world. It aims at—

(i) Having indexed, and immediately available, all economic information published by the various departments of the Government of India, as well as all published statistics and legislative enactments relating to Indian Trade.

(ii) Having indexed and immediately available the names of firms exporting Indian produce from India as well as those importing Indian produce into the United Kingdom and other countries.

(iii) Assisting with introductions Indian industrialists and merchants who visit London on business.

(iv) Giving information to firms contemplating manufacture in India as to the possibility of obtaining in India much of their requirements.

(vi) Obtaining on request and sending to India trade opinions on samples sent from India.

(vii) Bringing to the notice of the Departments of the British Government any regulations which in operation bear adversely on Indian trade, provided no question of policy is involved.

(viii) Conducting enquiries on behalf of or answering questions raised by economic departments in India including Provincial Departments of Industries.

(ix) Generally at helping any business house connected with India in any difficulty or in any way in which it can do so fairly and legitimately.

There is a wide field here, in which the office can help Indian trade and development, and in everyone of the classes cited business men have repeatedly stated that they have found the office of assistance. But, except in the small matter of Hides Preference, there is no need for any business man to come to the office at all. It issues no licenses; it tries no cases; it collects no revenue. It is as dependent for its daily occupation on its customers—i.e., in this case the general business world as is any retail shop. So far it has not suffered from unemployment or lack of custom. But just as with a retail shop it can only increase or even retain its custom—and thereby endeavour to fulfil its objects by giving satisfaction to its customers. If the information it supplies is correct and promptly given, if the introductions it makes are obviously seriously meant and prove worth examination, the tendency is to use it more and more; if it fails in these particulars then its utility rapidly decreases and any introductions it gives may be promptly discounted or ignored. Thus when men call and ask for business introductions in certain lines, it greatly assists matters if they are not already known, if they come prepared to give in confidence information about their own business experience in that line and their financial standing. Questions directed to that end are made in confidence and not from curiosity but for the purpose of assisting the enquirer, and because, although no financial responsibility is taken by the office, yet the reputation of the office is involved to some extent in every introduction it makes. It thus saves time, if those from India who visit the office for the first time and are not known to it bring with them from India some introduction from India. The office works very closely in all matters of introductions with the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence in Calcutta.

5. The number of letters received in the office and the number of callers in each of the last four years is as follows :—

	Letters received.	Letters despatched.	Number of Callers or Verbal enquiries.
1918-19	3,734	4,930	1,367
1919-20	7,066	10,206	1,005*
1920-21	7,966	7,800	2,134†
1921-22	7,296	7,760	3,921

* Five months only † Nine months only

As explained in the last report the figures of 1919-20 sprang up so quickly chiefly on account of the work in connection with securing passages eastwards for commercial men—the autumn of 1919 That figure has however, been fully maintained, in spite of the severe trade depression throughout 1921. The figures of despatches exclude everything in the nature of a circular It is impossible to record accurately all callers and telephone calls for information. So much is done over the telephone in London, and the enquiry so quickly turns from one subject to another that many escape noting. For instance, these figures exclude all telephone enquiries answered by the clerical staff itself without putting the enquiry through to one of the senior officers. In India most of such enquiries and answers dealt with by the staff would be the subject of a letter. The figures so far for the current year both in letters and enquiries are in advance of those of last year at the same time These figures seem to shew that the office is both getting better and better known and is being more and more used

6 The Director-General of Commercial Intelligence sends us each week a very short and excellent cable of commercial news To this is attached, in the briefest form, in the office any immediately cognate information and also a list of important economic publications received in the office during the week. The note thus prepared is printed and distributed among banks and business houses Many have expressed their appreciation of this and many, I know, keep them carefully filed. The weekly circulation at the end of March 1922 had reached 216. One interesting thing was that copies had reached India and requests were received from two widely distant ports in India to post copies regularly to them. This seemed curious as most of the information is originally derived from India. Facts are simply given. Comment and discussion are avoided. We are greatly indebted to the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence, Calcutta, for his succinct summaries

7. It gradually became clear that there was frequently a very small, but when it existed a very real, demand for many of the small brochures issued by the various departments of Government such as Forests, Geological, Agriculture, etc, dealing with particular economic products, as well as a wider demand on copies of Acts affecting trade. The custom in retail shops of enclosing with letters a cyclostyled list of their most recent specialities ready for sale was adopted in the autumn of 1921 Between December 1921 and March 31st, 1922, 216 of such publications were sold They are not publications which appeal to the general public, but are frequently of great use to the person who is interested in that particular matter. More can still be done in this matter. Care was also taken to send such publications when received to the particular technical journal, which specialises in that class of subjects. I am not referring here to well known publications, such as the Review of Trade or the Report of some very important Commission.

8. In order to help the Indian exporter the preparation of a series of short compact bulletins on the commercial aspect of the various Indian products was commenced giving, as far as possible, the commercial specifications required for different uses, the prevailing trade terms and conditions, the customary methods of sale, the chief uses, particulars of the chief competitors that Indian produce had to meet. Attention has first been given to the mineral products of India, since on that subject I was fortunate in having the very able assistance of Dr. Coggin Brown, who was later followed by Mr. Fox. Dr. Coggin Brown prepared and sent to India notes dealing with Manganese Ores, Magnesite, Monazite, Antimony, Arsenic, Bismuth, Wolfram, Chromite, Molybdenum, Tin, Bauxite, Borax, Corundum, Garnet, Mica, Zinc, Lead, Asbestos, Barytes, Mineral Colours, and Mr. Fox has done the same with glass-making materials, Gemstones and semi-precious Stones, Sulphur, Flourspar, Phosphates, Potash Salts. These have all been published as special bulletins by the Department of Industries with the Government of India. These should be of use in India. The merits of many of them have been widely recognised on this side and demands for copies of them have come from countries as widely distant as the United States and Roumania. These have all been prepared in the two years now under report and involved much trade enquiry. Dr. Coggin Brown worked at these with much enthusiasm and judgment and Mr. Fox is carrying the work through.

9. Special works.—The two years under review saw a full share of special work falling on the Trade Commissioner and his office. There will, I believe, always be some such special tasks in hand. As one disappears another arises.

The British Industries Fair.—The Arts and Crafts Emporium, Lucknow, and the Arts and Crafts Depot, Lahore, took part in the British Industries Fair at the White City both in 1921 and 1922. Bombay and Assam also participated in that of 1921 and Burma in the one of 1922. Mr. Heard and Mr. Heath, the Arts Officers of the United Provinces and the Punjab, respectively, were present at the 1921 Fair and Mr. Holme, the Director of Industries in Burma, at that in 1922. At the 1922 Fair Mr. French, C.I.E., C.B.E., was in charge of the articles from Northern India. The general trade depression in 1922 was exceptionally severe and consequently the market for luxuries and ornamental furniture, of which Indian art crafts for export largely consist, was very dull. In spite of this the sales and orders at the 1921 Fair amounted to £3,971 or £2,493 more than that at the first venture, and at the 1922 Fair the figure again rose slightly to £4,759. In order to help the Provinces in their early ventures at encouraging an export trade, it was arranged that goods ordered at the Fair could be delivered through the Trade Commissioner's office and that that office would collect the amounts due before delivering the goods and remit the proceeds. It would also deal as far as possible in the first instance with any complaints. A certain amount of agency fees and commission is thus saved to the Provincial departments. This involves a good deal of detailed work throughout the course of the year and is not a class of work which the office could continue indefinitely especially if it increased much in volume. It is, however, satisfactory to record that the deliveries and execution of orders after the Fair in 1921 both by the United Provinces and the Punjab were much better than after the first Fair of 1920. Whether it will be possible by this means to encourage an export trade in the better articles of village craftsmanship, it is at present difficult to say. I would have been more confident if there had been a greater increase in orders in 1922, but against this has to be put the following considerations :—

(i) Trade generally was so bad in 1921-22 that it was really a great thing not to have to record a decline.

(ii) Foreign exchanges were so adverse and uncertain that foreign buyers were especially chary about placing orders.

(iii) It is dishonest to take orders beyond the capacity of the Provincial Department to execute promptly and satisfactorily. So far the United Provinces and the Punjab have met their commitments, but it is so notoriously difficult to organise village craftsmen to ensure prompt attention to orders that one is somewhat afraid of large orders.

(iv) Some most promising connections have been made. These have only been secured by appearing regularly at successive Fairs. The United Provinces have followed a regular policy in this. No results worth having can, I am sure, follow from spasmodic participation in these Fairs. Trade can only be built up on confidence, which in itself grows from continuous and not from occasional transactions.

10. From October 1920 onwards I was Chairman of the Committee of firms appointed by the Government of India to sell wheat on Government account. Till the middle of February 1921 when Government withdrew, 240,281 tons of wheat were sold. The Committee held 35 meetings. Except for a few vessels in regard to which arbitration proceedings are pending the accounts have been closed and audited. Throughout all this work I received the most cordial and open assistance from the firms with whom I was working.

11. During the period under report the securing of dyes on reparation account occupied much time. It proved to be an extremely troublesome and involved class of work, and especially during 1921-22 claimed an undue proportion of my attention. The difficulties, however, which arose were dealt with.

12. The office continued to issue certificates under the Hides Preference Scheme for hides and skins tanned in the United Kingdom. The leather trade was one of the first to feel the effects of the slump in trade and has not yet recovered. At the time of the Armistice stocks both of boots and leather held by the Ministry of Munitions were exceptionally large. It has taken a very long time for them to pass into consumption. In fact the Disposal Board still held on March 31st, 1922, big supplies of tanned kips The difficulties of the market were further increased by very heavy shipments of hides from India on consignment during the short boom period. It was therefore found necessary to increase the currency of the bonds up to two years normally and for those issued in the first year of the Act up to three years. No further extensions are contemplated. The number of certificates issued in each year were as follows :—

	1920-21.	1921-22.
For hides and skins shipped from—
Calcutta	49	99
Bombay	45	67
Karachi	180	52
Madras	34	28
Rangoon	152	61

The scheme worked smoothly.

13. I continued to serve on the Empire Cotton Growing Committee and its successor the Empire Cotton Growing Corporation the organisation of which was recommended in the report of the Committee. The Corporation has been incorporated by Royal Charter and has received a capital grant from the British Government of over £900,000 contingent on a cess of six pence per bale of cotton used in the country being levied by the cotton trade. The vast majority of those interested in the cotton trade have agreed to this levy and steps are being taken to make its payment compulsory. The object of the Corporation is generally to foster the cultivation of cotton within the Empire. The controlling body consists of representatives of various Home Government Departments, of Governments Overseas and of all sections of the large cotton industry. It has been fortunate to secure the services of Sir James Currie, K.B.E., as its first Director. The Corporation sustained a very severe loss through the untimely death of Mr. James McConnel, the first Chairman of the Executive Council, and Chairman of the Fine Cotton Spinners, to whose foresight, enthusiasm and hard work on and of the Committee the Corporation mostly owes its existence. The Corporation should prove to be a potent agent for encouraging the cultivation of good types of cotton, largely in new regions.

14. I also continued to attend the meetings of the Empire Flax Growing Committee.

15. In June 1921 I was placed on the Executive Council of the British Empire Exhibition. Under the guidance of the High Commissioner a site was provisionally secured for the Indian building. Preliminary estimates of probable expenditure were also prepared and submitted to the Government of India. Possible drawings for the buildings were also obtained for consideration, and every effort made to prepare the way for the Exhibition Commissioner in case India decided to take part. Such a decision was made by Resolution of the Legislative Assembly in March 1922. The Management Committee of the British Empire Exhibition now meets weekly.

16. The Government of India were kept informed of the progress of discussions and views on certain large subjects which might possibly have considerable bearing on Indian trade, e.g., Hague Rules, etc.

17. The office was used as Headquarters by some of the Government of India and Provincial officers who were home on special duty or for special enquiries, e.g., Mr. Henderson who came with a view to organising trials in India of Motor Steam Ploughs and other agricultural implements, Messrs. Heard, Heath and Holme in regard to the British Industries Fair, and Mr. Holme for preliminary enquiries affecting the separate representation of Burma in the British Empire Exhibition.

18. Office organisation.—With the appointment of a High Commissioner for India in September 1920 the office of the Indian Trade Commissioner became directly subordinate to him. This proved of the greatest assistance to the office, by defining more clearly its functions, by establishing more firmly its position, and to me, personally, by making it not such a single handed task. The position of a High Commissioner, with a Trade Commissioner as one of his subordinates, is one well known and recognised in London. Many found it difficult to understand the position of a Trade Commissioner, who appeared to be entirely alone and who only admitted to an indirect subordination to one of the Departments in Whitehall, the India Office. The appointment of a High Commissioner regularised his position in their eyes, and in this way, in addition to the advice, assistance and stimulus which the office has directly received the appointment has been of the greatest advantage to the Trade Commissioner.

19. I have fortunately had more regular help from gazetted assistants than in the first two years of my work. Mr. Rice who joined in September 1919 continued with me, and in July 1920, Mr. B. D. Ash from the Bombay Secretariat joined the office. His arrival had long been looked for, as I had been promised a permanent Indian Assistant and had been expecting him for two years. Dr. Coggin Brown of the Geological Survey who was attached to this office and also instructed to represent India on the Imperial Mineral Resources Bureau went on leave in September 1921 preparatory to returning to India. Mention has already been made of some of his work. He also dealt with all enquiries affecting metals and minerals which came into the office and was extraordinarily successful in gaining the confidence and good opinions of business men. He was succeeded by Mr. Fox who is following on the same lines.

20. In 1920 the clerical establishment was almost entirely recast owing to the retirement of the ladies, who had helped us during the war and their substitution by ex-service men. The staff is paid on the sanctioned Treasury scale. The work was entirely new to each one of them ; but they have all worked with keenness and interest. I would especially mention Mr. Butler for his work on wheat and Mr. Barlow for the enthusiasm with which he has attended to the general information. Mr. Faignes and Mr. Berry in more monotonous posts have worked carefully and been prepared to meet a rush cheerfully. Miss Ellis has been invaluable in her sphere and is the only one now left of those who originally joined the office. The occupants of most of the other posts have changed three or four times. The total cost of the office, including all salaries and all charges, was in each of these financial years £8,328 and £9,158, respectively.

21. The object of the office is to strive in all ways, within the limitations mentioned in paragraph 3 above, to aid Indian industries and Indian trade. The work is fascinating in its variety and much of it is done by personal interview. It is on the whole the small definite enquiries which appear to be the most important. The prompt answering of these, some of them apparently exceedingly small, have brought the most generous thanks from business men; whilst the omnibus enquiry or the vague one which may have occupied much time to answer frequently leads to nothing. Whatever assistance an office such as this can give depends very largely on the extent to which commercial business men use it, and their criticisms and suggestions are welcomed. In both these lines they have certainly placed me under a very deep debt of obligation. Visits from business men and manufacturers when they come over from India are especially welcome as it is from them that the latest views of business conditions and business thought in India can be obtained. It also gives an opportunity to explain the scope of the office. We have throughout received the utmost help from all the Home Departments of State with which we have had dealings, from Chambers of Commerce and Trade Associations, whilst the business houses themselves have attended to our education. An office of general contact between the commercial community and the Government Departments and not one of administration can be of service both to the Government and to the business world.

Post Graduate Research Scholarships to be awarded in 1922.

Two Post Graduate Scholarships will be awarded for the encouragement of original research to candidates who have high and special qualifications and appear to be likely to conduct original research with success. The value of each scholarship is Rs. 100 a month, and each is tenable for a maximum period of three years.

3. Election will be made in the first instance for one year only, with effect from 1st July 1922, but a scholarship may be renewed from year to year, up to the limit of three years, provided the scholar has throughout the year vigorously prosecuted original research in the subject selected by him.

RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF STUDENTS SEEKING ADMISSION.

1. Two classes of students are admitted for study in the College—

(a) "Regular," or those who enter for the full University course.

The admission to this class is restricted to students (male and female) who are natives of, or whose parents are domiciled in, the area within the territorial limits of the Calcutta University, and the Province of Bihar and Orissa.

The admission to this class is regulated by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service.

2. The minimum preliminary qualification for admission to the—

(a) "Regular Class" is the Pass certificate of the I. Sc. Examination of the Calcutta University with Physics and Chemistry.

3. The session commences on the 15th June.

4. All new students must apply for admission to the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, in the prescribed form available in this office, on or before the 25th May, except in the case of Biharis, Uriyas, Chota Nagpuris and Assamese students, who should apply to the Inspectors-General of Civil Hospitals of their respective provinces for admission within such date as the latter may prescribe.

Selected candidates must pay the following fees within the time prescribed by the Principal, failing which their names will be struck off the selected list :—

	Rs.	A.
Admission fee	20	0
Fees for Summer term	62	8
Athletic Club fee	2	0
Total ...	84	8

5. The number of Regular students to be admitted each year is generally 120, but the Principal may, at his discretion, increase or decrease this number. Preference for admission will usually be given to candidates who have superior qualifications. but the final selection lies entirely with the Principal.

One-fourth of the total number to be admitted shall be Muhammadans. Twelve candidates will be nominated by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Bihar and Orissa, six candidates by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Assam and one by the Government of Central Provinces. These candidates must possess the qualifications mentioned in rule 2 (a).

In addition, the Bihar and Orissa Government will nominate six scholars, who must have passed the I. Sc. Examination with Physics and Chemistry. These nominations must reach the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, before the 10th June in each year, failing which the Principal will fill up vacancies with local candidates.

6. (a) Female students will be admitted to the College provided they possess the requisite preliminary qualification, and provided there is a vacancy in the Surnomoyee Hostel in which all female students must reside.

(b) Female students belonging to provinces other than Bengal will have to pay rents for their seats in the Surnomoyee Hostel.

7. Failed students must apply for admission and pay fee within a week from the date of the publication of their results, otherwise their prior claim lapses.

8. All Regular students must pay an annual fee of Rs. 125 in two instalments, viz., Rs. 62-8 for the Summer term and Rs. 62-8 for the Winter term. They must also pay the annual athletic club fee of Rs. 2 along with their fees for Summer term. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

9. The fees for each term are to be paid in one instalment. Except in the case of new students, the fees for Summer term are due on the 15th June and those for the Winter term on the 1st November, and must be paid on those dates or on such subsequent dates as the Principal may direct, after which a daily fine of annas 4 will be levied along with the fee in each case of default.

10. Female students are not liable to pay the Athletic Club fee.

11. Students relegated to a further course of study after their failure at the Preliminary Scientific M. B. and at the First M. B. Examinations shall pay Rs 80 for the whole session in one instalment within the time prescribed above.

12. Students who fail at the Final M. B. Examination shall pay fees for the whole session at the following rates in one instalment:—

	Rs.
For one subject	25
For two subjects	50
For three or more subjects	75

13. Students taking up subjects outside the curriculum of the year in which they are studying shall pay Rs. 30 for each subject, including lectures and practical classes.

14. The fees for Casual students or for certificates issued to Regular students leaving the College before completing their study, or for those issued to Military students, shall be Rs. 40 per each course of lectures and practical classes and Rs. 30 for every three months of hospital practice.

15. In calculating the sum to be paid under rule 13 by a Regular student, the amount of College fees paid by him, or in the case of a student enjoying a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student shall be deducted.

16. The fees payable by a Muhammadan student requiring certificates in the same way will be calculated on the same principle, i.e., he will be allowed a deduction for the full annual fee, half of which has been paid by himself and half by the Mohsin Fund.

17. Students of the Military class requiring certificates in the same way will be required to pay the rate of fees laid down in paragraph 13 for the full curriculum or for such portion as they have attended. No deduction will be made in this case as they are not free students in the sense in which that term is defined in Bengal Government Resolution (Education) No. 601 of the 7th December 1880.

18. The fee for post-graduate students undergoing a course of training in the Pathological, Bacteriological, Physiological or Chemical Laboratory is Rs. 90 for a period not exceeding six months.

19. Holders of scholarships, awarded by the Government of Bengal, are not required to pay the annual fee of Rs. 125 for the year in which they hold such scholarships. All holders of other scholarships, whether granted by other Local Governments, Local Bodies, or Dufferin Fund, shall pay the same fees as Regular students.

20. The following are the curricula of the College:—

REGULAR STUDENTS.

First-year Class.

Physics, Chemistry, Botany, Zoology and Practical Classes in all these subjects. A Test Examination in all the subjects will be held at the end of the first-year class and the students who fail in this examination will not be sent up for the Preliminary Scientific M. B. Examination and they will at once be transferred to the Membership course of the State Medical Faculty of Bengal. Those students who will be sent up for the Preliminary Scientific M. B. Examination but fail twice in one year in the said examination will also be transferred to the Membership course of the State Medical Faculty of Bengal after the second chance.

(a) "Regular," or those who enter for the full University course.

The admission to this class is restricted to students (male and female) who are natives of, or whose parents are domiciled in, the area within the territorial limits of the Calcutta University, and the Province of Bihar and Orissa.

(b) "Military Class" (only students of European or Eurasian parentage are admitted to this class). (See separate Prospectus for Military students.)

The admission to this class is regulated by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service.

2. The minimum preliminary qualification for admission to the—

(a) "Regular Class" is the Pass certificate of the I. Sc. Examination of the Calcutta University with Physics and Chemistry.

3. The session commences on the 15th June.

4. All new students must apply for admission to the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, in the prescribed form available in this office, on or before the 25th May, except in the case of Biharis, Uriyas, Chota Nagpuris and Assamese students, who should apply to the Inspectors-General of Civil Hospitals of their respective provinces for admission within such date as the latter may prescribe.

Selected candidates must pay the following fees within the time prescribed by the Principal, failing which their names will be struck off the selected list :—

	Rs.	A.
Admission fee	20	0
Fees for Summer term	62	8
Athletic Club fee	2	0
Total ...	84	8

5. The number of Regular students to be admitted each year is generally 120, but the Principal may, at his discretion, increase or decrease this number. Preference for admission will usually be given to candidates who have superior qualifications, but the final selection lies entirely with the Principal.

One-fourth of the total number to be admitted shall be Muhammadans. Twelve candidates will be nominated by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Bihar and Orissa; six candidates by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Assam and one by the Government of Central Provinces. These candidates must possess the qualifications mentioned in rule 2 (a).

In addition, the Bihar and Orissa Government will nominate six scholars, who must have passed the I. Sc. Examination with Physics and Chemistry. These nominations must reach the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, before the 10th June in each year, failing which the Principal will fill up vacancies with local candidates.

6. (a) Female students will be admitted to the College provided they possess the requisite preliminary qualification, and provided there is a vacancy in the Surnomoyee Hostel in which all female students must reside.

(b) Female students belonging to provinces other than Bengal will have to pay rents for their seats in the Surnomoyee Hostel.

7. Failed students must apply for admission and pay fee within a week from the date of the publication of their results, otherwise their prior claim lapses.

8. All Regular students must pay an annual fee of Rs. 125 in two instalments, viz., Rs. 62-8 for the Summer term and Rs. 62-8 for the Winter term. They must also pay the annual athletic club fee of Rs. 2 along with their fees for Summer term. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

9. The fees for each term are to be paid in one instalment. Except in the case of new students, the fees for Summer term are due on the 15th June and those for the Winter term on the 1st November, and must be paid on those dates or on such subsequent dates as the Principal may direct, after which a daily fine of annas 4 will be levied along with the fee in each case of default.

10. Female students are not liable to pay the Athletic Club fee.

12. Students who fail at the Final M. B. Examination shall pay fees for the whole session at the following rates in one instalment:—

	Rs.
For one subject	25
For two subjects	50
For three or more subjects	75

13. Students taking up subjects outside the curriculum of the year in which they are studying shall pay Rs. 30 for each subject, including lectures and practical classes.

14. The fees for Casual students or for certificates issued to Regular students leaving the College before completing their study, or for those issued to Military students, shall be Rs. 40 per each course of lectures and practical classes and Rs. 30 for every three months of hospital practice.

15. In calculating the sum to be paid under rule 13 by a Regular student, the amount of College fees paid by him, or in the case of a student enjoying a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student shall be deducted.

16. The fees payable by a Muhammadan student requiring certificates in the same way will be calculated on the same principle, i.e., he will be allowed a deduction for the full annual fee, half of which has been paid by himself and half by the Mohsin Fund.

17. Students of the Military class requiring certificates in the same way will be required to pay the rate of fees laid down in paragraph 13 for the full curriculum or for such portion as they have attended. No deduction will be made in this case as they are not free students in the sense in which that term is defined in Bengal Government Resolution (Education) No. 601 of the 7th December 1880.

18. The fee for post-graduate students undergoing a course of training in the Pathological, Bacteriological, Physiological or Chemical Laboratory is Rs. 90 for a period not exceeding six months.

19. Holders of scholarships, awarded by the Government of Bengal, are not required to pay the annual fee of Rs. 125 for the year in which they hold such scholarships. K. S. AIYAR, F.S.A.A., Secretary.

OFFICE OF THE ACCOUNTANCY DIPLOMA BOARD, 65, APOLLO STREET, BOMBAY, the 27th April 1922.

INSTRUCTIONS TO CANDIDATES FOR

THE GOVERNMENT DIPLOMA IN ACCOUNTANCY OF THE SYDENHAM COLLEGE OF COMMERCE AND ECONOMICS, BOMBAY.

Regulation No. 4.—

(A) Examinations equivalent to Matriculation.—Examinations recognized by an Indian University as equivalent to the Matriculation or Entrance examination of that University will be recognized as such by the Accountancy Diploma Board under this Regulation. If the candidate has studied for one or more terms in a College affiliated to an Indian University, a certificate to that effect signed by the Principal of that College will be accepted as proof of the candidate's eligibility for the Diploma course. The previous orders of the Board must be secured by the candidate in other cases.

(B) Attendance certificate.—The attendance ought to be in an Institution specially recognized by the Accountancy Diploma Board for purposes of this Diploma. The candidate is required to have attended three-fourths of the number of days on which lectures were delivered in each of the two academic years. Should his attendance in either of the two years have fallen short of three-fourths, that particular year will not be counted as a portion of the two year's attendance prescribed by this Regulation. If he has attended the prescribed number of lectures in each of two academic years, but has not been certified as fit to present himself for the examination, he will not be required to attend lectures for a third year, but will merely be required to satisfy the Principal about his fitness to appear for the examination, and to submit his application through the Principal. He may undergo practical training in accounts during such third year, and such training will be counted as a portion of the three years' training prescribed by Regulation 12 (b).

(C) The fee of Rs. 50 must reach the Secretary to the Accountancy Diploma Board, 65 Apollo Street, Fort, Bombay, on or before 31st January. Fees paid in will on no account be refunded.

Regulation No. 5.—

Under this regulation, an under-graduate may, in lieu of attending lectures for two years as prescribed by Regulation No. 4, receive practical training in accounts for two years. He must apply to the Board for the recognition of such practical training and secure the orders of the Board before applying for the examination; the number and date of such order must be quoted in the candidate's application for the examination.

Regulations 6 and 13—

When the holder of a temporary auditor's certificate applies for the examination under Regulation 6 or for the Diploma under Regulation 13, the period for which the auditor's certificate was granted must not have expired. An application from such a candidate submitted after the expiry of the period for which the certificate was granted will not be accepted by the Board.

Regulation 12.—

Practical training.—Every candidate entering on the course of practical training prescribed by this Regulation must submit to the Accountancy Diploma Board an application for the recognition of such practical training in the prescribed form, copies of which can be had at the office of the Board, Apollo Street, Bombay; such applications must be submitted within sixty days of the commencement of the practical training.

The practical training must be under a Chartered or an Incorporated Accountant or a certified auditor, working as a Public Accountant. It is immaterial whether the candidate has paid a premium for such training or is in receipt of a salary. It is essential that he should be a full-time apprentice and should not be engaged in any other work during the usual office hours.

Chartered and Incorporated Accountants may take and train apprentices without the previous permission of the Government. The holder of a permanent (whether restricted or unrestricted) auditor's certificate granted by a local Government, may take and train apprentices, provided he is specially empowered in that behalf by the local Government of the Province where he is practising. The mere fact that he holds a permanent auditor's certificate will not empower him to take apprentices.

The apprenticeship may be served partly under one and partly under another practising accountant, provided it is in each case reported to and recognised by the Accountancy Diploma Board.

Regulation No. 12 (b).—

The practical training in accounts prescribed by this regulation may be (1) partly before and partly after, or (2) wholly before, or (3) wholly after the candidate passes the Diploma examination of this Board. The course prescribed for an under-graduate covers five years, viz., two years as a student of a recognized Institution, plus three years apprenticeship. The practical training in accounts, if any, received by an under-graduate during his two years' attendance of a recognized Institution will, therefore, not be reckoned as a portion of the three years' apprenticeship prescribed by this regulation.

Regulation 12 (c).—

At least two out of the three years' apprenticeship prescribed for graduates must be served after they become graduates.

Number of Apprentices.—No practising Accountant will be authorized to take and train more than two apprentices at a time. But a Chartered or an Incorporated Accountant, in public practice, may, in special cases, be permitted by the Accountancy Diploma Board to take and NOT more than four apprentices at a time.

Auditor's Certificate.—No permanent unrestricted Auditor's certificate will be granted by any local Government or Administration to a person who does not hold the Government Diploma in Accountancy of the Sydenham College of Commerce and Economics, Bombay. Holders of the Diploma have to apply for a permanent unrestricted Auditor's certificate to the local Government of the Province where they intend to set up practice.

By order of the Accountancy Diploma Board,

K. S. AIYAR, B.A., L.T., F.S.A.A.,

Secretary.

(a) "Regular," or those who enter for the full University course.

The admission to this class is restricted to students (male and female) who are natives of, or whose parents are domiciled in, the area within the territorial limits of the Calcutta University, and the Province of Bihar and Orissa.

(b) "Military Class" (only students of European or Eurasian parentage are admitted to this class). (See separate Prospectus for Military students.)

The admission to this class is regulated by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service.

2. The minimum preliminary qualification for admission to the—

(a) "Regular Class" is the Pass certificate of the I. Sc. Examination of the Calcutta University with Physics and Chemistry.

3. The session commences on the 15th June.

4. All new students must apply for admission to the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, in the prescribed form available in this office, on or before the 25th May, except in the case of Biharis, Uriyas, Chota Nagpuris and Assamese students, who should apply to the Inspectors-General of Civil Hospitals of their respective provinces for admission within such date as the latter may prescribe.

Selected candidates must pay the following fees within the time prescribed by the Principal, failing which their names will be struck off the selected list :—

	Rs.	A.
Admission fee	20	0
Fees for Summer term	62	8
Athletic Club fee	2	0
Total ...	84	8

5. The number of Regular students to be admitted each year is generally 120, but the Principal may, at his discretion, increase or decrease this number. Preference for admission will usually be given to candidates who have superior qualifications, but the final selection lies entirely with the Principal.

One-fourth of the total number to be admitted shall be Muhammadans. Twelve candidates will be nominated by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Bihar and Orissa, six candidates by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Assam and one by the Government of Central Provinces. These candidates must possess the qualifications mentioned in rule 2 (a).

In addition, the Bihar and Orissa Government will nominate six scholars, who must have passed the I. Sc. Examination with Physics and Chemistry. These nominations must reach the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, before the 10th June in each year, failing which the Principal will fill up vacancies with local candidates.

6. (a) Female students will be admitted to the College provided they possess the requisite preliminary qualification, and provided there is a vacancy in the Surnomoyee Hostel in which all female students must reside.

(b) Female students belonging to provinces other than Bengal will have to pay rents for their seats in the Surnomoyee Hostel.

7. Failed students must apply for admission and pay fee within a week from the date of the publication of their results, otherwise their prior claim lapses.

8. All Regular students must pay an annual fee of Rs. 125 in two instalments, viz., Rs. 62-8 for the Summer term and Rs. 62-8 for the Winter term. They must also pay the annual athletic club fee of Rs. 2 along with their fees for Summer term. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

9. The fees for each term are to be paid in one instalment. Except in the case of new students, the fees for Summer term are due on the 15th June and those for the Winter term on the 1st November, and must be paid on those dates or on such subsequent dates as the Principal may direct, after which a daily fine of annas 4 will be levied along with the fee in each case of default.

10. Female students are not liable to pay the Athletic Club fee.

12. Students who fail at the Final M. B. Examination shall pay fees for the whole session at the following rates in one instalment:—

	Rs.
For one subject	25

For three or more subjects	75

13. Students taking up subjects outside the curriculum of the year in which they are studying shall pay Rs. 30 for each subject, including lectures and practical classes.

14. The fees for Casual students or for certificates issued to Regular students leaving the College before completing their study, or for those issued to Military students, shall be Rs. 40 per each course of lectures and practical classes and Rs. 30 for every three months of hospital practice.

15. In calculating the sum to be paid under rule 13 by a Regular student, the amount of College fees paid by him, or in the case of a student enjoying a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student shall be deducted.

16. The fees payable by a Muhammadan student requiring certificates in the same way will be calculated on the same principle, i.e., he will be allowed a deduction for the full annual fee, half of which has been paid by himself and half by the Mohsin Fund.

17. Students of the Military class requiring certificates in the same way will be required to pay the rate of fees laid down in paragraph 13 for the full curriculum or for such portion as they have attended. No deduction will be made in this case as they are not free students in the sense in which that term is defined in Bengal Government Resolution (Education) No. 601 of the 7th December 1880.

18. The fee for post-graduate students undergoing a course of training in the Pathological, Bacteriological, Physiological or Chemical Laboratory is Rs. 90 for a period not exceeding six months.

19. Holders of scholarships, awarded by the Government of Bengal, are not required to pay the annual fee of Rs. 125 for the year in which they hold such scholarships. Classes are held twice a week from 6 to 7 P.M.

(c) Shorthand (Theory).—Pitman's Shorthand is the system taught. Students having a sufficient knowledge of English are admitted at the beginning of the session in July. Text-book—Complete Book-keeping, by Arthur Fieldhouse. The fee for the full session, July to April, is Rs 32, payable in eight monthly instalments of Rs. 4 each. Classes are held twice a week from 6 to 7 P.M.

(c) Shorthand (Theory).—Pitman's Shorthand is the system taught. Students having a sufficient knowledge of English are admitted at the beginning of the session in July. Students are also admitted in December, provided they have already a sufficient knowledge of Shorthand to enable them to appreciate the lectures in the session, December to April.

The minimum speed required to pass the examination is 80 words per minute. The class is held daily from 5 P.M.

The fee for the session, July to November, is Rs. 12, which may be paid in four monthly instalments of Rs. 3 each. The fee for the session, December to April, is Rs. 16, which may be paid in four monthly instalments of Rs. 4 each.

(d) Shorthand (Speed).—Students having a speed of 60 words per minute are admitted in July, and the class practice is from 60 to 120 words per minute.

Students having a minimum speed of 80 words per minute are admitted in December, and the class practice is from 80 to 140 words per minute.

In the examination the tests are at four grades of speed, 80, 100, 120. 140 words per minute, and at higher speeds if candidates can write more rapidly. Classes are held daily from 6 P.M. Fees are the same as for (c).

(e) Typewriting.—Beginners are admitted in July. Students having a minimum speed of 20 words per minute are admitted in December. The minimum speed required to pass the examination at the end of April is 35 words per minute. Certificates are issued for 35, 40, 45, 50, 55, 60 words per minute. For each of the speed tests there is a corresponding accuracy test in tabulating. Classes are held at 5, 6 and 7 P.M. Fees are the same as for (c).

Combination of the above subjects and reduction of fee.—If a student simultaneously takes up two or three of the subjects (a) to (e), a reduction of Re. 1 per instalment of each of the fees payable by him will be granted: for example, if a student is a member of both the Shorthand and the Elementary Book-keeping classes, he will have to pay instalments of Rs. 2 for each subject instead of Rs. 3 for the session, July to December.

(f), (g), (h), (i) and (j).—Classes are formed in these subjects if a sufficient number of candidates apply for admission. The fee for each subject is Rs. 3 for each series of ten lectures.

(k) Accountancy and Auditing.—There are two courses of year each for ordinary students, or one year for those who are already practising as Auditors, to prepare candidates for the Government examination of Diploma in Accountancy, which qualifies them to obtain the Government license to practise as Auditors. Students of this class have to attend Book-keeping and Mercantile Law classes, for which no extra fee has to be paid. The fee is Rs. 144, payable in advance in four half-yearly instalments of Rs. 36 each in the case of ordinary students and Rs. 72 in two half-yearly instalments of Rs. 36 each in the case of those who are practising as Auditors and hold a provisional license granted by Government.

2. Examinations.—The examination in subjects (a) to (j) is held at the end of April, at the end of the year's course, under the control of the Government Commercial Institute Board, and successful candidates receive certificates signed by the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and countersigned by the Secretary to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The examination fee for each subject is Rs. 5.

3. Attendance.—Strict regularity and punctuality of attendance are observed. Students must attend 75 per cent. of the lectures in order to appear at the examination. Classes are not held in the evening on Saturday.

4. Standard of Admission.—Candidates who have attended the lectures of the day course are eligible for admission. Others will be admitted, provided they appear qualified for the class or classes they seek to join.

5. Prizes.—Prizes of Rs. 50 each are offered by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce to the best candidates from the evening classes in subjects (b), (d), (f), (g), (h), (i) and (j). Three medals are offered by the Remington Typewriter Co. to the best three students of either the day or evening classes in the Typewriting examination.

6. Admission.—Candidates for admission should send in their applications and register their names, with a deposit of fees, before the end of June. Candidates who desire to be admitted in December should apply before the end of November.

(g) Outlines of Political Economy.
(h) Banking and Currency.
(i) Annuities and Insurance.

(k) Accountancy and Auditing.

The courses of lectures commence in July and continue until the following April, except the course of Accountancy and Auditing, which extends over two years.

(a) Book-keeping (Elementary).—Students having a satisfactory knowledge of English and Arithmetic are admitted. Text-book—Arthur Fieldhouse's Complete Book-keeping, up to 100 exercises including Partnership accounts. The fee for the full session, July to April, is Rs. 24, payable in eight monthly instalments of Rs. 3 each. Classes are held three times a week from 6 to 7 P.M.

(b) Book-keeping (Advanced).—Students who have passed the Elementary Book-keeping Examination, or who can give satisfactory proof of their knowledge of Elementary Book-keeping up to the requisite standard, are admitted. Text-book—Complete Book-keeping, by Arthur Fieldhouse. The fee for the full session, July to April, is Rs 32, payable in eight monthly instalments of Rs. 4 each. Classes are held twice a week from 6 to 7 P.M.

(c) Shorthand (Theory).—Pitman's Shorthand is the system taught. Students having a sufficient knowledge of English are admitted at the beginning of the session in July. Students are also admitted in December, provided they have already a sufficient knowledge of Shorthand to enable them to appreciate the lectures in the session, December to April.

The minimum speed required to pass the examination is 80 words per minute. The class is held daily from 5 P.M.

The fee for the session, July to November, is Rs. 12, which may be paid in four monthly instalments of Rs. 3 each. The fee for the session, December to April, is Rs. 16, which may be paid in four monthly instalments of Rs. 4 each.

Students having a minimum speed of 80 words per minute are admitted in December, and the class practice is from 80 to 140 words per minute.

In the examination the tests are at four grades of speed, 80, 100, 120, 140 words per minute, and at higher speeds if candidates can write more rapidly. Classes are held daily from 6 P.M. Fees are the same as for (c).

(e) Typewriting.—Beginners are admitted in July. Students having a minimum speed of 20 words per minute are admitted in December. The minimum speed required to pass the examination at the end of April is 35 words per minute. Certificates are issued for 35, 40, 45, 50, 55, 60 words per minute. For each of the speed tests there is a corresponding accuracy test in tabulating. Classes are held at 5, 6 and 7 P.M. Fees are the same as for (c).

Combination of the above subjects and reduction of fee.—If a student simultaneously takes up two or three of the subjects (a) to (e), a reduction of Re. 1 per instalment of each of the fees payable by him will be granted : for example, if a student is a member of both the Shorthand and the Elementary Book-keeping classes, he will have to pay instalments of Rs. 2 for each subject instead of Rs. 3 for the session, July to December.

(f), (g), (h), (i) and (j).—Classes are formed in these subjects if a sufficient number of candidates apply for admission. The fee for each subject is Rs. 3 for each series of ten lectures.

(k) Accountancy and Auditing.—There are two courses of year each for ordinary students, or one year for those who are already practising as Auditors, to prepare candidates for the Government examination of Diploma in Accountancy, which qualifies them to obtain the Government license to practise as Auditors. Students of this class have to attend Book-keeping and Mercantile Law classes, for which no extra fee has to be paid. The fee is Rs. 144, payable in advance in four half-yearly instalments of Rs. 36 each in the case of ordinary students and Rs. 72 in two half-yearly instalments of Rs. 36 each in the case of those who are practising as Auditors and hold a provisional license granted by Government.

2. Examinations.—The examination in subjects (a) to (j) is held at the end of April, at the end of the year's course, under the control of the Government Commercial Institute Board, and successful candidates receive certificates signed by the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and countersigned by the Secretary to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The examination fee for each subject is Rs. 5.

3. Attendance.—Strict regularity and punctuality of attendance are observed. Students must attend 75 per cent. of the lectures in order to appear at the examination. Classes are not held in the evening on Saturday.

4. Standard of Admission.—Candidates who have attended the lectures of the day course are eligible for admission. Others will be admitted, provided they appear qualified for the class or classes they seek to join.

5. Prizes.—Prizes of Rs. 50 each are offered by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce to the best candidates from the evening classes in subjects (b), (d), (f), (g), (h), (i) and (j). Three medals are offered by the Remington Typewriter Co. to the best three students of either the day or evening classes in the Typewriting examination.

6. Admission.—Candidates for admission should send in their applications and register their names, with a deposit of fees, before the end of June. Candidates who desire to be admitted in December should apply before the end of November.

The examiners shall have power to eliminate the oral examination in the case of candidates who do not reach a standard in the written examination to be prescribed by the Board of Examiners.

(8) The following shall be the maximum number of marks given for each subject :—

(9) A candidate for a certificate of competency must qualify in each of the subjects for examination, and must obtain 40 per cent. of the maximum marks obtainable for each paper, 40 per cent. of the maximum marks for the oral examination and 60 per cent. on the whole examination (written and oral) to qualify.

(10) A candidate for a first class certificate, who does not reach the necessary standard, may, nevertheless, at the discretion of the local examiners, be recommended to the Board of Examiners for a second class certificate, if, in their opinion, he has done sufficiently well to deserve it.

(11) The Secretary to the local examiners shall submit a report of the result of the examination giving the number of marks obtained by each candidate in each subject, to the President of the Board of Examiners within one month of the close of the examination.

(12) The questions to be set at the examinations shall be prepared by the Board of Examiners which may, at its discretion, confer with the local examiners.

(13) At least one examination for first class candidates and at least one examination for second class candidates shall be held annually in one of the Bengal or Bihar and Orissa coalfields; and in other parts of India examinations will be held whenever, in the opinion of the Board of Examiners, the number of candidates in a coal mining centre justifies the holding of an examination.

(14) No candidate will be allowed to take part in the examination until he has produced an authorization from the Board of Examiners.

(15) Every candidate must sign a register, in which he will be given a definite number. He must sign his name and write his registered number at the top of every page of the paper on which he writes the answers to the questions.

(16) The number of the question must be given in bold figures before the answer to each question.

(17) The calculations and work by which a result is obtained must be clearly shown in immediate connection with the answer to each question.

(18) Answers must be strictly confined to the questions asked.

(19) Sketches may be made to make answers clear.

*(20) When sketches are asked for, it should be understood that, unless otherwise stated, freehand sketches, with dimensions, are all that is necessary, and candidates should not spend time in making finished drawings.

(21) Any candidate speaking to any other candidate during the examination, or using any book, notes or private paper, or acting in any manner which the examiners consider improper will be liable to be disqualified at their discretion. The Board of Examiners may in such a case use their discretion as to allowing the candidate to sit at any future examination.

(22) When a candidate has completed the answers to the questions, or when the time allowed for answering the questions has elapsed, or he has been disqualified, he must hand the paper of questions and his answers to the examiners, and at once leave the examination room.

(23) A time-table will be supplied to each candidate at the commencement of the first day's examination.

(24) The oral examination will be held at a subsequent date. Only those candidates who obtain a certain degree of proficiency in the written examination will be examined orally. Due notice of time and place will be sent to each candidate required by the examiners for oral examination.

(25) The number of marks given for each question will be shown in brackets at the end of the question.

(26) Ink and paper will be provided, and no paper other than the official paper provided may be used. Candidates must bring their own pens and pencils, drawing pens and drawing instruments, including a protractor.

These regulations cancel all previous regulations and shall take effect from the 1st January 1923.
